TO TAKE OVER NATURAL GAS PROPERTIES

Manufacturers' Light and Heat Company Sought by Big Combine.

DEAL IS UNDER WAY

United Railways Investment Co. Would Merge It With Philadelphia Company.

BOND ISSUE BEING HELD UP

Reports were current in local financial circles yesterday that the United Railways Investment Company of San Francisco, through its recently acquired property, the Philadelphia Company, was preparing to take over the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company and its affiliated companies. The report was denied by officials of the Philadelphia Company, but officials of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company who were available at a late hour last night, refused to affirm or deny the report.

It is known that interests very closely identified with the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company have been quietly gathering up stock of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company around $80 a share for some time past, with a view of securing all or nearly all, of this stock. In 1903 the Manufacturers company secured a controlling interest in the Wheeling company, but absolute ownership of the latter company is believed to be one of the requirements necessary to make the proposed deal.

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company has an authorized capital stock of $25,000,000 and a bonded indebtedness of approximately $9,000,000. For some time past an additional $15,000,000 bond issue has been under semi-official consideration, and this has found expression in the stock market by a decline in the shares of the company, in the face of glowing reports by the president of the corporation. It is now believed the proposed bond issue is an alternative to be used in case the plans of the United Street Railways Company do not become an accomplished fact.

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company now controls the following companies: Manufacturers Light and Heat of West Virginia, Tri-State Gas (a merger of seven companies), Wetzel Gas, Blacksville Oil and Gas, New Cumberland Water and Gas, Manufacturers Gas of Ellwood city, Wheeling Natural Gas, Venture Oil, Western Pennsylvania Gas, Manufacturers Gas of Wheeling, Natural Fuel, Ohio Valley Gas, Citizens Light and Heat, Cameron Gas and Oil, and Fort Pitt Gas Company.

The company supplies practically all the gas consumed in the Ohio valley from New Martinsville, W. Va., to Pittsburgh, and north along the Beaver valley to New Castle, Pa. The annual report of the company for the year ending December 31, 1905, gives a total operating pipe line of 2,814.59 miles, with 57,656 consumers. The company owns 480,312 acres of oil and gas lands, the largest owned by any natural gas company in the world. The net earnings for the past two years are given as $6,709,781.83.

WON'T PAY SOAP BILLS.

Controller Larkin Objects to the Expense Account for Keeping Carnegie Library Clean.

Controller Larkin is a man of contradictions: He is opposed to more appropriations for water supply, but is interested in the Soho bath house.

He is bitter against water meters, claiming that consumers should have water without measure, but yesterday turned down a bill for soap to keep the Carnegie library clean.

When a bill for supplies for December for the Carnegie library reached the controller yesterday, he promptly refused to pay it. The bill amounted to $3,572.95. There was one item in the bill to which the controller objected particularly and it was an item of $461.73 for soap.

NEW YORK, March 20.—(Special.)—Lionel Lawrence, actor and former stage manager of the New York theater, has been stricken with blindness. At the close of a rehearsal of his company on Saturday Lawrence suddenly raised his hand to his face and exclaimed: "I am blind!"

Friends hurried him to the Sturtevant hotel and he has since been under the care of specialists. Lawrence recently was in a sanitarium suffering from brain fever. He had entirely recovered, however.

The father has been thrice married. He is a genius in mathematics, and was for many years a school teacher in the rural districts.

ONE KIND OF TROUBLE.

OHIO SHIP CANAL IS RECOMMENDED

Waterway from Lake to River Meets Approval of Senate Sub-Committee.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The sub-committee of the senate committee on commerce decided today upon a favorable report upon the Dalzell bill to incorporate the Lake Erie and Ohio River Ship Canal Company. The full committee will meet on Thursday and then the sub-committee will make its report. It is expected that the bill will soon be reported to the senate and a strong effort will be made to get it through at this session.

Several amendments have been made in the bill as it came from the house. The most important is the striking out of the provision that after 50 years the government can take over the canal upon paying a price fixed by three appraisers, but that no allowance shall be made for the value of the franchise. Some of the senators thought this might look as though the government was committing itself to a policy of government ownership and therefore its was stricken out. Another change was the raising of the amount of bonds and stocks per mile which may be issued by the company from $300,000 of each to $400,000 of each.

It is also stipulated that work must be commenced within three years and 10 per cent of the capital stock expended by that time and that the canal must be completed within 10 years. The bill permits the company to own and operate its own boats. Senator W. A. Magee, attorney for the canal company, is well pleased with the bill as it is now stands.

Senator Elkins of West Virginia, who is taking a great interest in the canal bill, said today: "The proposed canal means millions of dollars added to the natural wealth of West Virginia, as it gives practically every part of West Virginia closer connection with the great lakes." He also says it will go a long way toward solving the railroad situation in West Virginia, and announces he will do everything in his power in the senate to have the necessary legislation properly passed.

KILLED A MAN—THAT'S ALL.

How Homestead Celebrated the Quarto-Centenary of Establishing the Great Steel Industry.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishing of the steel industry at Homestead, now acknowledged to be the greatest center of the steel industry in the world, occurred yesterday. Twenty-five years ago the first steel was made and a train load of people from Pittsburgh and New York went to Homestead as the guests of the Pittsburgh Bessemer Steel company, which built the works, to see the first efforts.

The anniversary was not signalized yesterday at Homestead in any way except in the killing of Papac Vaseli, a laborer, by being crushed between cars on the site of the new mills, the first accident on this work.

MASKED ROBBERS GET A FORTUNE IN A MOSCOW BANK

Daring Job in Which It Is Hinted Persons Connected With Institution Had a Hand.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MOSCOW, March 20.—The Credit Mutual, one of the largest banks in Moscow, was mysteriously robbed by masked men at dusk tonight, the robbers securing $432,000. It was an extremely daring job. The facts indicate that the robbery was committed by or under the direction of some one now or heretofore employed in the institution. The bank is situated in the heart of the city.

The last of the clerks had just departed, leaving an inside guard of three men, while under the porte cochere outside were a policeman and the house porter. The street was crowded with people hurrying homeward. In the twinkling of an eye the guards were confronted with revolvers in the hands of 20 masked men, who had entered silently by the main door, which had been locked when the office force left. After a command to the guards to hold up their hands not a word was spoken. The guards were quickly bound and gagged and thrown into a dark corner.

The chief of the robbers went to the heavy, burglar-proof safe and with a few whirls of the knob threw the combination of the lock and the heavy doors swung open.

The plunder, consisting of gold, silver and notes, was speedily thrust into sacks. The robbers departed as silently as they came, making their exit through the main entrance. They were in the bank less than half an hour.

It is the general impression that the key to the mystery is within the bank itself.

BIG FIRE ON SOUTH SIDE.

Plant of South Side Electric Manufacturing Company Burns Early This Morning.

Fire nearly destroyed the two-story frame building of the South Side Electric Manufacturing Company, 1309 Sarah street, at 5 o'clock this morning. The alarm was turned in at 4:20.

The probable damage was estimated at $10,000, although the earnest efforts made by the firemen to subdue the flames might reduce this amount considerably. The fire started in the rear of the building in what is known as the storage room. In this were many wagons which were destroyed.

MAN DIES IN SIGHT OF MANY

Laborer Is Carried to His Death by Huge Chain from a Coal Trestle at Jersey City.

NEW YORK, March 20.—(Special.)—Enmeshed and helpless in the coils of a huge chain, Joseph Mansel was hurled 60 feet to his death from the coal trestle of the Pennsylvania railroad, at the foot of Railroad avenue, Jersey City, today. Attracted by his screams the women in the cabin of a passing ferryboat were thrown into a panic. His fellow workmen were so horror-stricken they quit for the day and could not be persuaded to return.

REMORSE CAUSES MAN TO GIVE TO CHARITY

MARION, O., March 20.—(Special.)—George H. Summer, for six years a Sunday school superintendent, is occupying a cell at the city jail, waiting until he gets over a drunken spree. Summers, who is worth over $30,000, has made a proposition to the mayor that he will sign the pledge and give $100 to charity if he is not sentenced to the workhouse. The proposition was accepted, and Summers returned to the cell to sober up.

NEW LIGHT UPON STORER'S RELEASE

Dismissed Because His Wife Misused Correspondence Sent Her by the President.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The misuse of correspondence sent by President Roosevelt to Mrs. Bellamy Storer develops to be one of the potent factors in the dismissal of her husband as ambassador at Vienna. It has been known that Mrs. Storer's activity in church matters had an important bearing, but it was not until today that the full significance of her effort to have another American cardinal created developed.

Mrs. Storer in her ardor to advance the interests of the church, of which she is a member and obtain the creation of an additional cardinal for America appealed to the President. She advocated the support by the President of Archbishop Ireland for the position and asked him to use his influence at Rome.

The President wrote in reply that he

FAITHFUL DOG GOES OVERBOARD WITH GIRL'S BODY

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 20.—Among the passengers on the steamship Columbia from Glasgow today were Andrew MacDonald and his wife. When the pair took ship they had with them their four-year-old invalid daughter. Before sailing Mary insisted that her two pet collie dogs, Daisy and Ben, be taken along.

On Tuesday, when a storm was buffeting the vessel, the sick child became worse, and on Wednesday morning died from the effects of seasickness. Down where the dogs were chained, the stewards say, the animals seemed to know that something had happened to their young mistress, for they could not be quieted.

Shortly after daybreak the body was carried to the deck by two seamen, and while a few passengers and several officers stood bareheaded, it was shoved over the rail. The pets were brought from below, and while the service was being read tugged at their leashes. As the small burden was lifted to the rail and fell, Daisy, the older dog, broke from the steward who held her, and leaped overboard. When last seen the faithful collie was swimming in circles over the spot where little Mary's body had sunk.

IS A PREJUDICED PORTIA.

Young Woman Called on to Act as Judge Decides Case Along the Lines of Affection.

NEW YORK, March 20.—(Special.)—Miss Annie Meahling of No. 257 Hamburg avenue, Williamsburg, 19 and pretty, was made a temporary judge by Magistrate Tighe today in the Manhattan avenue court to settle a difficulty between the girl's two suitors. Philip Neff and George Voight had come to blows over Miss Meahling. Voight had been worsted and had had his rival arrested. Magistrate Tighe called the girl and said to her:

"Well, the best way to settle this is to have you the judge. Now, which of these two do you like the best?"

The girl blushed, stammered a moment and then said:

"Judge, I like George the best."

"Well, take George away from here."

So Annie sliped her arm into that of Voight and walked from the court room with him, all smiles. Neff was held in $100 to keep the peace for three months.

Joint Scale Committee Will Meet This Morning to Act on Wage Rate for the Coming Year.

MITCHELL'S SPEECH PACIFIC

Prevention of Strike in Bituminous Coal Fields Now Seems Probable, Chiefly Through the Notable Victory Over Other Operators Won by F. L. Robbins Between Whom and Miners' President Cordial Relations Are in Evidence.

RESPITE IN EXPECTED INDUSTRIAL WAR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., March 20.—Peace prospects are brighter tonight. The plan Chairman F. L. Robbins has had from the outset to prevent a general wrangle and probable rupture on the floor of the conference between operators and miners carried the day. All the issues are now in the hands of a joint scale committee where there will be a much better opportunity to harmonize differences than if they were left to the arbitrament of 1,800 delegates on the floor of the convention hall.

The operators agreed to this plan of Mr. Robbins with reluctance. They held a meeting this morning which was to have adjourned at 10 o'clock to meet the miners. So decisive was the factional demarcation that but a single motion was carried up to the noon hour, when the caucus adjourned and it was not till 2 o'clock that the miners and operators met.

The feeling against Robbins was unmistakable. He stood as one man against many, but, in spite of the unfriendly atmosphere, he so managed events that finally, after two days' wrangling, the operators agreed to the policies he advocated early yesterday morning.

It is Robbins' progress against this opposition that enhances the prospects of peace. The mere fact that he was able to make an impress in the face of sharp antagonism proves that he must be reckoned with throughout the entire negotiations.

Surface indications lead to the belief that Ohio, Indiana and Illinois operators are still standing reasonably solid, although there have been hints of a conciliatory attitude on the part of certain Ohio interests. The joint conference this afternoon was intensely exciting. The very heavy atmosphere was surcharged with expectancy.

There developed a respite in indicated industrial warfare in the events of the day. As arranged between Chairman John H. Winder of the operators and President John Mitchell of the miners, a conference of the two bodies was fixed for 10 o'clock this morning. It was not held.

Shortly before 10 o'clock, Chairman Robbins of the Pittsburgh Coal Company moved adjournment to meet the miners and upon being seconded he started to leave the hall in the Claypool hotel. The Pittsburgh Coal Company chairman was near the door when a hue and cry indicated that the meeting of the operators was not over. They were not ready to vote. Mr. Robbins came back and sat down amid a murmur which indicated the adverse attitude of the other operators. He declared that in deference to the chairman of the operators the meeting should adjourn and the operators' representatives retire to meet the miners.

Robbins Would Not Show Hand.

Mr. Winder retired from the chair and disclaimed such deference. He indicated the wish that Mr. Robbins define his position. The chairman of the Pittsburgh Coal Company held his ground and asserted that he could not be smoked out, that he would declare the position of his constituents in joint scale committee of the operators and miners if such a body were constituted. The result of this meeting was that the operators adjourned to meet the miners this afternoon without a platform.

The expected rupture of negotiations failed to develop. Operators who were ready to take a tack antagonistic to Robbins on the floor of the convention were silent. He moved that the issues be referred to the point scale committee. This was seconded by President Mitchell of the miners. The expectancy was intense with the prospect of a single body of operators opposing, but after several delays in the voting, Frank Robbins won his victory.

The conference was called to order by President John Mitchell. The conference organized at once by the election of the following officers: George W. Traer, an operator of Chicago, permanent chairman; secretary and treasurer, W. B. Wilson of the United Mine Workers; permanent secretary, assistant secretaries, Frank S. Brooks, Columbus, O., and C. L. Scroggs, Chicago.

Previous Rules Adopted.

On motion of President Mitchell, the rules of the previous joint conference, requiring that the vote of the operators on "All main and principal questions" be cast as a unit, were adopted.

The following were announced as members of the joint scale committee, who will act for the operators:

Illinois—H. N. Taylor, A. J. Moorehead, B. F. Woods, O. L. Garrison.

Pennsylvania—F. L. Robbins, G. W. Schleuderberg, W. W. Keefer, George A. Magoon.

Ohio—H. L. Chapman, F. M. Osborne, C. L. Cassingham, John M. Winder.

Indiana—A. S. Boze, H. I. Seifert, H. F. McClelland, J. F. Shirkey.

President Michell, being recognized by the chair, delivered a brief address in which he outlined his views as to the purpose of the extraordinary joint conference, at the close of which he moved the adoption of the scale of wages demanded by the miners in the joint conference which adjourned February 2. The scale provides for an increase of 12½ per cent. The motion was lost on a strictly partisan vote, the operators voting unanimously in the negative, while the miners voted as a unit in favor of its adoption.

After the naming of the joint scale committee, President Mitchell of the miners delivered the following address:

> We meet under possibly the most extraordinary circumstances that ever prevailed in the industrial history of our country. When we adjourned more than six weeks ago it seemed to us, as it did to the entire people of our country, that a great industrial conflict was imminent.

Welfare of Country Considered.

> So far as I know, each of these forces was prepared for a great industrial strike. Fortunately or unfortunately, as

COAL MOUNTAINS REAR EBONY PEAKS ABOVE HAZELWOOD

Jones & Laughlin Company Is Storing Fuel in Anticipation of a Miners' Strike.

Two mountains of coal are rearing their ebony peaks above the dwellings in Hazelwood. The Jones & Laughlin Company does not propose to be caught without fuel if the miners decide to strike. For the past 10 days 50 carloads of coal have been dumped each day on the vacant lots of the Wilson and Holliedt estates. The company already has 50,000 tons of coal stored and the work keeps on. Switches have been built onto the property, and as the mountains rise tracks are built to make dumping easy.

The company expects to keep on storing coal until April 1. Most of the coal is brought from the company's own mines, but large quantities are being purchased from other producers.

CERTAINLY GETS CHEAP GAS.

Man Accused of Stealing $26,000 Worth of Illuminant Can Be Fined But $100.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., March 20.—(Special.)—That a man can and did beat a gas company for years by stealing gas is the surprising charge made here today against Charles Ross, a retired merchant, who was arrested for tapping a gas company's main and stealing $26,000 worth of gas. Ross denies the charge and promises legal proceedings on his own account.

The company claims the alleged stealing of gas has been going on for seven years without its being able to locate the leak. The statute under which the warrant was issued applies to the larceny of birds and dogs and gas. While the gas company claims a loss of $26,000, under the statute Ross, even if convicted, could only be forced to pay a fine of from $5 to $100.

JEROME'S OPINION WILL SUIT THE INSURANCE MEN

NEW YORK, March 20.—(Special.)—District Attorney Jerome this afternoon submitted to Judge O'Sullivan a lengthy brief relative to the status of political contributions by insurance companies, through the officers or trustees. The district attorney holds in substance, that the giving of political contributions by the executive officers, trustees, or directors of insurance companies, is not larceny.

circumstances may develop, the president of our country intervened and advised that we make a further effort to reconcile our grievances. As a consequence of his intervention, for which I believe the entire country feels grateful, we have met here again today to consider not only our own personal and collective interests but also the welfare of this, our own and common country. I have given to this situation as much thought, as much consideration, I presume as any one here.

I have reviewed in my own mind the causes which led to our separation six weeks ago, and I have tried as best I could to review this situation not so much as a miner but rather as an official and a man charged with certain public responsibilities. After six weeks of thought, of consideration, I am convinced beyond the peradventure of doubt that the claims we made in this hall six weeks ago were founded on fact and justice and that the industrial prosperity of our country justifies the coal miners in asking that they shall receive at least a fair share of the profits that result from great industrial activity. I believe that the claims we made then have been confirmed by conditions since our adjournment.

It may be that because of our surroundings, because of our environments, because of our training and of our special interests, we are unable to view this situation impartially but, as stated in our resolutions adopted some days ago, we are willing to meet with you who represent the ownership or who are the owners of these mines for the purpose of trying earnestly and conscientiously to adjust our differences. I take it for granted that the experience of the past eight years has satisfied even the most skeptical among you that the annual or biennial agreements between you and us are much better for our mutual advancement and for the protection of other interests than the old methods that prevailed years ago when every year saw a strike or a lockout and a serious conflict as to our different rights.

I believe that first we owe it to ourselves; that next we owe it to our country, to make the best effort that is in us to reach an agreement that will maintain industrial peace in the coal fields of the country. In order that there may be some concrete proposition before the convention for discussion I desire to offer in behalf of the miners the scale of wages and conditions of employment proposed by us at our last joint conference and I move its adoption.

At this Chairman Robbins of the Pittsburgh Coal Company stepped over to Mitchell and extended his hand ostensibly in congratulation. The miners' last proposition was read.

Winder Speaks for Operators.

John H. Winder, president of the Sunday Creek Company of Ohio, who is chairman of the operators, said:

> When we assembled here some six weeks ago to discuss the questions of a new agreement, the operators considered well and long the propositions that should be made to the miners of the four competitive states. They felt that in justice to themselves; that under the conditions that existed in the trade at that time, they were entitled to ask for a substantial reduction in the labor cost of mining. Knowing how difficult it would be to convince the members of this body from the miners' side of the house of the necessities of this reduction the operators finally concluded to sacrifice to some extent their position and make a proposition to renew the present scale for the ensuing year. This was done without any result. Since the adjournment of that convention there have been no developments to justify any change in our position and in speaking generally, for Ohio more particularly, I may say we have found no ground to go beyond that. I therefore make the following motion:
>
> "That the present scale of wages with all the conditions attending be renewed for one year from April 1, 1906."

This being voted down, Chairman Robbins of the Pittsburgh Coal Company said:

"I move that the matter of scale be referred to the scale committee, to meet tomorrow at 10 o'clock at the Claypool hotel."

President Mitchell of the miners seconded the motion. There was a murmur and there was a delay in the vote. Mr. Robbins had put his motion with deliberation and apparently with some misgiving, but it carried.

It was his day.

The conference will probably be held next week.

MANY LIVES LOST IN BIG STORMS

Nineteen Men Perish During a Heavy Gale Off Coast Vera Cruz—Atlantic Raging.

LIFE SAVERS ARE KEPT BUSY

MEXICO CITY, March 20.—Nineteen persons perished in a terrific norther which swept the coast of Vera Cruz yesterday. Two of the storm victims were pleasure-seekers from this city, B. Strittmatter, nephew of J. C. Strittmatter, president of the American club, and Francisco Pena, a member of a prominent family here. The other 17 were fishermen.

J. C. Bush, C. H. Bush and R. Barkley, who were in a boat with Strittmatter and Pena, were rescued. It is believed that there has been further loss of life. As yet no reports have been made of vessels lost.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The tug Margaret, Captain Hickman, arrived in port today with the barge J. R. Dempsey in tow, after a thrilling experience at sea in which Captain Hickman was compelled to abandon the barge Martha McCabe, on which were Captain Willard Massey and two sailors, and the barge Virginia Hudson. The crew of the latter were taken off in a small boat by the crew of the tug, but it is feared Captain Massey and the two sailors perished with the vessel.

MARBLEHEAD, MASS., March 20.—Wreckage of the Boothbay, Maine, schooner Lady Antrim was washed up at Marblehead neck today. Later two bodies of seamen came ashore. The Lady Antrim carried a crew of five men, and as she was literally smashed to pieces it is feared all were lost. The vessel was so completely smashed up that it was some hours after the wreckage had been discovered that her identity was learned. The first body was found high upon the beach about noon, and several hours later the other was hauled out of the surf.

BOSTON, March 20.—A three-masted schooner was discovered ashore on Boston light ledges below Boston harbor shortly after daylight today. She was almost entirely submerged, and although the weather was very thick, three men could be seen on board. The Storey Beach life saving crew went to the vessel's assistance. There was little wind but the sea carried a heavy swell following last night's gale.

The vessel was the C. C. Lane, and she is a total loss. The crew was brought to shore by the keeper of the Boston light and a crew.

FIRE ISLAND, L. I., March 20.—Bound from Port Antonio, Jamaica, W. I., to New York, the Norwegian steamship, the Bodo, with a large cargo of valuable fruit went ashore a few miles west of Fire Island in extremely thick weather last night about midnight. There was a raging gale blowing from the southeast and the sea was running high, and when the vessel struck the beach she was forced so far up on the beach by the tremendous waves that when the sea had subsided at noon today the members of the various life saving crews that went to the vessel's assistance were able to almost walk to the side of the freighter. Old wreckers say her chance of getting off are small. Her cargo of bananas, valued at $15,000, can be saved.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., March 20.—Michael Kelly, Robert Mixham and William Kennedy were rescued today from Sperry light of New Haven by the crew of the towboat Baxter after the men had spent all night there. They had suffered much from exposure.

The men were part of the crew having in tow a line of canal boats laden with coal. The barges ran on the rocks and broke to pieces. The men scrambled up the breakwater. Two coal barges sank yesterday off Merwins Point in the storm. Eight women and three children were taken on board the leading barge for safety, but much peril was encountered making the transfer in a heavy sea with blinding snowfall.

WEST DENNIS, Mass., March 20.—For 12 hours, beginning at 10 o'clock last night, Captain Hamfred Whelpley and his crew of four men clung to the rigging of their two-masted schooner Winnie Lawry, which was driven upon a sand bar two miles out at sea in a northeast blizzard. They were rescued today when the storm moderated. The men were almost helpless from exhaustion from the effects of their long exposure. The schooner is full of water, but may be saved. She was bound for New York with lumber from St. John, N. B.

TRAIN WRECKERS TO BE RUN DOWN

Pennsylvania Officials Are Determined to Capture and Punish the Culprits.

TWO ATTEMPTS RECENTLY

Pennsylvania railroad officers are leaving no hint uninvestigated in endeavoring to run down the men who have attempted twice to wreck train No. 6 just east of Greensburg. Aside from the regular track-walkers having been instructed to use extra care, special officers have been detailed to guard the tracks and to investigate former attempts at wrecking.

While no one has been implicated, it is generally thought among railroad officers that these attempts at wrecking were made by some of the newer foreigners employed at Radebaugh, where a construction company is building a new roadway for the Pennsylvania. About 10 days ago the accidental crashing of a passenger train into a work train near Radebaugh resulted in two immediate deaths of men from these foreign ranks and in two deaths afterward. It is thought spite work on the part of the foreigners for killing four of their number has resulted in their attempting to "get even" with the railroad by wrecking a train.

"There have been numerous instances of this kind in railroading in America in recent years," said a Pennsylvania officer yesterday, "and investigations have resulted in finding that such work is almost always done by foreigners who have been in this country only a short time. Should such work continue the United States would soon come to a pretty pass. Lynching a man for attempting to wreck a train would be mild punishment; yet, considering how little these foreigners know of current events, such a punishment would be no example of them except in the immediate community of which such a culprit might be a member. And even these would be more inclined to do injury to Americans for having punished one of their number than to know that such punishment was inflicted to be an example to them to be law-abiding men."

Pennsylvania railroad track-walkers are not overworked, but it is almost impossible, even by giving one man no more than about one and three-quarters of a mile to cover, to see that all tracks are in shape at every moment. Such supervision of trackage would require men stationed every couple of hundred yards. Track-walkers make a trip over the section of which they have charge every hour and a half, making the round trip in three hours.

NEW LIGHT UPON STORER

would like to see Archbishop Ireland a cardinal and spoke very highly of the archbishop's public services and breadth of view, but he declared he could not become involved in any matter of church politics and pointed out to Mrs. Storer how improper it would be for him to advocate the selection of any person for any place by his holiness the pope.

It seems Mrs. Storer made use of the expression of the President that he would like to see the archbishop made a cardinal, and caused it to come to the attention of high dignitaries in such a way as to appear the wish of the President the desired action should be taken.

There were a few minutes of interesting inquiry as to stenographic notes at the White House, it is said, when the information came across the sea that the President had been interesting himself to have the archbishop of St. Paul elevated. He wrote to Vienna expostulating and there was a spirited but friendly correspondence between him and the Austrian embassy.

In reply to his letter calling attention to the fact that he had not urged the appointment of any one to be cardinal, Vienna thought he had distinctly done so. Then the President had to ask attention to his original note in which he said he would like to have Archbishop Ireland elevated, but that he could not meddle in such affairs, and that the qualification had not been made use in connection with the apparent indorsement of the proposed new cardinal and expression of the President's alleged wishes.

So the matter went along. Other questions arose. The administration found itself embarrassed in other ways and the result, in the end, was that the connection of Mr. Storer with the diplomatic service ceased.

The President has been annoyed at the incident, but rather amused as well, and he heartily laughed about it when he read the entire correspondence before the cabinet at a recent meeting.

Sixteenth Annual Contest of Pittsburgh Academy Literary Societies—Enjoyable Event.

In the sixteenth annual contest between the Emanon and Knickerbocker Literary societies of the Pittsburgh academy, held last night in Carnegie Music hall, the Knickerbocker society won by one point, securing the decision of the judges on the essay, reading and select oration. Though the Emanon society failed to win, it received favorable mention from the judges and gained the victory in the two most important classes, the debate and original oration.

The young ladies and gentlemen of the academy had the honor of appearing before one of the largest audiences that ever gathered in the hall. Standing room was not to be had and many left the building unable even to gain admission on account of the crowd.

The stage was occupied by the judges of the contest, the contestants and the Glee club of the academy. The young women were attired in becoming white gowns, while the lads wore the grey uniform of the academy cadet corps. The members of the Knickerbocker society were decorated with rosettes and streamers of pink and green ribbon, the society colors. The Emanon boys and girls were decorated in like manner with colors of blue and gold. There were flowers in abundance, the contestants being loaded with floral tributes by their admiring friends.

All the numbers on the program were exceptionally well prepared and delivered. The music was good, the audience being exceptionally well pleased with the academy chorus, composed exclusively of students. The last feature on the program, and perhaps the most striking one, was the military drill conducted by Prof. A. S. Lee. This was especially interesting because of the company of young women who went through almost the entire manual of arms, including the gun drill, with actual muskets, in an almost faultless manner.

The two societies were represented upon the program as follows:

Emanon—Original oration, C. W. Brush; essay, "Successful Failures," Bird Hunter; debate, A. Stoner; reading, "The Wreck of Rivermouth," Viola Young; select oration, "The War Is Inevitable," W. Brierly.

Knickerbocker—Original oration, R. Lithenfeld; essay, "The Modern Knight," Nellie McCrorly; debate, O. Rudin; reading, "The Widow's Light," Carrie Miller; select oration, "The North American Indian," A. DeCosta.

The judges of the contest were the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy, the Rev. Dr. S. B. McCormick and Prof. Theodore B. Noss, D. D.

PITTSBURGH MEN TRY TO EJECT COLLECTOR

It Is Claimed J. W. Friend and F. N. Hoffstot Paid Duty on Chadwick Jewelry.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 20.—The filing of a sensational lawsuit in Pittsburgh against James W. Friend and Frank N. Hoffstot has brought to light the fact they are two of the persons who have been endeavoring to get the political scalp of Collector of the Port C. F. Leach of this city.

The Pittsburgh men had loaned Cassie Chadwick money on jewelry, on part of which the duty had not been paid. The collector in Cleveland incurred the enmity of the Pittsburghers when he "turned up" the jewelry in a safe deposit vault in New York, where Friend and Hoffstot had concealed it, and insisted upon the duties, amounting to several thousands of dollars, being paid.

Several times the Pittsburgh men besieged the office of Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, importuning him to decapitate Leach.

The last time they made the appeal was but a few weeks ago. The litigation over the payment of the duties is still going on in the courts.

SEEK ALMSHOUSE KEEPER.

County Commissioners Claim Evidence Is Found of Wholesale Robberies.

CUMBERLAND, MD., March 20.—(Special.)—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of John E. Elliott, county almshouse superintendent, on a charge of grand larceny, discoveries of a most sensational character having come to light. It is thought he has left the state.

Elliott's term as superintendent expires April 1, and he will be succeeded by Peter Wilson of Barton. Several days ago reports reached Frederick Perry and William Lamble, trustees of the institution, that Superintendent Elliott was pilfering supplies and hiding them.

A watch was placed, a search warrant issued and in the newly rented house of Elliott they discovered unmistakable evidences of his guilt. Over $300 worth of provisions, canned goods, hams, dry goods and clothing were found concealed about the premises. The officials had the plunder removed to the almshouse and directed Mr. Wilson to take charge tomorrow.

THREE BRIGHT MEN SAVE THEM

Thirty Are Saved from Death in Fire Which Sweeps Through Building.

SLIDE FOR LIFE BY TEN MEN

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, March 20.

Through the quick wit of three persons more than 30 men were saved tonight from death in a fire which swept through a six-story factory building at 480 Pearl street. Although those who made their way to safety were required to perform unaccustomed acrobatic feats, only two of them were injured. Much credit is given to Paul Caturna, who engineered a "slide for life" attachment, by which 10 workmen escaped suffocation on one side and broken bones on the other.

In defective insulation of a wire on the third floor the flames had their origin. Most of the employes had gone for the night. Twenty men were still in one shop and 10 in the loft. Forty girls had just left the building.

Feeding on oil-soaked flooring and rubber insulation, the fire gave off a suffocating smoke which drove the workmen to the top of the structure. Their way was cut off from the fire escapes, and stairs were like a roaring furnace.

Frederick Himmel, the foreman in charge of the employes on the fourth floor, who were frantic with fear, is large and muscular, and he struck three or four of the frightened workmen with his fists to keep them quiet. He forced open a window on the east side of the building, and making a rope by tearing up his heavy canvas apron, swung the men one by one out of the window, dropping them on a lumber pile.

Richard Begbie obtained a ladder, by means of which the last of the workmen was able to reach the timbers. Caturna meanwhile was crawling about the steep snow-covered roof of a three-story tenement, which backs up against the factory building. Ten men had taken refuge on the top floor of the factory. They might have leaped to the steep roof below, but had they done so they would have rolled to the ground, 40 feet below. Caturna was seen by Miss Ladd, who threw him a new rope. He made this into a coil and threw one end of it to the men in the factory. They fastened it to a shutter. Caturna held the other end. John Brophy, the first to trust himself to this "slide for life," proceeded so rapidly that his hands were seared. The others all escaped.

HEAVY ASSESSMENT FALLS UPON MINERS

Members of Pittsburgh District Are Ordered to Pay 20 Cents Per Week.

All locals in the Pittsburgh district of United Mine Workers of America, were notified yesterday that an assessment of 20 cents per member, per week, would be put in force at once as the nucleus of a strike fund. With 23,000 organized miners in this district, this assessment will total $4,600 per week.

Some time ago an assessment of 10 cents per member was levied, but the assessment was taken off shortly after the announcement was made that a post-convention would be held. Miners in this district have had heavy burdens to bear since the beginning of the year and are by no means in such strong financial shape as they were two months ago. The prolonged local convention during which efforts were made to oust Patrick Dolan as president, cost at the rate of $1,500 per day, while the special election now in progress, the expenses of two headquarters representing each of the rival factions and the legal expenses of the Dolan fight have taken thousands of dollars out of the pockets of the miners of this district. Much money is being spent in an effort to unionize the Irwin field where a strike is being supported at Penn station.

Industrial plants and railroads are still storing coal and all the mines in the district are being operated at their fullest capacity. This condition indicates that a temporary suspension in mine operations will follow the Indianapolis conference, even though a harmonious conclusion should be reached.

TO CEMENT GOOD FEELING.

Secretary Root Will Make a Grand Tour of South American Points on the Charleston.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(Special.)—Secretary Root of the state department today made a formal request on the navy department for the use of the cruiser Charleston to convey himself and his party to Rio de Janeiro and other South American points, the cruise to begin in July next. When it becomes known throughout the southern continent that he is to make a trip around the continent there is no doubt that every other country will press him to visit its capital. It is the hope of the administration that this tour, which will probably consume two or three months, will do much to cement the good feeling between the United States and the Latin republics.

SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES.

Only Few Pass Examinations for Positions as Mine Foremen and Bosses in the Second District.

GREENSBURG, PA., March 20.—(Special.)—A small percentage of the candidates for certificates for mine foremen and fire bosses in the second bituminous district passed the examinations conducted by Mine Inspector Chauncey B. Ross a month ago. Three were granted certificates qualifying them to act as mine foremen: Thomas Whalch of Forbes Road, Frederick Woodward of Latrobe, and A. H. Blackburn of Greensburg. Eleven passed for fire bosses as follows: Henry Atherton, John S. Christner and Terrence P. Coughlin of Greensburg; J. A. Campbell and W. E. McCracken of New Alexandria, W. B. Shoup and Charles Caldwell of Bradonville, A. A. Anderson of Whitney, Charles Brown of Goff, John Hoole of Superior, and Andrew Gall of Latrobe.

Blame Captain for Wreck of Valencia.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 20.—The finding of the commissioners appointed to inquire into the Valencia disaster was delivered today. The report found Captain Johnson blamable in not having located his position by Umatilla reef lightship before attempting to enter the straits, and held him guilty of grave errors of judgment also in not having made due allowance for the northward set of the current, well known to coast navigators.

Can't Sell Whisky in Bottles.

BELLEFONTE, PA., March 20.—Judge Ellis L. Irvis today handed down his decisions in the license cases. Of 48 applications 32 were granted and four held for further consideration. Two who held licenses last year were refused and three new ones granted. Each person receiving a license was obliged to sign an agreement not to sell whisky in bottles and to keep closed on certain holidays.

To Abolish Fee System.

COLUMBUS, O., March 20.—The system of paying county officers in Ohio by fees is to be wiped out, beginning January 1, 1907. The Wilson salary bill, bringing about the change, was practically made a law this afternoon when the house concurred in the senate amendments to the measure.

STRANGE FACTS

It seems strange that sometimes your stomach or bowels won't digest your food, no matter what you eat.

It may be the weather, or it may be just the state of your general health, but in any case there is only one certain, safe and positive method of cure, and that is the proper use of that universal remedy for all forms of dyspeptic trouble or digestive weakness, whether in stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Strange, it is, that in such little tablets, to be taken a few times a day, may lie such wondrous potential possibilities, that by their use the course of a man's whole life—yes, of the world—may be changed.

Yet, who would not appreciate the fact that if Napoleon had not been suffering from Cancer of the Stomach he would have won instead of lost—at Waterloo?

And Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets would have cured his Stomach Trouble had they then been invented, as they have cured thousands of others in the past ten years, who have suffered just as Napoleon did.

So you can readily appreciate that today, by curing all these people, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is helping to get the world's work done, by people who would do worse work if they were sick, so they must be having a great influence, in a quiet way, on the world's progress.

They may, therefore, be classed as one of the triumphs of science, amongst other discoveries, in medicine, mechanics, transportation, etc.

Let this, then, remain in your memory, a fact upon which to act when occasion requires:—

When any organ in your vast digestive machinery gets out of order, you have at your command one of the great inventions of the age, in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, to put your machinery in order again.

By so doing you will save much useless friction, add to the energy and working possibilities of your bodily machine, and relieve yourself from suffering, disease, weakness, premature old age and death.

All this is strictly in accordance with the most modern teachings of the best scientific schools of health, hygiene and medicine, and it will be to your advantage to lay these facts to heart.

Don't hesitate. Try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets today.

VALUATION WILL BE $1,000,000,000

Triennial Assessment This Year Will Show an Increase of About $250,000,000.

SCHEME OF THE TAX DODGERS

Allegheny county's taxable valuation will be a $1,000,000,000 when the tri-ennial assessment is completed this year. It is now $750,000,000. E. Z. Smith, member of the board of tax assessment and revision, believes the billion-dollar mark will be reached. There has been a great growth in the county during the past two years, and with a proper valuation of property it will be possible to add the $250,000,000.

The increased valuation will probably permit of a reduction in the county tax rate. It will also allow the county commissioners to annually issue $1,000,000 worth of bonds for the improvement of roads.

Under the law creating the board of tax commissioners, the board is authorized to divide the county into convenient districts and name an assessor for each one. Mr. Smith says this work is now in progress and will be completed about May 1. There are 215 districts and as many assessors. He says there will be a large increase in the number of districts. Some of the present assessors are competent and will be retained.

The state tax department is also under the tax board. Joseph Wilson, who has charge of the work, says the personal property valuation for this year will be $160,000,000, an increasee of $10,000,000 over 1905. When the tax board has been thoroughly organized Mr. Wilson believes the valuation will go to $200,000,000.

Mr. Wilson is having his troubles securing proper returns on personal properties. Under the law people holding stocks, bonds and mortgages and having money at interest can swear to their return before a notary and do not need to go to the court house. He says there is a great deal of perjury. Some of the savings banks have advised their depositors they do not have to pay the state tax on money at interest and there is much difficulty in securing returns.

Through the failure of the Enterprise National bank, the county and state will lose the taxes on about $1,000,000 worth of deposits. In addition to this much will be lost by people who swear they had their money in this institution and by committing perjury escape the tax collector. Mr. Wilson says this same scheme was worked after the failure of the Prudential Trust Company, and many people swore to having money in that bank who had never deposited a cent there.

In order to catch the dodgers, the 67 counties in the state have a system of exchanging data concerning mortgages. In this way the tax office has a record of every mortgage in the state held by a resident of Allegheny county. Yesterday a Pittsburgher complained that he was improperly charged with a $10,000 mortgage and declared he had no knowledge of the paper. When shown the mortgage was on record in Westmoreland county, the dodger admitted ownership, but inquired:

"How the—did you discover it?"

Mr. Smith says steps will soon be taken to determine the ownership of the county transcribing force. The commissioners have declined to surrender this office to the tax board. A formal request will now be made by the tax commissioners to the salary board, and if that body refuses to transfer the department the courts will be asked for a decision.

M'INTOSH AGAIN TONIGHT.

Burr, the Bohemian, Will Repeat Story of His Travels With Taft in Philippines.

This evening at the Pittsburgh Carnegie Music hall, Burr McIntosh, the well-known former Pittsburgher, will again deliver his illustrated lecture, "With Taft in the Philippines." Mr. McIntosh's unique talk on this notable tour, "The Yellow Peril" and the alleged seriousness of America's position as set forth by him constitute a warning note.

It is with an almost missionary zeal that Mr. McIntosh preaches the urgent duty of facing the problems in the orient that are growing daily in importance. Already there are ominous signs of bitter feeling toward American settlers and missionaries in China, and Mr. McIntosh prophesies that the day is not far distant when the whites will be expelled from the celestial empire.

These grave topics are intermingled with much that is purely entertaining—mental impressions of scenes and people as vivid as those shown on the screen, anecdotes and snapshots, the strange and picturesque scenes of the far east, all are brought instantly before the audience by talk and pictures equally graphic.

Mr. McIntosh was connected officially from start to finish with this most famous political pilgrimage. He was accompanied by two of the most expert photographers in America, and all the latest improvements in machinery and cameras. It is the first time that such a complete pictorial history of a memorable event has ever been given to the public.

FAMILY HAS CLOSE CALL.

Stationmaster Williamson, His Wife and Three Children Are Overcome by Gas at Glen Osborne.

Stationmaster J. H. Williamson of Glen Osborne on the Ft. Wayne road, his wife and three small children, narrowly escaped death from asphyxiation at their home yesterday morning. In an unconscious condition the entire family was discovered shortly after 8 o'clock by Harry Callen, a gang boss of the Pennsylvania lines. Callen noticed the station had not been opened at the usual time and tried to rouse Williamson by beating on the door. A ladder was secured and entrance to the house gained through a second story window. The Williamson family were in bed and did not respond to the efforts made to arouse them. Physicians were summoned and worked for more than an hour before bringing the five to consciousness.

Mrs. Williamson said the family had been made ill by eating canned peaches, but the attending physicians attribute their illness to fumes coming from the furnace in the cellar. None of the family was seriously affected after being revived, but Mr. Williamson will be unable to attend to his duties for several days.

MACKRELL WILL NOT ACCEPT LOAD

COURT WILL SETTLE DISPUTE

The courts will have to determine who is responsible for the collection and payment into the county treasuy of $6,890 19 of 1902 taxes. Delinquent Tax Collector Mackrell found them on the books when he took charge of the office and has notified the controller and commissioners that he declines to be charged with the item.

The taxes were assessed in 1902 and their collection was in the hands of the following deputy delinquent collectors: J. G. Jones, Mt. Oliver, $373 42; J. J. Walker, Wilkinsburg, $4,726 16; John T. Ellner, Elizabeth township, $998 09; Paul Andre, Jr., Lincoln township, $277 99; William Long, South Versailles township, $341 99; J. J. Walker, Sterrett township, $172 54.

These collectors were appointed under the administration of Delinquent Tax Collector Conner. He was succeeded in office in 1903 by Robert G. Mattern. Following the usual custom, Mattern gave bond for the 1902 taxes good for one year. Conner had also given bond for the same year.

When Mackrell served notice he would not be held responsible for the 1902 taxes, Controller Booth made a search for the bonds. He was surprised to find that none of them were on file in his office. They were finally located in the office of the county commissioners, with the exceptions of the bonds given by Conner for 1900, 1901 and 1902. The controller is of the opinion Conner was allowed to withdraw these after Mattern had given his bond.

There was a meeting yesterday of the commissioners, controller, Collector Mackrell and former Collector Mattern and County Solicitor Hay. It was finally decided the responsibility for the 1902 taxes would have to be fixed by the court. Mattern requested the commissioners to surrender his 1905 bond, as Mackrell had one covering the same period. The request was refused. The bond is good until the end of this year.

SPIRITS DEEPLY MOVE PRINCE OF ROYAL BLOOD

African Peer Forsakes McKees Rocks to Take to the Warpath in Wilds of Schoenville.

Prince Slam Slam of Abyssinia, or more recently Mr. Samuel Wesley of McKees Rocks, accumulated a royal jag yesterday, which, by the way, is not considered a breach of court etiquette in Africa.

The prince was discovered in the African jungles several years ago by the Rev. T. E. Brewster of McKees Rocks, who was then a missionary in that far-off land. The prince became as deeply filled with the missionary spirit as he did yesterday with Schoenville spirit, and the Rev. Mr. Brewster imported him into McKees Rocks to Americanize him. The success of this venture is now beyond contradiction.

As soon as he had mastered the English tongue, the prince went into the mercantile business in McKees Rocks, offering popcorn and chewing gum to a needy population at popular prices. Yesterday he became homesick for the simple scenes of his childhood and took a trip to Schoenville. Here he encounterede whisky made in primitive way, and attempted to corner the market. After being subdued, the prince was escorted to the McKees Rocks lockup, but fearing international complications with the royal court of Abyssinia, the police promptly discharged him.

ANNOUNCE SMOOT'S DEFEAT.

National Reform Association Officials Declare Senatorial Committee Stands 9 to 5 Against Utah Senator.

Announcement was made by members of the executive committee of the National Reform association, which was in session here yesterday, that the senatorial committee on privileges and elections will report against the retention of Reed Smooth as United States senator from Utah by a vote of 9 to 5.

The committee considering the case will not report to the senate for some time, but a statement of the committee's findings is said to have been given the executive committee of the Reform association several days ago. The committee met in the Eighth Street Reformed Presbyterian church to discuss plans for a world's convention to be held in 1907 and to hear the report of a sub-committee appointed to secure a charter for the organization.

Triplets Follow Twins.

All McKeesport is rallying around John Carbaugh of 714 Lincoln street, a mill worker, as the leader of the anti-race suicide element. Yesterday 28 pounds of triplets were born in the Carbaugh home, which was first blessed by twins. The Carbaugh's have six children, but one arriving solitary and alone.

For the family that has just introduced a new buffet or sideboard, or where some new table silver is needed, this sale should appeal with much force.

All the pieces are quadruple-plated on hard britannia metal, and, as we have said, the prices quoted are from a third to a half below regular quotations.

Buster Brown Stockings, 15c a Pair.

Buster's a good boy—when he's asleep—but these stockings are good every day and every day, and will give a boy or a girl more genuine service than any stockings they ever had.

They sell everywhere for 25c a pair, and they're worth it.

They're black stockings, and the black is put on to stay; in other words, it is a first-class dye.

All the parts that get the most wear have double splicings.

While we just as cherefully sell a single pair as we do a dozen, it was noticeable that many people bought in dozen and half dozen lots.

They evidently know a good thing when they see it.

Women's $10.00 and $12.50 Coats, $7.50.

Kindly notice in the under paragraphs the sort of coats that we propose selling you today for $7.50. No woman can make a mistake in buying one of these coats. They can wear it the balance of the cold spell and then lay it away until next winter. The price is little enough to pay for a scuff coat.

Tight-fitting Coats of black venetian, 22 inches long, double strap seams, notch collar, tailored sleeves, turn-over cuffs, lining of taffeta.

22-inch Tight-fitting Coats of tan covert, collarless, finished around neck with stitching and braid, fancy stitched straps down front and back.

New Ostrich Plumes, $2.75 and $4.50.

Difference in price is accounted by the difference in length as well as the fineness of the plume. In either grade the plumes are worth at least one-third more than what we are asking.

There are white plumes and there are black plumes, and there are colored plumes. All have broad flues, all have heavy heads, all are very glossy.

It is noticeable that Fashion always has a warm side for the ostrich plume.

The 18-inch plumes, $4.50. The 16-inch plumes, $2.75.

Women's Kid Gloves, 75c a Pair.

Now don't think we have raised the price on those gloves we had on sale yesterday for 65c a pair. The reason you got such a good glove for 65c was the limited range of colors—only gray, brown, tan and red. We have some left for today's selling.

But the glove that we are going to hand out today for 75c a pair is a regular $1.00 grade, a two-clasp glace glove and a fine kid glove. The color range includes tan, mode, gray, green, black, white.

In the Linen Division of the First Floor, East.

Bleached Napkins, 27x27 inches, regular price $6.50, special, a dozen $5.00

Women's $7.50 Skirts, $5.00.

Why, it would pay women to buy these skirts to wear during the low-down, mean period of the year, which is from now up until about the middle of April. Good quality black panama and light mixtures. The skirts have seven gores, they are cut circular to flare. Also have alternate gores, finished with fancy straps and buttons.

Men's Summer Undergarments, 60c Each.

They Are French Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers, Worth $1.00 Each.

We bought a big lot of these French Balbriggan Undergarments, because we knew Pittsburg men well enough to know they are not averse to a bargain any time it is presented.

The weather yesterday was the nippy sort of a fine winter's day, yet we sold any amount of these summer suits of underwear for $1.20.

When a man can save 80c on a suit of underwear it is reasonable to suppose that he is going to invest, seeing that it will not be more than six or eight weeks when he will appreciate a thin weight.

As many suits as you want today at $1.20 a suit, or as many single garments, 60c each.

Long sleeve shirts and half sleeve shirts; shirt size, 34 to 46 inches; length of drawers 38 to 42 inches.

Women's $16.50 to $22.00 Raincoats, $10.00.

The raincoat is a belonging that every woman should own, it is essentially a coat for all weathers, an everyday coat throughout the year. It is said an Englishman always carries an umbrella, rain or shine—a woman should have her raincoat with her, rain or shine.

Plain oxford, olive and tan, also a number of raincoats in fancy cravenetted materials. All full lengths and all in newest Spring fashions.

Those Short Sleeve Shirtwaists for $1.00.

The Same Kind That Will Fetch $1.50 and $2.00 Six Weeks from Now.

Merely a matter of being six weeks in advance, and of accepting an offer that was made us to take a great quantity of waists, which we accepted without an instant's hesitation.

They are made of white lawn, and they have finishes of embroideries and tucks and laces.

All of them button down the back.

Indeed it is the most interesting sale we ever conducted in behalf of women.

All sizes.

The Skin—The Beard—The Razor.

There are all kinds of skins, some very tender, some very tough, some half and half.

There are all kinds of beards—some just a little patch here and there, others as thick as the hair on a cat, still others most prominent on chin and lip.

There are all kinds of razors—from old-fashioned hollow ground to the modern safety, and the most modern of safety razors and the best

IS THE HOE.

The Hoe Razor is a scientific bit of machinery for the beard. It consists of three pieces—the hoe, which holds the razor, the clasp in which the blade fits, and the blade itself. This latter is of wafer thinness. Six blades go along with each razor.

The whole outfit costs only $1.50.

The blades are so tempered that they have to be used a long time before they get dull, and at the least calculation a man with an extraordinary heavy beard can use one of the Hoe Razors for three years.

Mind, it's only $1.50, complete.

Step into the Men's Furnishing Store and see it demonstrated.

Official reports of the Mt. Dajo affair indicate how little basis there was for the outburst of indignation indulged by the "aunties." These will probably be slower to accept the facts than they were to seize upon the sensational and unreliable unofficial reports from Manila. Each instance of this kind, however, has its educational value and the public will soon pay little attention to the outbursts.

To the average Republican the interest shown in reorganization of the city committee must be a hopeful sign. There is nothing that could promise more for party success than such widespread concert for purely party affairs. It is also gratifying to observe an absence of bitterness in the preparations for the contest, for bitterness has no place in family arguments.

Saturday's conference on the Soldiers' Memorial hall will be noted with much interest. The difficult question, as in the matter of a new postoffice, is one of site. It is realized if a site must be purchased at market value, it will require the expenditure of a large share of the available fund, so the building must be on a poorer scale. If a cheap or free site can be had the fund will be ample for a very creditable memorial.

Apparently the long agony of the Reed Smoot investigation is nearly over. It is reported from Washington the committee will recommend to the senate the expulsion of the Utah man from his seat. This verdict will meet with popular applause. The public mind is not able to dissociate Mormonism from polygamy. It is useless for Utah to send any more Mormon representatives to Washington until they have shown by their works they have abandoned the hated institution.

One of the professors of the University of Paris has arrived in Boston and from that point intends to tour the country, visiting the great cities for the purpose of making a careful study of the "progress of the Irish race in America." It is stated he will include Pittsburgh in his itinerary. He will meet a warm welcome here and be treated to some surprises. The Irish race in this country has helped to do things in patriotism and along other lines most creditable to it. In it are some of the best of citizens.

Gen. Kuropatkin, at this late day, admits "lack of preparation" was less responsible for Russian defeat in Manchuria than lack of "initiative" and of "morale" among officers and men. Now that Russians are to have a greater measure of freedom he believes the armies of the future will go to their work with more heart in it. Gen. Kuropatkin has made a good post-mortem on the Manchurian campaign, but his prediction is somewhat clouded by reports from the Russian elections.

Reclassification of the consular service under the Lodge bill, mutilated as it has been by amendments, will be a step forward, but a short one. The question in the minds of friends of consular reform is whether to accept this small concession and the danger of having the subject shelved for another ten years, or to reject it altogether and fight on for an adequate measure. There ought not to be any opposition in congress to genuine consular reform, but the spirit of spoils has a strong hold and other "loot" is fast disappearing.

A speculative cablegram from London concerning the removal of Bellamy Storer as ambassador to Austria-Hungary assumes there must have been some mysterious personal motive on the part of the President. The same dispatch says: "Ambassador Storer's whereabouts are at present unknown," and again: "It would be idle to pretend the American colony regrets Mr. Storer's departure." It is hard to satisfy some people. If these two statements are not sufficient to explain the action of the President it will be hard to explain it. Mr. Roosevelt has an old-fashioned idea that officials ought to remain where their duties are and to give good service.

Billion Dollar County.

It is expected the triennial assessment for Allegheny county will show property valuations of more than one billion of dollars. This reminds one of Thomas B. Reed's declaration: "This is a billion dollar country." We can say truthfully this is a billion dollar county and the new valuation will induce many people to indorse Lincoln's appellation, "the great state of Allegheny." Beside Allegheny county the would-be imperial commonwealth of Arizona is insignificant in all save area.

This great county, however, has not overcome the habit of dodging the tax gatherer when it may. It is expected by the board of tax assessment and revision it will be able to find and return more personal property than under the old system, but it despairs of getting all that is due. The public will be much interested in this first assessment under the new law. We believe it will be more just and satisfactory.

Biggest Battleship.

Admiral George Dewey argued before the house naval affairs committee yesterday for huge battleships, the equal of Great Britain's "Dreadnought," recently launched. Admiral Dewey has proven himself a man of sound judgment on more than one occasion, in naval affairs. He helped win battles in the civil war and he added a lustrous chapter to the fame of the American navy in the war with Spain.

Dewey has always advised the building of bigger armored ships. He has never fluttered in his affections from one type to another. Though he won a great victory with unarmored cruisers at Manila, he will never forget the longing he had, in advance of the battle, for just one big battleship to make the outcome sure. He knows the value of the big battleship as a fighting machine and in giving confidence to all of the men behind the guns.

Dewey does not stand alone in advocacy of the big battleship. Admiral Togo, with his recent experience, is a firmer advocate of the battleship than after the battle of the Yalu river. Japan is building one on his advice. Great Britain began the "Dreadnought" after analyzing the naval operations of most recent wars. It is not accident that leads all these experts to the same conclusion that it is good economy to spend the many millions required for the largest fighting machines.

The Southern Democracy.

The "Solid South" which has always tailed the Democracy of the northern states, and in every election been essential to the election of the Democratic candidates, has at last declared it is tired of its tail end position. From Washington we hear of plans formulating for the exploitation of a southern Democrat for the nomination for president. And why not? This move will test the Democracy of the northern states. The southern Democrats, in presenting their claims for this long deferred honor, make out a very good case, outside of the fact they have furnished the bulk of Democratic presidential electors in years past—that sectional feeling has now been composed, and a reunited people now recognizes no south, east, west or north.

The claim of the southern Democracy is a just one, and will give the party a freedom of choice it has never yet enjoyed from the dictation of Tammany hall, and the primacy that has always been demanded of it by the New York state Democracy. This movement of the southern Democrats will be an interesting experiment in national politics, watched with as much interest by the Republicans as by the party most concerned in the outcome of the stand to be taken by the southern propagandists. But we do not anticipate a southern Democrat can win in the next presidential campaign.

Wallace's Testimony.

While the testimony of former Engineer John F. Wallace, before the senate committee, will be given much weight, the manner of his taking off from the canal commission cannot be safely ignored in considering it. Mr. Wallace argues for the sea level canal and opposes the building of dams at Gatun and La Boca. He prefers a dam at Gamboa. He figures out a good income on 10,000,000 tons passing annually and estimates the cost of a sea level canal at no more than $300,000,000. This he declares could be constructed, by contract, in 10 or 12 years.

Chief Engineer Stevens now on the isthmus is rather better authority than Mr. Wallace and it is notable he does not agree with the Wallace conclusions. Mr. Stevens has made more progress than his predecessor, mainly because he is sticking close to his job and mastering its details. He has not been frightened away by fear of fever. Mr. Stevens favors the lock canal because it will cost $100,000,000 less than a canal at sea level; because it can be completed in little more than half the time required for the sea level ditch and because it can be more easily broadened, to accommodate more traffic. Mr. Stevens estimates little less than 10 years time for a lock canal and more than 15 years for a sea level canal.

Mr. Stevens expects to build the canal and has every incentive to give the country his best judgment. Mr. Wallace has left the canal work and, without intending to misrepresent in any particular, must have some bias. His recommendation of the contract system we believe is sound and a large reduction in the number of salaried official representatives would be good policy. Congress should not, however, remove the chief engineer who is the most important government representative on the work. He should remain with a corps of engineers of his own selection to inspect and direct the contract work.

Congressional Free Seeds.

There is ground for the hope that government seed distribution will cease. The senate has struck from the agricultural bill the appropriation for this ancient joke and there is some disposition in the house to allow it to go. It ought to go; it is a joke that is no longer funny and it is a wicked waste of public money. No self-respecting tiller of the soil plants any "government seeds" if he happens to get them, and they are not sent in sufficient quantity to be an item in the feeding of the American hen.

Government distribution of seeds was originally intended as a means for introducing new varieties. They were accompanied by the request that recipients report results to the agricultural department. On that basis the distribution was all right. With the establishment of experiment stations and the advent of professional seedsmen, distribution of new seeds to farmers for experimental purposes became wholly unnecessary and all distribution should then have been stopped.

Better late than never. If members of congress can be made to understand with what contempt their seed packets are received by constituents who know the difference between a pumpkin and a watermelon, they will vote to drop the nonsense. It has been perpetuated on the supposition that it served to make friends at election time. The contrary is the case. The farmer whose friendship is worth cultivating is the man who selects standard seeds for his own cultivation and to him the congressional seeds are an unmitigated nuisance.

Lack of Push and Hustle.

Singapore, farthest south of Asiatic cities, and the capital of the Straits Settlements, is an important point, being the center of a rapidly growing inter-island trade where millions of dollars worth of American products should be sold. As it is we make a pitiful showing, the balance of trade against us being in the ratio of 16 to 1, a proportion no less odious in this case than as a basis for free coinage of silver. For every $16 worth of goods the Straits sell to the United States they buy back only one dollar's worth. This is important because the total imports of the Straits Settlements in 1904 amounted to $168,531,544, in which this country shared the paltry sum of $1,161,352. Of the $16,649,435 purchases we made nearly three-fourths, or over $10,000,000, was tin.

Surely a country that annually demands over $168,000,000 worth of products is worth looking after, unless our manufacturers and merchants are supinely indifferent about markets. There is one item of imports into the Straits that we should certainly participate in more largely, and that is manufactures of iron and steel, which amounted to $2,031,591. Our share in these sales amounted to the insignificant sum of a little in excess of $100,000. Cotton goods is another item that ought to be considered. Of the total imports of $7,847,372 the share of the United States footed up the small total of $23,226. The only explanation of this deficiency is lack of push and hustle, and neglect to meet the competitive methods employed by the more successful rivals in the trade.

Senator Smoot is to be ousted along toward the middle of his term. This is illustrative of the senate as a "deliberative body." The house threw Roberts out in three months and threw him farther.

The World's a Stage and We the Players

Gossip of Men and Things on Both Sides of the Asbestos Curtain.

By Charles M. Bregg.

A sympathetic admirer of Henry Clay Barnabee, the fine old comedian of the Bostonians, writes me concerning the rumored failure of that veteran entertainer in his old age, and wonders why the players who have known and associated with Barnabee do not come forward with some testimonial in his behalf. My correspondent says he is willing to subscribe liberally to such a tribute, being one of the thousands who recalls with delight the Sheriff of Nottingham in his palmiest days. I am not in a position to further such a suggestion beyond this reference to it, hoping that if the need really exists to proffer such a testimonial the initiative will come from those who are in a better position to make it effective and profitable.

There is a general impression abroad that most player folk come at last to poverty and need in their old age. The assumption is hardly true. Actors as a rule spend money freely, and the character of the life they lead precludes the practice of those small economies possible in other vocations, but actors are thrifty souls in many instances. Denied the joys and comforts of home life during the days of their active career, they early conceive a great desire to own one to which they may retire between seasons, and which may serve as a refuge in the time of age or disability. It must be remembered that players who reach any sort of prominence usually earn large salaries, though on this point there is much mystification by reason of the exaggeration indulged in by those people who like to imagine that they are receiving large incomes.

✦ ✦ ✦

It is true, however, that salaries ranging from $150 to $500 a week are not uncommon on the stage these days. In vaudeville some salaries are very high. A good headline act not uncommonly is paid $1,000 a week. Eddie Foy, for instance, who every once and awhile takes a whirl at vaudeville, can command a pay envelope ranging from $700 to $1,000 a week. Even on a salary of $100 or $200 a week, the actor or actress who is at all thrifty can put aside a neat little sum. There is a small army of our modern players who own beautiful homes in the country around New York and scattered along the New England coast, while people like Richard Mansfield, Julia Marlowe, Viola Allen, Maude Adams, E. H. Sothern and John Drew own both town and country houses that are models of elegance and comfort.

✦ ✦ ✦

A writer in the current Harper's Weekly, discusses this question of stage wealth in relation to the recent probation of the will of Sir Henry Irving, who left an estate valued at $100,000. It may be presumed in the case of Mr. Irving that he made and lost a fortune of that size several times over, as has also Sarah Bernhardt, who came to this country last fall practically penniless, but who will return to France $100,000 or more to the good. "Those who contribute to the entertainment of the public," says this writer in Harper's Weekly, "whether as managers or performers, although sometimes they earn large incomes, seldom leave at death large fortunes. Constant advertisement, direct and indirect, is deemed essential to their business, and is costly. They are expected to be lavish in their generosity and to give whenever asked in the cause of charity performances what they cannot afford to give. Among the fortunes left by famous members of the theatrical profession may be named in round numbers the following: Wilson Barrett, $150,000; Edwin Booth, $120,000; Sir Augustus Harris, $115,000; William Terriss, $65,000; Fred Leslie, $80,000; Dan Leno, $55,000; (Leno was said to have earned $500 a week); Jennie Lind, $200,000, and d'Oyly Carte, $1,200,000—which is believed to be the largest sum ever left by a public entertainer."

✦ ✦ ✦

These examples, with one exception, are all English and are taken from a period when the remuneration to the ordinary player was not so large as it is today. I believe the producing manager-actor stands less chance today of acquiring a competency, or at least of keeping it, than his less ambitious brother who is content to do the acting and let somebody else do the managing. The risks involved in theatrical investment are many and great. Fortunes are made one season only to be lost the next. The tide of ill luck some times seizes players of a really substantial asset in the way of popular favor and acting ability. Look at Nat Goodwin, undoubtedly the best comedian on our American stage. Goodwin has been pursued by a perfect avalanche of bad luck during the past few years. Indeed, the actor has not had a real success since "The Days of Twenty-One." His venture into Shakespeare seemed to have put a kink into his luck, rumor declaring that he lost $40,000 on the "Midsummer Night's Dream" production. Goodwin is an actor who ought to be worth $500 a week steadily.

After all is said and done the modern player is not more improvident than members of other professions, nor do the members of that profession furnish more examples of indigent old age. As in all walks of life it is the development of the faculty of providing against the infirmities of old age that saves the actor or actress from becoming a charge upon friends or objects of public charity. There are, of course, thousands of stage people who never acquire more than a bare living out of the profession, and there are other thousands who are but the camp followers of an army that holds out so many glittering promises of success and emolument. Of these the majority drop out and find other means of livelihood, while those who hang on are objects of charity and aid until death claims them.

In Barnabee's case we have an illustration of a fine entertainer running into bad luck in his old age. The public that he has made laugh owes the veteran some debt of gratitude and helpfulness.

The late comer at the theater is the subject of a wrathy appeal in a letter to this gossip. This is an evil about which both the serious and the humorous writers have exhausted their stock of invective and wit. There are people who won't go to any public gathering on time. They are late at church, and use theaters as an especial exhibit ground for their inconsideration of the comfort of others. I long ago despaired of ever persuading the intentional and inveterate late comer to a theater that he or she was an unqualified nuisance. They either haven't read what I have written or else they have absolutely no confidence in my judgment. There are many cases in which late coming to the theaters is unavoidable, and this hopeless confusion between the saints and the sinners makes objurgation almost useless.

My correspondent uses Mr. Gillette's recent performance as an example of the heinous sin of late coming. She has my sympathy. To be intently listening for the lines of a play or watching the important pantomime of the players and to have to get up to allow late comers to pass to their seats is not an occupation in which one finds great joy, especially when you realize that the late comers have arrived at the theater after dawdling carelessly over dinner. It is the idle theatergoer, who has nothing else to do all day but get ready for the outing, against which the bitterest resentment is felt. Viewed as a general habit of the American people, late coming to the theater that is due to carelessness and indifference to the comfort of others is about as unfortunate an evidence of bad breeding as the period of bad manners affords.

There is but one effective remedy. Persons reaching the theater after the curtain goes up should not be permitted to go to their seats. And even this remedy has its defects: the innocent will have to suffer for the sins of the guilty.

CASUAL GLIMPSES AROUND THE CITY

Notes About People and Events in Which Pittsburghers Are Interested.

Col. Samuel Moody, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west, and E. A. Ford, manager of passenger traffic, left late last night for Chicago, where they will attend today's session of the Central Passenger Agents' association in that city. The annual conference opened yesterday with a preliminary discussion of routine matters, but today the association will tackle the tangible problems that have presented themselves. Col. Moody and Mr. Ford will take a prominent part today in the discussion of passenger rates, which promises to be rather warm in view of recent state legislation. While Col. Moody refused to discuss the matter, it is understood today's meeting of the passenger agents will gain its importance from the fact that an unofficial hint has been received from the railroad board of Ohio calling attention to the strict provisions of the 2-cent mileage law. It is understood that the Pennsylvania and other railroads did not intend to amend rates of through tickets to points outside of Ohio, which necessitated a ride through that state, and a broad hint was served on the passenger agents' association that through tickets must be figured at 2 cents a mile for the actual mileage covered in the Buckeye State. Whether to succumb to this edict or to make a concerted fight against it as unconstitutional will probably be discussed at today's meeting.

Hotel Clerks Grow Imperialistic.

The Pittsburgh Hotel Clerks' association held a meeting last night at the Griswold, at which plans were made for affiliation with the Philadelphia organization for the purpose of creating a state association of hotel clerks. The hotel clerks in Ohio have recently formed a state organization and it is the hope of the local hotel clerks to coalesce and to ultimately form a compact national body. E. H. Bennett, "father" of this movement in the two large Pennsylvania cities, is furthering this effort.

Paint Men Banquet.

Arthur Hamerslag, director of the Carnegie Technical school and Maximilian Toch of New York were the principal speakers last night at the annual banquet of the Pittsburgh Paint, Oil and Varnish association at the Duquesne club. Before the banquet a business meeting was held and officers elected for the ensuing year. All the officers of last year were asked to serve again. They are: President, C. J. Caspar, Sterling Paint and Glass Company; vice president, W. M. Taylor, Davis Lead Company; treasurer, C. F. Wells, Jr., National Lead and Oil Company, and secretary, G. F. Armstrong, manufacturers' agent. Charles D. Wettach who is president of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish association and a former president of the local association, has been instrumental in bringing the next meeting of the national body to Pittsburgh, and the annual convention will be held here next October. Ross Rainey of the Pittsburgh Paint Supply Company, is chairman of the committee to arrange for the convention. A banquet of 400 will be held at the Hotel Schenley.

Danish Society Meets.

The Danish society of Pittsburgh held the first formal meeting since its organization, at the Hotel Lincoln last night, at which 30 former citizens of Denmark from neighborhood towns were present and admitted to membership. The election of officers, K. Jacobsen, president; H. Kock, vice president and secretary, and H. Kruse, treasurer, were confirmed. Because of inviting conditions in the fatherland, the number of Danes who have settled here is very small, being estimated at 30 in Pittsburgh. Surrounding towns swell the number to about 100 and they have all joined the society. At last night's meeting the national ideals, language and literature were discussed and plans outlined for future study by the society and a campaign to place the beauties of the olden sagas and modern literature, in translations, more prominently before the reading public.

HOW 'TIS SUNG IN BOSTON.

Everyone labors except our distinguished progenitor.
He reposes in a recumbent position within our residence through the day,
His pedal extremeties idling upon the bronze of the steam radiator,
Serenely engaged in extracting nebulous atmosphere from a tobacco receptacle of mundane matter.
Our maternal mentor receives soiled linen for the purpose of cleansing it.
And in this connection I should include filial Ann.
Indeed, everybody is engaged in some variety of occupation in our domestic habitat
Excluding, as primarily suggested, our distinguished progenitor.

Quiet Observations on Ways of the World

All Things Come to Those Who Wait Long Enough.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

O, the snow, the swift-falling snow,
Filling our necks and our shoes below;
Falling by night as well as by day
Keeping us sweeping and shoveling away.

Sifting down softly, covering the street,
While we trudge bravely with visions so sweet,
When up comes the pavement—identical spot—
And hits us a whack upon our top-knot.

—Waynesburg Times.

Yes, it is only a question of time until the truth comes out, no matter how sad the truth, nor how painful its coming.

For years and years the public has been in more or less mental distress because of the uncertainty as to the authorship of "Beautiful Snow."

Now and again have men, and some women, too, arisen to claim the honor, and some have been on the verge of having the chaplet firmly clasped, or pinned, to their brows, when it would be held up by some critic demanding the parallel column test—that is, a comparison with other poems which they were known to have written.

This test has invariably been fatal to the claims of aspiring poets in the past.

The author of the cool, flaky stanzas given above, is not a claimant for the honor, but you know heroes, like greatness, are born to some, achieved by many and thrust upon a few.

We are almost sure to get what is coming to us, and get it sometimes when least expected.

Col. McKay was not gunning for this special chaplet, but he stands a chance of having it thrust upon him.

⁂

The notion that he might possibly be giving himself away evidently sneaked into the poet's mind, and to divert attention, mislead and bumfuzzle his readers, he knocked off the following stanzas and hastily, but none too cleverly, tacked these onto the others.

"We see stars above us, the worlds round us swing,
We feel jars within us, our ear drums do ring,
We look wildly about us, while clatters the call,
'Hello, there, did it hurt you? My, my, what a fall!'

"You cuss not—good reason—you well know you can't
You're breathless—disgusted—you can't even pant;
For you sat down so hard, as your best girl went by
That you cracked your respect, and that makes you shy."

How thin the ruse.

Nor does the cunning shown in dating it St. Patrick's day mend matters in the least, for is it not well known that Waynesburg is a dry town, a close town, a temperance town? Could such things happen there, albeit some of the streets are inclined to stand on end rather than to lie flat and level.

⁂

Even murder, they say, will out. And we know that strange and unexpected things do happen, and at oddest times, and in most unthought for places.

And when the cat is out the people will chase it in spite of law, reason or humanity. Nor can it ever be chased in again.

That Waynesburg ever dreamed of having such honors thrust upon it, or even shied at it, is not to be thought of, much less knowing it was the bag (metaphorically speaking) that contained the cat that the public generally, and literary folks is particular, had been watching for all these years.

But as the text says, "All things come to the those who wait, if they wait long enough."

Mr. Quiet Observer:—

My two years' acquaintance with you through the medium of The Gazette encourages me to try and interest you, and through you, others in position to effect a change in the deplorable practice of abuse to dumb animals that exists at the largest stockyards in Pittsburgh.

My work has frequently brought me in close range of the doings there, and while I am convinced that those in authority do not mean to disregard all humane principles, at the same time, I think if an investigation is made it will be found that it is the exception, not the rule, that there is no one there charged with authority to look after this matter.

I would not, or could not, recount the awful treatment that is continually practiced by the drivers in the different divisions of the yards. But to give you an idea I will say that not more than two weeks ago a hog that was really too fat to walk was foolishly and brutally beaten by the driver, and when finally unable to move was pounded until the anger of the driver was satisfied, leaving the hog not only bleeding at the mouth and nose, but with one eye torn completely out of the head and dangling in a frozen condition on the cheek.

Frequently the stubborn, but dumb animals are pounded in a most brutal manner, leaving them bleeding and exhausted, and kicking them in the sides is a common occurrence.

With all I hear of the good work done by the Humane society of Pittsburgh, I feel confident that if you will kindly publish these few facts, someone in a position to investigate will surely do so.

TOWN TALES: TALKS WITH TRAVELERS

STREET SCENES | By PETER PRY SHEVLIN | LOBBY CHATTER

An Appropriate Name.

"Uncle Jake" had been missing from his usual haunts during the early part of the week. If you are a Pennsylvania railroad commuter you should know "Uncle Jake" by sight for he is a white-haired type of the ante-bellum negro who succeeds in selling travelers on their way to the Union station knick-knacks so useless they are left with him to be sold over and over again.

"Where have you been keeping yourself this week, Uncle?"

"Dishyere col' weather—whew!—done got inter de ol' man's jints!" said the colored character. "Ah'es been,—wow—laid up in bed—ouch! fo five days, yessir! Oo! an' I doan' feel good yit!"

Thus "Uncle Jake" hobbled along with a grunt at every step.

"What did the doctor call your ailment, Uncle?"

"Ow-wow! Boss, he says, Ah hab 'exclamatory rheumatism!'"

Maxine Was Wise.

A reporter for a sensational evening paper called at a hotel yesterday and sent up his card to Maxine Elliott, the star at a local theater this week. When the pasteboard came back there was scribbled on it:

"No; we're not divorced yet."

To understand the point one must know that busybodies have long been hinting at trouble between Nat Goodwin and his beautiful wife, Maxine Elliott—always without the slightest reason. Denying these rumors becomes a bore in time.

Pittsburgh, "Cork City of World."

"It is a little known fact in the United States, and even among this city's residents, that Pittsburgh is pre-eminently the 'cork city' not only of the country, but of the world."

That was the encomium delivered by W. Falkenhagen, who represents the largest cork factory of Germany located in the city of Frankental. Mr. Falkenhagen stopped in this city to pay a two days' visit to a friend of his, Thomas M. Armstrong of the Armstrong Cork Company. The German cork manufacturer is on his first visit to America in the last six years and left last night for Chicago and Milwaukee.

"My factory in Germany is the largest in Europe with an output of 5,000,000 corks a day, but a local firm here almost doubles that figure and, therefore, this city is a 'corker.' The trade agreement signed between Germany and America five days ago has been agreeable to manufacturers in my country, but it does not indicate that we plan a wholesale campaign of competition with this country's products. The German import of cork into this country for a year is very small and infinitesmal compared with a week's output of your two Pittsburgh firms.

"My visit will only be incidental for the exploitation of my goods. My real object has been to surround with all legal safeguards the American rights to a patent for a cork substitute. It must be remembered that the cork industry has long since passed the stage of cork stoppers for bottles. This product of the Spanish and Portuguese forests is becoming more and more important in mechanics and novelties. Under government supervision the cork forests are increasing rapidly in yield, but they by no means keep pace with the increasing demands in new fields."

Slum Boy Who Became Governor.

A returned Alaskan magnate was talking yesterday of the career of John Green Brady who resigned a few days ago as governor of Alaska, and related the story of a waif who became governor.

"Brady's career should rank alongside that of other great American pioneers," said Cabell Whitehead, a banker of Nome, at the Henry, "and should be a source of inspiration to the youth of the nation. First a homeless waif in New York, later a newsboy in the vile Five Points district, he was sent west with a carload of city charity charges. After years of humble work on western farms, his unflagging ambition lead him through Yale. The moment he reached small prosperity he established a farm colony in Texas for the stunted youths of the city slums. Later he started to Alaska as missionary to the rough mining element, and in 1897 his altruism for fellowmen was rewarded by McKinley with the governorship of Alaska.

"Beyond question that great and good man piloted the frozen wastes to the prosperity and civilization the territory now enjoys, and his resignation will be felt as a personal loss to every Alaskan. Every city, including Pittsburgh, contains dozens of ex-Klondikers, and they know what he has done for them in their depths of despair."

Cuba's Industrial Prospects.

Senor Gonzales Navarro, a banker and sugar planter of Cuba, passed through Pittsburgh yesterday enroute to Washington.

"There is widespread sentiment among those 'in the know' that Cuba is going to face an industrial crisis very soon," said Senor Gonzales. "The sugar crop last year was abnormal and profitable; this year the planters will suffer from low prices for sugar together with high prices for labor and supplies. Several years of low sugar prices combined with any unforseen disaster will put the little republic on its back.

"I believe that the present administration is inviting disaster by extravagant increase of the national obligations. An early crisis can only be averted by annexation with this country, thereby eliminating the high sugar tariff and inviting your national blessings. Porto Rican and Hawaiian sugars are now admitted without duty, and even without annexation there is no logical reason why Cuba should not share the same advantages. I hardly think that your domestic beet sugar output, ten per cent of total consumption, would suffer thereby."

Weather's Hard on Wagons.

"Have you noticed the large number of wagons that break down on the street in this weather?" asked J. B. Orr, a prominent transfer man, yesterday. "In every case, the axle snaps without warning and the wheel flies off. Several pedestrians have been injured by these flying wheels. On might put it down to the contraction caused by cold; but the break downs only happen in this peculiar sort of weather. The strange thing is that heavily loaded wagons do not suffer, while those with light loads or none at all, meet disaster."

BREWERY CHARGE GOES UP IN FROTH

Accusation Against Miss Lewis, Which Caused Discord in Church, Is Withdrawn.

MOVE TO RESTORE HARMONY

Miss Martha E. Lewis is still secretary of the Sunday school of the Mary S. Brown Memorial Methodist Episcopal church. The accusation that she owed brewery stock or bonds, bubbled threateningly for a week or two and then disappeared last night in froth when before the investigating committee Miss Lewis herself testified that she owns no brewery stock or bonds, and the charge was withdrawn.

The meeting of the committee was held last night at the church, Hazelwood and Beechwood avenues. Chairman C. L. King, Charles Fairfield, M. T. Hendrickson, F. W. Bonar and Mrs. C. V. Wilson, wife of the pastor, were present, together with Dr. Wilson, Robert Lewis and A. D. Salee. The latter is a teacher in the Sunday school and was responsible for the charge against the young woman.

When asked point blank if she owned stock or bonds in a brewery, as the charge asserted, Miss Lewis declared that she did not. She explained that by the terms of the will of the late Capt. Samuel S. Brown she was to receive bonds in the Pittsburgh Brewing Company to the value of $30,000. If she disposed of them within 30 days she was to receive the proceeds. If she did not do so $125 per month was to be paid her by the trustees of the estate. She declared she had received the bonds within the specified time and had disposed of them so that she no longer derives any benefit from them. Upon her declaration to this effect, a motion that the charge be withdrawn was unanimously passed, and it was agreed to unconditionally by the person who brought the charge originally.

The withdrawal of the charge will result in the reinstatement of Miss Lewis as secretary of the Sunday school and she will resume her duties next Sunday. At the session of the school at that time public announcement of the withdrawal of the charge will be made. Miss Lewis will be allowed to retain unmolested her position until the expiration of her term of office next August.

The charge brought by Robert Lewis, a brother of Miss Lewis, against A. D. Sallee, that he was a "trouble-maker," was heard before a committee at a meeting Monday night. The committee agreed that Mr. Sallee had committed no breach of church discipline and declined to entertain the matter further.

That the funds left by the late Capt. Samuel S. Brown for the erection and maintenance of a new church are available at once was the statement of F. W. Bonar, superintendent of the Sunday school, yesterday. He stated that at no time has the money not been available, provision having been made unconditionally in the will that $50,000 in bonds go toward erecting a church building and $20,000 additional as an endowment fund. Mr. Bonar stated that plans for the new building are now being prepared by Orth Bros., architects, and ground for the stone structure may be broken as soon as the weather opens. A church building with a seating capacity of about 500 and a Sunday school room of equal size is planned.

STATEHOOD BILL UP TODAY

Adherents of Senate Amendments Will Fight Speaker's Plan to Shut of Debate.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The statehood bill will be taken up in the house tomorrow and, under the protection of a proposed special rule, will be sent to a conference committee of the senate and house. Thirty minutes debate between the friends and opponents of this proposed rule will be followed by a vote upon it.

Thirty "insurgent" Republicans today agreed to stand together in opposition to Speaker Cannon's plan to send the statehood bill to conference. They will not support any rule designed to shut off debate and prevent the house from instructing its members of the conference as to how to vote. Representatives Babcock, Mondell and other leaders in the "insurgent" faction insist that the speaker's plan will railroad the bill to the conference in such a way that the house members of the conference must insist on the bill practically as it was framed and passed by the house.

HAS PHILIPPINE BANQUET.

Congressional Party Which Accompanied Taft to the Orient Gives Him a Dinner.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Secretary and Mrs. Taft were the guests tonight, at a banquet given at the New Willard hotel, in the secretary's honor, by the members of the congressional party which accompanied him to the Philippines last year. The menu cards termed the occasion "The Second Voyage of the Taft Philippine Party."

The banquet hall presented a vari-colored scene with snatches here and there of scenery from the Sandwich Islands, China, Japan and the Philippines.

Representative Sherley of Kentucky was toastmaster and responses were made by Miss Mabel Boardman, Senators Foster and Long, and Representatives Grosvenor and DeArmond. Over 70 were present.

SEA LEVEL CANAL ACROSS ISTHMUS ADVISED BY WALLACE

WASHINGTON, March 20.—John F. Wallace, formerly chief engineer of the isthmian canal commission, today testified before the senate committee, giving his views on the type of canal to be constructed across the Isthmus of Panama. He advocated an approximately straight sea level canal of ample width and depth, which he believes can be completed in 10 or 12 years, while a lock canal would require three years less.

Suspects Plead Not Guilty.

BOISE, IDAHO, March 20.—Charles H. Moyer, William D. Haywood and George A. Pettibone, charged with the murder of former Gov. Steuenberg, today pleaded not guilty when arraigned before District Judge Frank Smith of Caldwell. The cases were continued over the term, and the date of their trial was indefinitely fixed at about May 15.

Liquor Licenses Are Held Up.

FRANKLIN, PA., March 20.—(Special.)—Judge Criswell will not pass on any of the liquor license applications until Thursday. Today was occupied in hearing remonstrances. The principal hearing was the case of C. Brecht, a Franklin brewer, who admitted selling beer to railroad camps.

WASHINGTON NEWS NOTES.

The senate in executive session today ratified an extradition treaty between the United States and the republic of San Marino.

The senate in executive session confirmed the following postmasters: Pennsylvania—H. A. Buttorff, Mount Holly Springs; G. A. Jackson, Youngville; H. Kennedy, Crafton.

In less than 20 minutes' time the senate voted away $140,000,000 of the public funds. The sum is carried by the pension appropriation bill which was passed.

The house of representatives did business with a microscope in one hand and the bill making appropriation for the salaries of its officers and employes in the other. The result was that although five and one-half hours was spent in reading the legislative appropriation bill for amendment, less than 25 pages of the measure were completed. The spirit of economy in little things was all-absorbing.

The larger part of the time of the senate was devoted to the consideration of the fortifications appropriation bill. In that connection the question of the necessity for seacoast fortifications in the Philippine Islands was discussed at considerable length, with the result that all provisions for such fortifications in these possessions was eliminated from the bill.

Admiral Dewey told the house committee on naval affairs that the crying need of the American navy is two great battleships like the 18,000-ton English battleship Dreadnaught. He recommended extensive experiments with submarine boats and scout ships, but no more cruisers or armored cruisers.

The Rev. J. P. McLaughlin, who is a lawyer as well as a minister of the gospel, was recommended to President Roosevelt by Senator Elkins of West Virginia for appointment as judge of the juvenile court of the District of Columbia. The Rev. Mr. McLaughlin formerly lived in Pennsylvania and is said to have the support of Senator Knox.

MUCH OPPOSED TO COMPETITION

Allegheny Presbytery Declares Against Rival U. P. Congregation in Tarentum.

WILL PROVIDE NO SUPPLIES

Church competition in Tarentum was under discussion the greater part of the day yesterday during the quarterly session of Allegheny presbytery of the United Presbyterian church. Presbytery had been in receipt of several communications announcing that a rival congregation had been started in opposition to the congregation formerly presided over by Burgess-Parson T. C. Anderson, against whom charges had been preferred and who was requested to resign. The new congregation is said to be led by a son of the Rev. Mr. Anderson.

Presbytery took action deploring the conditions and practically instituting a boycott by passing a resolution that the students of Allegheny Theological seminary, who have been supplying the pulpit of the new congregation, should no longer "take part in any congregation where there existed a division," and calling attention to the fact that the students were under control of presbytery as to where they shall conduct religious exercises.

Presbytery urged the people of Tarentum to gather as one body of United Presbyterians. Discussion on the Tarentum trouble occupied the greater portion of the afternoon and most of the morning.

During the afternoon session delegates to the general assembly were elected as follows: The Revs. Dr. W. S. Harper, Dr. William Robinson, Dr. D. R. Imbrie, Dr. A. G. Wallace, R. C. Douds and Dr. J. S. T. Milligan. Financial aid was given congregations as follows: Leetsdale, $300; North End, $600, and Twelfth, Allegheny, $650. During the morning session the Rev. Ira G. McCreery of the Twelfth church, Allegheny, tendered his resignation as pastor of that congregation. The resignation was accepted. The next meeting of presbytery was fixed for the second Tuesday in June at Valencia.

RAILROADS AT WAR.

Purchase of Ligonier Valley Road by Wabash is Rumored—Rivals Bidding for Land.

GREENSBURG, PA., March 20.—The rumor of the sale of the Ligonier Valley railroad to the Wabash interests is being circulated. The story is founded on the presence in the Ligonier valley of Wabash engineers. The Wabash company is said to be financing the extension of the Pittsburgh, Westmoreland & Somerset line from Ligonier to Somerset.

SOMERSET, PA., March 20.—The fight between the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Wabash railroad for the Flaugherty Gap in Larimer and Greenville townships, this county, still goes on. Today the Connellsville, Uniontown & Wheeling Railroad Company, a subsidiary Baltimore & Ohio corporation, entered in the recorder's office here deeds for two tracts of land along Flaugherty creek. The Gould interests, it is said, purchased, in fee simple, rights of way on which the Baltimore & Ohio held options.

ARE UNDER HEAVY BOND.

Daughter of Italian Macaroni Maufacturer Testifies to Seeing Men Dynamiting Her Father's Store.

SCRANTON, PA., March 20.—Paul Trapi and Giuseppi Cagliano, the two Italians arrested last night while being handed marked money by Giovanio Fazio, a macaroni manufacturer who it is alleged they have repeatedly threatened and whose store was dynamited New Year's eve, supposedly by these two, were given another hearing before Alderman Kasson this afternoon and put under $5,000 additional bail, making $9,000 bail for each man.

At the hearing the young daughter of Fazio swore that Trapi is the man whom she saw throw the bomb which wrecked her father's store. Fazio himself swore positively that Trapi and Cagliano were the men who came to his store no less than 12 times after the explosion, demanding money to use their influence to prevent further explosions and the death of him and his family.

STRONGEST IN THE WORLD

The One Certain Way

You have someone dependent upon you—a wife—children—sister—parents—you are in comfortable circumstances. Those who look to you for support have every need supplied—

It is your hope—perhaps your prayer—that your loved ones will always have plenty—

How shall you make sure of that plenty in event of your death?

It would take years to accumulate an estate sufficiently large to do so—

But, if you are assurable, a policy in the Equitable Life makes immediate provision for anyone dependent upon you—

More than that—it assures comfort for your own later years if you live—

Do you know of any other way in which you could make such absolutely certain provision for your loved ones and yourself?

RUBBERS NO DRUG NOW ON MARKET

Shoe Dealers Are Smiling, for Money That Was Tied Up for Months is Coming In.

WEATHER COMES IN HANDY

The shoe store man is smiling. While everybody else is lamenting the disagreeable weather and praying for sunshine and spring, the shoe store man would not object to a little longer spell, and not because he enjoys the misery of the rest of the human race, either. He smiles because he is getting rid of his rubber shoes, and because the money tied up in that commodity will not be unavailable for another year, as he had begun to fear.

And rubber shoes run up into money. They are so cheap, 75 cents or $1, that the man who buys a pair or two a year is apt to think that the entire stock in cities like Pittsburgh and Allegheny will not aggregate in value more than $50,000 at the most. But a conservative estimate shows rubber shoes in stock in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, when the winter began, to have been at least $200,000, wholesale price.

According to the custom of the trade this money was payable on December 1. It is figured, too, that nearly every shoe dealer paid his rubber shoe bill on that date. All that money has been tied up ever since, for the winter has been so mild and there has been so little snow and ice that hardly any rubber shoes were sold by the retailer. The wet spell came along and the shoe man was saved.

The retailer buys his rubber goods in the early summer, receives them about November 1, and has to pay for them on December 1. Ordinarily, by the date the bill is due he has sold enough rubber shoes to bring in cash a large proportion of the whole bill, this season being an exception.

In such an item as rubber boots for little boys several thousand dollars are still tied up. Generally every youngster who wants to paddle about in rubbers has got his pair for the winter long before today, but this year at least 5,000 boys have not been fitted out, and thus many pairs of rubber boots are stuck away on back shelves or in the store houses of the department stores.

Charles S. Taylor of the Laird & Taylor Company, wholesale boot and shoe dealers, said yesterday that very many retail stores carry a $500 and $1,000 stock of rubbers, while larger stores carry correspondingly bigger stocks, one retailer having paid $12,000 for his stock last December. There are 224 retail shoe stores in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, exclusive of the shoe rooms in the department stores.

DEATH OF AN ECCENTRIC RECALLS AN OLD TOWBOAT

Simpson Horner, Found Dead With Money in Pocket, Had Coal Carrier Named After Him.

When the report was published a few days ago that Simpson Horner had been found dead at his home in West Bridgewater, the fact was recalled to many, especially rivermen, that there formerly belonged to the Pittsburgh coal fleet a stanch towboat named Simpson Horner. It is now 12 years since that craft went out of commission. It was one of the larger boats of the fleet and in its years made many money-making trips down the Ohio valley with millions of bushels of coal. But the Simpson Horner finally outlived its usefulness, and shabby and decrepit went into oblivion and to the junk pile.

The Simpson Horner belonged to the firm of Roberts & Horner. This firm operated six strong towboats and three of them were named after members of the families of the owners. The Raymond Horner, one of the boats, is still in commission.

The Simpson Horner was named after the son of one of the owners, and this son was the same Simpson Horner found dead in West Bridgewater last week. When the elder Horner died he left quite an estate including considerable life insurance. Simpson Horner got his share of the estate. All his life he dressed shabbily and cared little for the conventionalities of life. When he died it was supposed that he had little in the way of assets, but when his remains were examined by the coroner nearly $2,000 was found in bills in one of his pockets. This was characteristic of the man.

When the Raymond Horner goes out of commission it will be the removal of the last material reminder from the river of the memory of a firm that did much to increase river traffic.

COTTON MARKET DECLINES

Final Report of the Census Bureau on Amount of Growth Causes a Reaction.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The summary of the final report of the census bureau showing the amount of cotton ginned from the growth of this season was published at 2 o'clock today and was followed by a very sharp break in the local market. The market had been very nervous an early advance to 10.78c for May being followed by a decline to 10.66c for that position under realizing.

Immediately after the report was published May broke to 10.38c and July to 10.48c or about 36 points below the closing prices of yesterday. Bulls supported the market at the decline, which was followed by a reaction of 10 or 12 points, but sentiment was very unsettled during the late session, with bears taking the aggressive.

IMPAIRED HEARING

With very few exceptions, roaring, hissing and other noises in the head, the forerunners of impaired hearing and deafness, are caused by catarrhal inflammation of the middle ear and unless this cause is removed, total deafness, first in one and then in the other ear, is certain to follow. But if sufferers will send a two-cent stamp to pay postage, Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, O., will send a free sample of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, which will prove that every form of catarrh and catarrhal deafness can be positively cured. The first application gives relief. Read what grateful people who have used this remedy say about it.

"I procured four jars of your catarrh balm five or six weeks ago for deafness resulting from catarrh. I was so deaf that I could not, with my right ear, hear a person hammering a steam boiler, and my left ear was nearly as bad. The result from using your Balm is a complete restoration of my hearing. I can now hear my watch tick two feet away and if there were any lurking germs of catarrh left, they have certainly been completely eradicated. The use of the Balm has also made my voice perfectly clear and deep toned as it was in former years. A whole page of superlative adjectives could not more earnestly or sincerely express all I feel for your great preparation—Catarrh Balm—the most efficient treatment for a most disheartening and disgusting disease."

SNAKY, RED-HOT IRON ROD ENCIRCLES MAN'S BODY

Joseph Enshersch, Roller, Misses It With Tongs and Narrowly Escapes a Horrible Death.

A red hot rod of iron, shooting from the rolls at the Lindsay-McCutcheon mill in Allegheny, was deflected in its course as it writhed toward the roller, Joseph Enshersch, yesterday. Enshersch missed the iron with his tongs and the fiery serpent coiled itself about his body, from his feet up to the waist.

Enshersch groaned with pain, but stood erect as a statue, knowing that any movement would only seal his fate and that he must depend upon his mates to save him. The iron was in loose folds, and had it tightened the deadly coil would have burned through his body.

His fellow workmen ran up, and while two held him by the shoulders to support him, others cut the iron away in pieces with shears. Then Enshersch collapsed and was taken to the Allegheny hospital. His home is at 821 Rebecca street.

They are the outgrowth of exhausted nerve force, and as the heart cannot stop to rest, as do other organs, it must continue until completely disabled, and —that's the end.

On the very first indication of heart weakness, you can stop all progress and effect a cure by the use of

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

It feeds, strengthens and builds up the nerves and muscles of the heart.

NO WOMEN KILLED AT CLOSE RANGE

Ide Punctures Sensations on Dajo Battle and Scott Gives History of Brigands.

WOOD'S COURSE NECESSARY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Secretary Taft today made public a cablegram from Governor General Ide at Manila and a statement from Maj. Hugh L. Scott regarding the Mount Dajo battle and the brigand Moros. Following is the cablegram from Governor General Ide:

> Newspaper reports from Manila announcing wanton slaughter of women and children at Mount Dajo extremely sensational and in all essential details false. The situation occupied by Moro outlaws on the crater of the volcano 2,100 feet high was exceedingly difficult and required great display of heroism on the part of the army, navy, and Filipino and Moro constabulary, who rendered most valuable service. Some women and children were killed or wounded by preliminary shelling at a distance. Moros were outlaws and fanatics and refused to surrender to the last, attempting repeatedly to murder our forces who were rescuing wounded Moros. Moro sultan and leading dattos rendered great assistance and the surrounding population is in great sympathy with the course taken to remove the gang of cut-throats who were preying upon the community, retreating as occasion required, to what they supposed to be impenetrable fastnesses. There was no killing of anyone except such as was indispensible to end intolerable situation. Attack not ordered until every resource looking to possible adjustment exhausted. Troops and officers deserving of highest praise.

Scott's History of the Trouble.

Maj. Hugh L. Scott, who was governor general of the Moro provinces just preceding the Mount Dajo engagement, furnished an exposition of the modes of warfare of those people, and a history of the troubles in Jolo. His statement contained the following:

> The recent trouble in Jolo had its beginning over a year ago when a Sulu Moro by the name of Pala ran amuck in the streets of Lahud, Dato, British North Borneo, and ran away after killing and wounding 26 people. He returned to his cotta on the south side of the Sulu islands about 15 miles from Jolo. An attempt was made to arrest Pala by surprise. His cottage was taken and destroyed, but he escaped in the jungle. He had many sympathizers, relatives and friends in various parts of the island; among others the people settled about Mount Dajo, who fired upon the American troops and depredated upon friendly Moros in the neighborhood. Gen. Wood came down with troops from Mindanao (the Seventeenth infantry was about to leave for the United States and had become depleted in numbers), to surround Pala's jungle and arrest him. He was fired upon on the way to Pala's jungle in the Tambang pass by the Dajo people. One soldier and several Moros were killed. Many of the Dajo people then ran up on Mount Dajo and began fortifying themselves. The troops went on, fought Pala, who would not surrender, and killed him. They then went on to Tando Looc where another band of sympathizers, who had been depredating upon friendly Moros, were fortified in a crater on a mountain about 25 miles from Jolo. The chief of this band was induced to surrender without a fight to the commander of the force and gave up his guns.

Was Another Outbreak.

> Upon the return of Gen. Wood to Jolo. it was considered that the ringleaders were dead and the Moros had been punished enough, and the expedition disbanded. It was soon discovered that Dajo fugitives from the Tambang fight were on top of Mount Dajo. These for a time were controlled by Datto Joakanin, but got beyond his control and preyed on other Moros. They had to be subdued to preserve law and order in Jolo. The policy of Gen. Wood in that archipelago has always been to bring about peace and order as gently and with as little loss of life as possible.

Maj. Scott then gives a history of the peaceful subjugation of other bands by Gen. Wood and continues:

> It is not conceivable that this policy of humanity carried out in every case in the past two years and a half should now have been changed, especially as Gen. Wood was there in person and no one would take more trouble to avoid unnecessary bloodshed than he.
>
> Mount Dajo is very steep and difficult to climb under most favorable circumstances, and to climb it successfully under fire is undoubtedly a most gallant feat of arms, and unless great skill had been used many more lives would have been lost among the troops.

EXECUTION OF SCHMIDT AROUSES SAILORS' ANGER

Mutiny and Capture of Naval Officers Followed by the Burning of Sebastopol According to Reports Received in St. Petersburg.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 20.—Most sensational reports are current tonight that the execution of former Lieut. Schmidt, which has made a deep impression throughout Russia, has been followed by an extensive mutiny of sailors at Sebastopol, the massacre of their officers and firing by the fortress upon the city. The truth of the story is doubted, this being the "psychological moment" for the appearance of such wild reports. No press dispatches confirming the story have been received, but this might be accounted for by the imposition of a censorship.

The alleged news came in the form of two cipher telegrams to a prominent member of the social revolutionary party, such as the revolutionaries have sometimes been able to transmit through accomplices in the telegraph offices when the public, and even the government has been unable to communicate.

The telegrams say that the sailors, infuriated by the refusal of Emperor Nicholas to pardon Lieut. Schmidt, and their fellow sailors, rose in their barracks and seized and imprisoned the majority of their officers. The dispatches add that the city of Sebastopol is almost entirely in flames.

It is also stated that a student at the technological institute has received a similar telegram.

The admiralty affects ignorance of the occurrance of any such affair. The papers, in view of the menace of the new press law which provides that they may be closed up for spreading false reports affecting the army or navy are afraid to take chances by publishing the story tomorrow.

KUROPATKIN BLAMES OPPRESSION FOR DEFEAT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 20.—Gen. Kuropatkin's last order of the day to the first Manchurian army, printed in the Russky Invalid (the military organ) today, shows that the Russian defeats in the war with Japan were due to lack of preparation and equipment, and to the fact that there were no explosive shells for the mountain artillery, etc., in the early stages of the war. He does not shirk his own responsibility as minister of war before the war broke out, but points out that the causes of the defeats were deeper, namely, the morale of the troops and of the officers who did not display initiative, independence or enthusiasm in spite of the iron nerves and heroic spirits of the soldiers.

All this, the general boldly announces, is attributable to the oppression of bureaucratic rule during the last 50 years, which in the case of the officers drove men of independence from the service, leaving only worthless drones. He congratulated the troops on the advent of liberty and hope for the regeneration of the people.

Gen. Kuropatkin gives the entire losses of the first Manchurian army, which averages a strength of 100,000 men and 2,200 officers, as 295 officers killed and 1,733 wounded, and 10,436 men killed and 56,350 wounded, and concludes with expressing the opinion that the army should be so strengthened in time of peace that victory will be certain in time of war.

ST. PATRICK'S SONS MEET.

They Spend a "Night in Ireland" in Rooms of Irish Club.

"A Night in Ireland" was the title of an evening of entertainment at the rooms of the Irish club last night by the Pittsburgh Sons of St. Patrick. This is an organization of members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians whose name is Patrick. Speeches were delivered and refreshments were served.

The Pittsburgh Sons of St. Patrick usually observe St. Patrick's day with a banquet, but in deference to entertainments given on that day by societies with which the Patricks are affiliated the celebration was postponed until last night.

Fire Wrecks a Landmark.

An old landmark for Iron City park was damaged $500 by fire yesterday. It was the old frame house at Thirty-eighth street and Howley avenue, owned by the Denny estate, and for the past 30 years one of the boundaries for the park. The building will have to be torn down.

PERIOD NOT SO BLACK AS SO OFTEN PAINTED

Dr. James J. Walsh of New York Delivers an Eloquent Lecture on Thirteenth Century.

One of the most interesting lectures delivered under the auspices of the Catholic Truth society was the one by Dr. James J. Walsh of New York, at the Conservatory of Music, last night. The Catholic Truth society is engaged in the propaganda of the truth about the Catholic church, especially the truth about the middle ages. It probably admits that the middle ages had their faults, but that these are not so black as ordinarily painted; that the human intelligence, learning, piety and morality were at least as great then as now; that the term "dark ages" is a mishomer.

Dr. Walsh's subject was "The Thirteenth—the Greatest of All Centuries." The lecturer was introduced by John T. Comes, president of the society. He showed that the art of architecture was splendidly developed in that period, as witnessed by the building of the great Gothic cathedrals and castles and palaces of that age; he showed, by the example of Thomas of Aquinas, and of Roger Bacon, that the human intellect was active in scholastic and practical and scientific matters. Every cathedral, and there are 20 in England alone, was a sort of technical school of the period, where the arts and handicrafts were taught and practiced. He referred to the famous cope of Ascoli, recently returned to the Italian government by J. P. Morgan, as the most beautiful example of needlework known; to the stained glass windows of that day, not equaled in modern times.

In educational matters, Dr. Walsh said, the thirteenth century loomed up grandly. In New York today, he said, there were 9,000 to 12,000 university students; in little Paris of the thirteenth century there were 6,000. Even in those days Thomas of Aquinas anticipated the theory of the indestructibility of matter, heralded as a nineteenth century discovery; Roger Bacon discovered gunpowder and made the world marvel at his scientific attainments.

In the thirteenth century, the lecturer said, was laid the foundation of the liberties enjoyed by the English speaking peoples, for in that century the Magna Charta was wrung from autocracy and the first parliament met.

BARCHFELD MAKES STRONG APPEAL

Pittsburgh Congressman Urges Consideration of Personal Liberty.

AGAINST PROHIBITION BILL

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Representative A. J. Barchfeld today appeared before the house committee on judiciary to argue against a favorable report on the Hepburn-Dolliver bill, which makes more stringent the laws affecting the liquor traffic in prohibition territory and prevents the consignment of original packages to unknown persons. He said in part:

> I desire to speak in opposition to the Hepburn-Dolliver bill as a representative in congress and on behalf of the National German-American Alliance of the United States, the Germans and the descendants of Germans in the United States, who number twelve million souls. The Germans are a liberty-loving, independent, economical, patriotic people, and above all things abhor anything that savors of hypocrisy or deceit. The Germans favor the use of beer and wine as a beverage and abhor the use of strong drinks, particularly whisky.
>
> In my own city of Pittsburgh, our mortality from typhoid fever is one-half that of the greater New York with 12 times the population, and equal to that of Chicago, with six times the population. One gentleman appearing before you said there should be a law requiring all prohibitionists to drink water for five days. He thought that might be a cure for prohibition legislation. I know that if they were compelled to drink the water supplied by the city of my birth that it would successfully end all prohibition agitation and all prohibitionists, for they would surely die. I must add that Pittsburgh is now constructing a $7,000,000 filtration plant.
>
> When a man drinks beer he is at least getting boiled and filtered water. We pride ourselves on the fact that we are a libety-loving people, but this piece of legislation is anything but the embodiment of that sentiment. The trouble with our country and its free institutions is that we have too much legislation now that is affecting the personal liberty of the people living in this supposed free land of ours. Dozens of members of congress have told me much as they are opposed to this measure, if the bill comes up on the floor of the house they will be constrained to vote for it for fear of the wrath of the prohibition element.
>
> All we ask is to be permitted to live our lives and pursue happiness in whatever manner we individually please so long as we do not trample the same right inherent in our fellow-man.

CHURCH SITE IS WANTED.

Manchester Presbyterian Congregation Seeking Location for a New House of Worship.

The congregation of the Manchester Presbyterian church of Allegheny is hunting for a new home. The congregation is about to sell its present house of worship. Lots owned by the church in Locust street are not considered suitable for the proposed new edifice, and they will be sold and the proceeds applied to the purchase of another site. The present church structure is to be sold to the Lithuanian congregation if the price offered is acceptable to the members of the church.

The congregation will hold a meeting next Tuesday night to reach a decision. Until the new church is built the Manchester Presbyterian congregation will worship in Washington hall, Beaver avenue and Washington street.

Mrs Fiske Next Week.

During Mrs. Fiske's appearance at the Belasco next week her last appearance in "Leah Kleschna" will be given, as next season she will make a new production. The repertoire for this engagement will be as follows: "Leah Kleschna," Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee; "Hedda Gabler," Wednesday evening only; a triple bill, consisting of "A Light from St. Agnes" and "The Eyes of the Heart," by Mrs. Fiske, and a one-act play by John Luther Long, entitled "Dolce," Friday evening.

ADAMS HAS HARD TIME REMEMBERING THINGS

Secretary of Waters-Pierce Oil Co. Unable to Answer Number of Hadley's Questions.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, March 20.—The second day's session of the oil hearing in the ouster case of Missouri, against the Standard, Republic and Waters-Pierce Oil companies was marked by the failure of H. Clay Pierce to appear as a witness and the sworn testimony of Dr. Bond, his physician, that Mr. Pierce was threatened with pneumonia and unable to leave his room, and the severe cross examination of Charles M. Adams, secretary and treasurer of the Waters-Pierce company, who was again on the stand occupied most of the day with his testimony. Stock certificates were produced and read to show that the Standard company held stock in the Waters-Pierce company in 1900, when that company was reorganized.

Attorney General Hadley today telegraphed to Secretary of of State Swanger at Jefferson City, asking him not to permit the Republic Oil Company to withdraw from continuing business in Missouri, as such a course, if permitted, would defeat the purpose of the investigation. Mr. Hadley explained that during the taking of testimony in Cleveland recently he received an intimation that there might be a shifting of oil interests in Missouri, and that he had immediately written Secretary of State Swanger along that line, requesting that particular care be taken that this should not be allowed.

Mr. Adams was questioned closely regarding the ownership of Waters-Pierce stock. He failed, however, in nearly every instance to answer the questions asked, maintaining that he was unable to recall the incidents or information desired. He declared he remembered nothing regarding the ownership of the Waters-Pierce stock prior to May 29, 1900 theh date of the reorganization of the company.

MISSION WORKERS MEET.

Addresses Made by Pastors of Christian Churches from Other Cities.

The annual convention of the Home Mission societies of the Christian churches of Western Pennsylvania was held yesterday, and attended by about 300 delegates.

The principal address was made by the Rev. J. M. Wright of Cincinnati, secretary of the national board of home missions. Other addresses were made by the Revs. William Pinkerton, Paducah, Ky.; J. G. Slater, Pittsburgh; W. D. Wells, Wilkinsburg; H. L. Atkinson, California, Pa.; J. F. Tucher, Pittsburgh; W. O. Riley, Lone Pine, Pa.; Howard Cramboldt, McKeesport; G. E. Pike, Allegheny, and J. B. Smith, Monessen.

Change in a Realty Concern.

The Home Trust Company, requiring more room for their banking department, have sold to William M. Cooper their real estate department, which formerly occupied half of the ground floor. Mr. Cooper has been in charge of this department since its inception, and he will continue the business in offices in the Home Trust building. The banking department of the Home Trust Company has had a phenomenal growth and the real estate department having been very profitable, they were reluctantly forced to do away with this branch, in order to make room for their increased banking business. The sale takes effect April 1.

Woman Shoots; Scares Burglar.

Alone in the house with her two children when she discovered a man trying to force a parlor window late Monday night, Mrs. James McAfee, of Highland avenue, Oakdale, secured a revolver and by a plucky bit of gunplay put the would-be intruder to flight. She fired three times from an upstairs window at the man, but did not hit him. The McAfee residence is in a lonely place and robberies have been numerous lately in the vicinity.

Institute Convenes.

The twelfth annual institute of the Sunday schools of the Reformed Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh presbytery convened last evening in the Eighth Street church with the Rev. F. M. Wilson presiding. Addresses were made by H. E. Carmack on "The Equipment of the Teacher," and by the Rev. R. H. Martin on "The Needs of the Sabbath School." The institute will continue in session this morning and afternoon.

SPECIAL MEETING MAY BE THE LAST

Common Council Is Called for Friday Night—Regular Sessions on Monday.

MAYOR TALKS OF INAUGURAL

A special meeting of common council has been called for Friday night. It may be the last session of that branch during the remainder of the present term of councils, which expires on April 2.

The meeting of common council on Friday night is called to receive the reports from the finance and public works committees. From the finance committee will be received the resolution for the payment of bills for the entertainment of the committee from congress which came to investigate the postal facilities and needs. There are several other bills to be reported by the finance committee.

The public works committee will also report a number of bills. The ordinance authorizing contracts for street repaving amounting to $142,300 was held up in the public works committee and will probably die there. The ordinance was held up because Director Bigelow had asked that a portion of the appropriation for street repaving for 1906 be transferred to pay street repaving bills for last year. Resolutions making the transfers were also held up in the finance committee.

Hays Would Ride With Guthrie.

When common council adjourns Friday night it is expected that all business before that body will have been transacted and the desk cleared for the new councils. The bills passed by common will be messaged to select council at its last regular meeting next Monday afternoon. Although the last regular meeting of common council is scheduled for next Monday night, there will be no necessity for it to meet unless select council acts on the Duquesne Light Company repealer Monday afternoon. A number of councilmen are favorable to the passage of the repealer, but there is some doubt about it passing in select, where the friends of the company are the most numerous.

Unless the light repealer gets through the select branch the last days of the expiring councils will be mild. The councils will go out of power at noon, April 2, and at that hour the new councils will succeed them. At 12 o'clock noon on April 2 the new councils will organize and swear in the new mayor. Some of the friends of the new mayor want to imitate the presidential style and hold a public inaugural, preceded by a parade, but they have not yet obtained the consent of Mr. Guthrie. Mayor Hays was inducted into office quietly in the private room of the mayor's office, being sworn in by a notary public.

Fail to Persuade Guthrie.

"I do not like a show," said Mayor Hays yesterday, "but if Mr. Guthrie wants to have a parade and public inaugural I am willing to ride with him in a carriage."

Controller Larkin, W. H. Stevenson, Director James W. Clark and others have failed in their efforts to induce Mayor-elect Guthrie to take part in the organization of the new councils. They have been laboring with the mayor-elect to convince him of the advisability of having the select branch amenable to the administration, but Mr. Guthrie, it is stated by one of those who has been trying to persuade him, emphatically refuses to interfere, directly or indirectly, in the organization of either branch of councils.

It is generally conceded that the Republicans will organize both branches, and that Dr. Walters will be elected to preside over select and William Brand over common. With those two offices practically out of the way the two clerkships and the standing committees remain to be disposed of. It is stated that Charles Stewart, who is a candidate for president of select, would be satisfied with certain committee appointments, and he is expected to withdraw before April 2.

Want Free Delivery in Crafton.

Crafton council last night instructed the president to appoint a committee of citizens and councilmen to urge Congressman Barchfeld to try to get free delivery for the town. Ingram and Sheraden have been requested to co-operate with Crafton.

Negotiations were completed yesterday whereby the Homewood Peoples bank, Homewood avenue, purchased the Bank of Brushton, Brushton avenue, and will take immediate possession of the latter institution. The effects of the Brushton bank were moved into the building of the Homewood bank last evening and the business of both institutions will be conducted under the roof of the Homewood bank, beginning this morning.

The Brushton bank, which had a capitalization of $50,000, sold its full issue of stock to the Homewood institution for $125 a share. The Homewood bank also has a capitalization of $50,000 and the capital has not as yet been increased. All the officials of the Brushton bank, with the exception of Cashier Dean Clark, will retire, while the latter will become assistant cashier of the merged institutions.

The Homewood bank recently erected a modern building for its use and is at present earning over 12 per cent on its capitalization. Officers of the bank are: Joseph R. Paull, president; John F. Baxter, vice president, and Herman F. Linnenbrink, cashier.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL MOODY CONCLUDES HIS ARGUMENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, March 20.—Attorney General Moody spoke nearly all day in the hearing of the immunity pleas advanced by the packers, concluding his argument just in time to allow him to take a train for Washington. Late in the afternoon Attorney General Moody referred to the letter written by President Roosevelt to the attorney general, which was placed in the record of the case by the attorneys for the packers.

Attorney General Moody referred sharply by name to Rockefeller, and made allusion to the avoidance of subpoenas. The sarcasm of the attorney general brought out much laughter. Bailiffs had trouble in restoring quiet in the court room.

He declared with considerable sarcasm that the pleas of the packers were not well founded, and that they could not be entitled to immunity because they had given their evidence of their own free will, and had not been placed on oath, nor subjected to compulsion of any kind.

Attorney Miller for the defendants made a brief reply to the attorney general before court adjourned for the day. He will continue his argument throughout the first session of court tomorrow and perhaps longer.

IS SHOWERED WITH EGGS.

Poles Take Desperate Means to Rescue Prisoner from Constable.

When Constable A. L. Leibold went to arrest Nicholas Minick at a Polish boarding house in lower Allegheny, last night, he was received with a shower of eggs and cut by several knives in the hands of Minick's friends. Minick was finally committed to jail on a charge of cheating and defrauding his creditors, on information of Louis Stert before Justice Butz of Ben Avon.

Rody Konisk was later arrested and taken to jail on a charge of disorderly conduct. Konisk was one of the principals in assaulting Constable Leibold.

Peacemaker Suffers Broken Jaw.

That the way of the peacemaker is hard was again demonstrated last night when Frank Kopera, a bartender, of 1737 McCauslin street, Allegheny, in attempting to separate two combatants in the saloon of his employer, Thomas Hays, 1401 Penn avenue, had his jaw broken. He is now in the Allegheny General hospital.

Are the People Entitled to Know the Composition of Remedies?

There is one man who stands out honestly and squarely upon the merits of his well-known remedies. Dr. R. V. PIERCE, who is author of one of the best-known medical books, the "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," which has reached its 66th Edition, over Two Million One Hundred Thousand Copies having been printed, and who is head of one of the best Sanitariums and Surgical Institutes in the country, was the first physician to use pure, triple-refined glycerine in the preparation of his vegetable compounds instead of alcohol.

Nearly Forty Years Ago,

Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine of proper strength is a better solvent and preservative of the active medicinal principles residing in most of our indigenous or native medicinal plants than is alcohol. As its use is entirely unobjectionable, while alcohol as is well-known when used even in small portions, for a protracted period, does lasting injury to the human system, especially in the case of delicate women and children. He found that the glycerine, besides being entirely harmless, possesses intrinsic medicinal properties, of great value. Its nutritive properties, Dr. Pierce believes, far surpass those of cod-liver oil, entitling it to favorable consideration in all cases of incipient consumption, especially when it is combined with the active medicinal principles extracted from Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Stone root, Golden Seal root and Bloodroot, as in his ready put-up medicine the "Golden Medical Discovery." Besides its superior nutritive properties, glycerine is a very valuable demulcent and thereby greatly enhances the remedial action of all the foregoing roots in the cure of severe coughs, bronchial, throat, laryngeal and other kindred affections of the air-passages and lungs. In all "wasting diseases," where there is loss of flesh and gradual "running-down" of the system, the glycerine certainly plays an important part in lessening the breaking-down and wasting of tissue, and in promoting assimilation and increase of bodily weight. It is, in Dr. Pierce's estimation, a powerful reconstructive agent in all cases of impaired vitality and especially valuable when associated and combined with such superior alteratives and tonics as in "Golden Medical Discovery." Its wonderful solvent properties also play an important part in the cure of gall-stones, severe constipation, with dry and almost impacted stools. Glycerine is also one of the very best anti-ferments and as such counteracts the excessive fermentation of foods in the stomach, present in most cases of indigestion or dyspepsia. Thus the pain, belching of noxious gas, bloating and other disagreeable symptoms are overcome and the Stone root, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot and other ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery" are greatly assisted in their action in completing a cure. As will be seen from the writings of Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and other high authorities, these agents can confidently be depended upon for the most positive, curative action in all atonic, or weak, states of the stomach, accompanied with distressing indigestion or dyspepsia. Read from the writings of the authorities quoted, under headings of Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Queen's root and Mandrake root and you will find that all these ingredients are recommended as remedies for indigestion or dyspepsia. All are ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery," combined in such porportions that each enhances the curative action of all the others.

GOLDEN SEAL ROOT

(Hydrastis).

Professor Roberts Bartholow, M. D., was the first of the old school of medicine to publicly recommend (in 1887) Hydrastis—or Golden Seal root. At that time Dr. Pierce had used this preparation as a principal ingredient in his "Golden Medical Discovery" for over twenty years. Since then Hydrastis has become of National reputation as a remedy for mucous membrane diseases, especially in throat ailments and in inflammatory conditions of the lining membranes.

GOLDEN SEAL ROOT

(Hydrastis Canadensis).

Dr. Roberts Bartholow, Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, a recognized authority on Materia Medica and Therapeutics, says of Hydrastis (Golden Seal): "Very useful as a stomachic tonic (stomach tonic) and in atonic dyspepsia. Cures gastric catarrh (catarrh of stomach) and headaches accompanying same. In catarrh of the gall duct and jaundice, it is of especial utility. Constipation, dependent upon different deficient secretions, with hard and dry stools, may be overcome by the remedy. Chronic catarrh of the intestines, even if it has proceeded to ulceration, is remarkably benefited by Hydrastis."

From "Organic Medicines," by Grover Coe, M. D., of New York, we extract the following: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal) exercises an especial influence over mucous surfaces. Upon the liver it acts with equal certainty and efficacy. As a cholagogne (liver invigorator), it has few equals. In affections of the spleen, and abdominal viscera generally, it is an efficient and reliable remedy. Also in scrofula, glandular diseases generally, cutaneous eruptions, indigestion, debility, diarrhœa and dysentery, constipation, piles and all morbid and critical discharges."

QUEEN'S ROOT

(Stillingia Sylvatica).

Prof. John King, M. D., says: "An alterative (blood-purifier) unsurpassed by few if any other of the known alteratives; most successful in skin and scrofulous affections. Beneficial in bronchial affections — permanently cures bronchitis—relieves irritations—an important cough remedy—coughs of years' standing being cured. Aids in blood-making and nutrition, and may be taken without harm for long periods."

R. Bartholow, M. D., L. L. D., says: "Stillingia has long been in repute as an alterative and employed for scrofula in its various forms. Most satisfactory results have been obtained from its use in syphilitic affections. Recommended in habitual constipation, torpidity of liver, jaundice, piles, ascites (dropsy), due to hepatic (liver) changes or obstructions."

STONE ROOT (Collinsonia Canadensis).

"Alterative, tonic, stimulant. Valuable in laryngitis—'ministers' sore throat.' In diseases of stomach and intestines—improves appetite, promotes flow of gastric juice; tonic effect upon organs involved. A good remedy in indigestion, dyspepsia, chronic gastritis, increasing the secretion from kidneys and skin."—American Dispensatory.

"There is no doubt of Collinsonia's action on the urinary organs. It has cured disorders supposed to be due to gravel, catarrh of the bladder and dropsy from deficient action of the kidneys. Cures irritation of the cardiac (heart) nerves, with rapid, regular or irregular beating. Useful in valvular diseases."—Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Prof. Materia Medica in Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago.

Wm. Paine, M. D., Author of Paine's Epitome of Medicine, New School Practice of Medicine and of the Medical Properties and uses of Concentrated Medicines, writing of Collinsonin (the active medicinal principle residing in Collinsonia Canadensis, or Stone root), says: "I, not long since, had a patient who was so much oppressed with a valvular disease of the heart that his friends were obliged to carry him up-stairs. He, however, gradually recovered under the influence of Collinsonin, and is now attending to his buisness. Heretofore physicians knew of no remedy for the removal of so distressing and so dangerous a malady. With them it was all guess-work, and it fearfully warned the afflicted that death was near at hand. Collinsonin unquestionably affords relief in such cases, and in most instances effects a cure." He further says: "In a case of persistent ascites (dropsy), where the ordinary remedies fail to afford anything more than a temporary relief, Collinsonin produced a permanent cure."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., in his treatise entitled "Specific Medication," says: "Collinsonia (Stone root), is a specific in 'ministers' sore throat' (chronic laryngitis)." He continues: "It proves beneficial in other cases of chronic laryngitis, in chronic bronchitis and phthisis (consumption), allaying irritation and checking cough. It also exerts a favorable influence upon the digestive processes, improving the appetite, facilitating digestion and acting as a general tonic. It passes off through the kidneys and exerts a tonic influence upon the entire extent of the urinary tract. I regard it as one of the most direct and valuable agents of the Materia Medica and one that will give satisfaction to whoever employs it."

The above are strong endorsements of one of the most valuable ingredients contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," viz., Collinsonia, or Stone root. Its virtues, however are not overextolled, as we can attest from our experience and observation in watching the beneficial action of the "Discovery" in heart affections, laryngitis, bronchitis, incipient consumption and other ailments noted above.

"Collinsonia stimulates the stomach, acts as a tonic to enfeebled muscular structure of the heart and has a direct influence upon atonic (weak) and dilated or otherwise impaired conditions of the veins. It is a specific remedy in piles. In catarrhal gastritis, where the circulation is defective, it, either alone or combined with hydrastis, is of first importance. They increase the appetite and greatly improve the digestion and assimilation of food. Good for rectal pains and piles of the pregnant woman. Is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence. Excellent in the bicycle heart, in rheumatic inflammation and clergyman's sore throat."—F. Ellingwood, M. D.

REMARKS. We can not refrain, at this point, from calling attention to the wonderfully beneficial effects produced by Stone root in valvular and other diseases of the heart, as described by Drs. Paine, Hale and Ellingwood. The latter, it will be noted, says of it, "is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence." He especially recommends it for the so-called "bicycle heart" or, in other words, for all those cases of irregular heart action caused by over exertion. The wonderful regulating and strengthening effect produced upon the heart by "Golden Medical Discovery" is accounted for by the presence in it of the active medicinal principle of Stone root, and is also partly to be credited to the Golden Seal root contained in it. The Golden Seal root is a most valuable heart tonic, and in fact exerts a tonic effect upon all of the muscular tissues of the system, and, naturally it follows that the heart, being mostly composed of muscular tissue, is favorably affected and strengthened thereby.

BLACK CHERRYBARK (Prunus Virginiana).

Roberts Bartholow says: "Wild Cherrybark is an excellent stomach tonic; it has long been held in great esteem in domestic practice as a remedy in catarrhal states of the bronchial mucous membrane and in phthisis (consumption)." "The sirup is much used as an ingredient in cough mixtures."

"The tonic influence of this agent is more markedly apparent when it is administered in disease of the respiratory apparatus (breathing organs) of a subacute (mild) or (lingering) chronic character. A common remedy for chronic coughs, the cough of nervous patients without apparent cause; is popular in the treatment of mild cases of palpitation. Palpitation from disturbed condition of the stomach is directly relieved by it."—F. Ellingwood, M. D.

BLOODROOT (Sanguinaria Canadensis).

"Stimulates digestive organs, increases action of heart and arteries—stimulant and tonic. Very valuable as a cough remedy—acts as a sedative—further valuable as an alterative."—American Dispensatory.

"Overcomes congestion of the lungs, after severe cold in the chest from exposure. Given in bronchial coughs, in membraneous croup. It equalizes the circulation of the entire system, inducing warmth in the skin and in the extremities. It will assist in overcoming hepatization (solidification) of lung structure and restoring normal tone and normal functional action."—F. Ellingwood, M. D.

"Has most frequently been employed in incipient phthisis, bronchitis, influenza, pneumonia, croup, asthma, diphtheria, in scarlatina, dyspnœa (short breath), dyspepsia, hydrothorax (dropsy of the chest) and jaundice."—Edwin M. Hale, M. D.

"Its most important therepeutical effects are witnessed in diseases of the respiratory (breathing) organs. Used in croup, in functional amenorrhœa (absence of menses), chronic nasal catarrh and nasal polypi."—R. Bartholow, M. D.

MANDRAKE ROOT (Podophyllum Peltatum).

"Certain, sure cathartic; leaves bowels in improved condition. A gentle stimulant tonic; improves the appetite. Particularly valuable in dyspepsia, gastric and intestinal catarrh. Beneficial in some affections of bladder."—American Dispensatory.

"Recommended in biliousness with marked inactivity of the liver, sallow skin and conjunctiva (eyes), constipation, dry stools and bloated bowels, highly colored urine containing uric acid, or urates in great excess. Is given in jaundice, gall-stones, piles; is an alterative in plethoric (full blooded) conditions, in skin diseases and in scrofula and syphilis."—F. Ellingwood, M. D.

IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE

BY EMILE GABORIAU

Author of "THE MYSTERY OF ORCIVAL," "FILE NO. 113," Etc.

"I confess I should be very glad to do so."

"Come with me, then," she replied, leading him into the garden, where Cocoleu was seated on the ground, playing with the gravel. He had doffed the rags with which he was clothed when he was admitted, and wore the regular hospital dress, including the long gray coat and cotton cap. He did not look any more intelligent for the change, but at all events, he was less repulsive.

"Well, my boy," asked M. Galpin, "how do you like this?"

He raised his inane face, and fixed his dull eye on the lady superior; still he made no reply.

"Would you like to go back to Valpinson?" asked the magistrate this time.

Cocoleu shuddered, but did not open his lips.

"Look here," said M. Galpin, "answer me, and I'll give you a franc." No; Cocoleu would not answer. He was at his play again.

"That is his usual way," declared the lady superior. "Since he is here, no one has ever got a word out of him. Promises, threats, nothing has any effect. One day I thought I would try an experiment; and, instead of letting him have his breakfast, I said to him, 'You shall have nothing to eat till you say, "I am hungry."' At the end of 24 hours I had to give him his pittance; for he would have starved himself sooner than utter a word."

"What does Dr. Seignebos think of him?"

"The doctor does not want to hear his name mentioned," replied the lady superior. And, raising her eyes to heaven, she added—"And that is a clear proof, that, but for the direct intervention of Providence, the poor creature would never have denounced the crime he witnessed." Immediately, however, she turned to earthly things, and asked—"But will you not relieve us soon of this poor idiot, who is a heavy charge on the hospital? Why not send him back to his village, where he found his support before? We have such a number of sick and poor, and very little room."

"We must wait, sister, till M. de Boiscoran's trial is finished," replied the magistrate.

The lady superior looked resigned. "That is what the mayor told me," she remarked, "and it is very provoking, I must say; however, they have allowed me to turn him out of the room which they gave him at first, and I have sent him to the insane ward."

At this moment she was interrupted by the hospital porter who, cap in hand, came to announce that a gendarme had just arrived with a patient sent by Dr. Seignebos.

"Epileptic, and somewhat idiotic," said the lady superior, reading the order for admission. "As if we wanted any more! And a stranger into the bargain! Really, Dr. Seignebos is too yielding. Why does he not send all these people to their own parish to be taken care of!" So saying, and, with a very elastic step for her age, she went to the hospital parlor, followed by M. Galpin and the janitor. There sat the new patient, looking the picture of utter idiocy. Giving him a glance, the lady superior hastily ordered his removal to the insane ward, saying that he could keep Cocoleu company. Then asking M. Galpin-Daveline to excuse her, she took herself off to attend to her usual avocations.

The investigating magistrate felt somewhat reassured. "There is no danger here," he said to himself, as he walked away. "And, if M. Folgat counts upon any incident during the trial, Cocoleu, at all events, will not provide it."

CHAPTER XXVI.

At this very same moment, Dr. Seignebos and M. Folgat, having partaken of a frugal breakfast, were shaking hands prior to separating, the one having to visit his patients, and the other to go to the prison. The young advocate was very perplexed. He hung his head as he went down the street; and the diplomatic citizens who compared his dejected appearance with M. Galpin's victorious air, came to the conclusion that Jacques de Boiscoran was irrevocably lost. M. Folgat was for the time almost of their opinion. He was passing through one of those attacks of discouragement, to which the most energetic men succumb at times, when they are bent upon pusuing an uncertain end which they ardently desire.

The declarations made by little Martha and the governess had literally overwhelmed the young advocate. Just when he thought he had the end of the thread in his hand, the tangle had become worse than ever. And so it had been from the commencement. At each step he took the problem had become more complicated than ever. At each effort he made, the darkness, instead of being dispelled, had grown deeper. Not that he as yet doubted Jacques' innocence. No! The suspicion which for a moment had flashed through his mind had passed away instantly. He admitted, with Dr. Seignebos, the possibility that there was an accomplice, and that it was Cocoleu, in all probability, who had been charged with the execution of the crime. But how could that fact be made useful to the defense? He saw no way. Of course Goudar was an able fellow, and the manner in which he had introduced himself into the hospital was masterly in the extreme. But however cunning he was, however experienced in all the tricks of his profession, how could he ever hope to extort confession from a man who intrenched himself behind the rampart of feigned imbecility? If he had only had an abundance of time before him! But the days were counted, and he would have to precipitate the finish.

"I feel like giving it up," thought the young lawyer, who, while following his train of thought had reached the prison. He felt the necessity of concealing his anxiety, and while Blangin went before him through the long passage, rattling his keys, he endeavored to impart an expression of hopeful confidence to his countenance.

"At last you come!" cried Jacques. The latter had evidently suffered considerable anxiety during the last few hours. Feverish restlessness had distorted his features, and rendered his eyes bloodshot; and he shook all over with nervous tremor. Still he waited till the jailer had shut the door; and then asked, in an agitated voice: "What did she say?"

M. Folgat gave him a minute account of his mission, quoting the countess' words almost literally.

"That is just like her!" exclaimed the prisoner. "I think I can hear her! What a woman! To defy me in this way!" And in his anger he clinched his fists so closely that his fingernails almost pierced his flesh.

"You see," said the young advocate, "there is no use in trying to get outside of our circle of defense. Any new effort would be useless."

"No!" replied Jacques. "No, I shall not stop there!" And after a few moments' reflection—if he can be said to have been able to reflect, he added. "I hope you will pardon me, my dear sir, for having exposed you to such insults. I ought to have foreseen this result, or, rather, I did foresee it. I knew that was not the way to begin the battle. But I was a coward. I was afraid, I drew back, fool that I was. As if I had not known that we should at any rate have to proceed to the last extremity! Well, I am ready now, my mind is made up!"

"What do you mean to do?"

"I shall go and see the Countess de Claudieuse. I shall tell her——"

"Oh!"

"You do not think she will deny it to my face? When once I have her under my eye, I shall make her confess the crime of which I am accused."

M. Folgat had promised Dr. Seignebos not to mention what Martha and her governess had said; but he felt no longer bound to conceal these statements. "And if the countess should not be guilty?" he asked.

"Who, then, could be guilty?"

"If she had an accomplice?"

"Well, she will tell me who it was. I will insist upon it, I will make her tell me. I will not be disgraced. I am innocent; I will not go to the galleys!"

To try and make Jacques listen to reason, would have been madness at that moment. "Have a care," said the young lawyer, however. "Our defense is difficult enough already; do not make it still more so!"

"I shall be careful."

"A scene might ruin us irrevocably."

"Don't be afraid."

M. Folgat said nothing more. He thought he could guess by what means Jacques would try to get out of prison. Still he did not ask him for details. In his position it was his duty to ignore, or at any rate to seem to ignore certain things.

"Now, my dear sir," said the prisoner, "will you render me a service? Will you tell me as accurately as possible, how the house in which the countess lives is arranged?"

Without saying a word, M. Folgat produced a sheet of paper, and drew on it a plan of the house as far as he knew it—including the garden, the entrance-hall, and the sitting room.

"And the count's room," asked Jacques, "where is that?"

"On the upper floor."

"You are sure he cannot get up?"

"Dr. Seignebos told me so."

The prisoner seemed delighted. "Then all is right," he said, "and I have only to ask you to tell Denise that I must see her today, as soon as possible. I wish her to come with one of her aunts only. And, I beseech you, make haste."

(To be Continued Tomorrow.)

JUDGE M'CLUNG TO STOP LAWLESSNESS

Court Severe With All Applicants Who Disobeyed Rules of Last License Court.

Judge McClung in license court yesterday finished the Eighth ward and heard two applicants in the Ninth. He announced that the hearings today will not go beyond the Fifteenth ward.

Judging from the remarks of the court considerable trouble appears to be in store for those who during the past year failed to observe the rules as laid down by the last license court. It is the general opinion that the court means to stop lawlessness in places where liquor is sold, especially in saloons where the proprietors are negroes.

Attorney George E. Shaw, representing Thomas K. Lysinger, who wants a license for the "White Dog" in the Farmers bank building, handed the court a letter agreeing to close the Oliver avenue entrance if a license was granted. The church people, while not wishing to see any licenses granted, are satisfied with the agreement as long as licenses must be granted to downtown places.

J. B. Boyer of the Hotel Boyer appeared without an attorney, and Judge McClung showed his dissatisfaction by exclaiming: "If there is enough money in the business to make a living there is enough to pay attorneys' fees. Applicants must be properly represented. Those who do not get an attorney may consider the application abandoned."

In the application of John Brown, colored, of 805 Wylie avenue, nude pictures were objected to, and the court made it plain that this class of subjects must be removed from bar rooms.

During the hearing of Rudolph Sauermilch the court made it known that it was the duty of saloonkeepers to find out where drunken men get their drinks.

L. I. Sablodowsky of 1013 Fifth avenue and 149 Washington street, apparently had the entire audience for or against him. Mrs. Margaret Gigaro complained to the court that the applicant had sold her husband drink after she had warned him not to sell him liquor, and at times when there was not a crust of bread in the house to feed her children. Sablodowsky denied it and told a long story of threatened suits. The court said: "The whole testimony shows that the applicant admits that he was furnishing this man drinks when he knew he was a drunkard."

Walter L. Branch, colored, of 1410 Wylie avenue, faced a remonstrance charging him with putting out Emery Parker's eye because he refused to pay for drinks for friends. "I done lost me eye for 15 cents," Parker said when he explained the trouble. The court seemed to resent the fact that Branch would sell to Parker's friends and want his money, and would not sell to Parker. This is taken to indicate that the court will not tolerate a saloonkeeper taking a drunken man's money, although he may not sell him liquor.

Man Dies of His Injuries.

After being caught, torn and whirled in a flywheel at the works of the Midway Machine Company, on March 14 last, Joseph Gouldburry, a machinist, died in the West Penn hospital at 1:45 this morning. While at work one of his arms was caught in the flywheel and badly mangled. He was brought to the West Penn hospital, but refused to allow the surgeons to amputate the arm. Blood poisoning set in, from which he died.

Most's Body Is Cremated.

CINCINNATI, March 20.—The body of Johann Most was cremated in this city this afternoon. There was no religious ceremony, but some of Most's comrades delivered brief addresses before the cremation. Mrs. Most will take her husband's ashes to New York at once, and the memorial meeting is to be held there in a few days.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 11.3 feet and the river was rising.

CINCINNATI, O., March 20.—(Special.)—At 6 p. m. the Ohio river was 33.4 feet and rising. Today's departures of packets from Cincinnati were: Virginia for Pittsburgh, Henry M. Stanley for Portsmouth, Courier for Maysville and City of Louisville for Louisville. The present rise in the river extends from about the mouth of the Kanawha river to a point below Louisville. The Licking was reported to have reached a dangerous stage at Falmouth, Ky., tonight. The Kanawha fleet is preparing to come out. All of the boats in this trade will have all they can handle and will rush back with empties. Cloudy, windy and colder.

WARREN—One foot and stationary. Heavy snow and cold.

GREENSBORO—Sixteen feet 3 inches and falling. Cloudy and cold.

MARIETTA—Sixteen feet and falling. Snowing. Keystone State down 2 p. m.; Ben Hur up, 5 p. m.

MIDDLEPORT—Twenty-four feet 6 inches and rising. Up—Greenland 4:30 p. m. Down—Raymond Horner 6 a. m.; W. W. O'Neil 10:30 a. m.; Iron Age 11 a. m. Cloudy and cold.

STEUBENVILLE—Nine feet one inch and rising. Clear and cold. Queen City at 1 p. m.

LOUISVILLE—Rising. In canal 11.4; on falls 9.2; below locks 32.8. Clear and cold.

PARKERSBURG—Eighteen feet and falling. Clear and cold.

GALLIPOLIS—Twenty-eight feet and rising slowly. Weather clear and cold.

PT. PLEASANT — Twenty-three feet 7 inches and rising. Cloudy and cold. Up—Antoinette, Greenland. Down—Raymond Horner, W. W. O'Neil, Iron Age and Tacoma.

WHEELING—Nine feet 3 inches and falling. Departed—Ben Hur, Parkersburg, 7 a. m.; Keystone State, Cincinnati, 6 a. m.; Queen City, Pittsburgh, 7 a. m.; H. K. Bedford, Parkersburg, 11 a. m.

OIL CITY—One foot 3 inches and stationary. Clear and cold.

MORGANTOWN—Seventeen feet 6 inches and falling. Clear.

WILL BE NO FLOOD.

Monongahela Has Subsided and 10-Foot Stage Only Is Expected.

The cold weather effectively stopped the expected high water. There was no water at all discharged from the Allegheny, and all the flood came from the Monongahela. About half of the snow which has lain for the past few days in the mountains was melted by the recent rain, but the cold weather stopped the rain. A stage of about 10 feet is expected some time today. This is about five feet less than what would have come had not the cold snap intervened.

No tows will go out as a result of the recent rise. All the operators are saving their coal, and no tows will be taken south for any other kind of merchandise. The packet stage will probably remain for a few days and the packet lines will take advantage of it. Capt. Henderson stated last night that it was surprising how well the packet business held up, and that on Monday, the worst day of the year, the company carried more passengers than on any other day.

The Kanawha left last night for the south with a good cargo. The Queen City passed Wheeling yesterday morning and arrived at the local wharf last night about 10 o'clock.

The Tom Lysle, which sank 10 days ago, was raised yesterday and sent to the marine ways at Elizabeth, where it will be overhauled and put in commission as soon as possible.

MAYOR-ELECT IS A DEFENDANT

Appears in Court in Connection With Wilkins Estate as Trustee.

WILCOX GETS BIG DAMAGES

George W. Guthrie, mayor-elect, was defendant in a case before Judge Miller in common pleas court No. 2. Mr. Guthrie is trustee of the Wilkins estate, which was sued on a deed involving certain property belonging to the estate by Stewart Bros. The case was taken under advisement by the court.

The United States circuit court of appeals affirmed the decision in the case of John F. Wilcox against the Semet-Solvay Company, in which $35,000 was recovered for breach of contract. A new trial was ordered in the case of Hunter Smith, who recovered $7,500 from the American Tin Plate Company for personal injuries.

The jury in the case of Theo Keeder, charged with receiving stolen goods, failed to agree and was discharged.

In the suit of C. R. Hill and others against the National Cable and Wire Company, Arthur Hartwell filed exceptions to the sale of the plant to W. W. Stener, John F. Tim, J. D. Frazer and C. M. Cook for $510. Hartwell claims the price paid was away below the actual value of the plant, and that he was at the sale with the intention of paying a higher value than the concern was sold for, but was induced to desist. Later Hartwell claims they refused to keep their agreement to resell the plant to him.

Mrs. Jane E. Buchanan of Allegheny, in a will written on a small scrap of letter paper and containing less than 20 words of writing, leaves a $35,000 personal estate, and realty of unknown value to her husband. Attorney George D. Riddle represents the estate.

William E. Robinson commenced habeas corpus proceedings to obtain possession of his two children, William E., Jr., aged 9, and Rexford L., aged 8. The children, it is alleged, are in the custody of Mrs. Mary Robinson, who secured them by fraud, he says, and that he is the lawful custodian of the two boys. The court will hold a hearing in the case on Saturday.

Suit was entered for $2,000 damages by Metro Dulueba against Metro Lisko, for alleged false persecution. Both men are residents of Duquesne, and Dulueba alleges Lisko charged him with assault with intent to kill in throwing a man over a hill, and caused his imprisonment for some time before being acquitted on the charge.

Libels in divorce were Elizabeth M. Huber against Andrew W. Huber, alleging desertion; Kizzie Dunlap against William Dunlap for the same offense, and Fannie E. Frank against Harry M. Frank for cruelty and false charges against her chastity.

ISLE OF PINES IS AGAIN SUBJECT OF DISPUTE

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The question of the sovereignty of the Isle of Pines has assumed a new phase by the decision of the Cuban secretary of the treasury that vessels of American register cannot trade between Cuban ports. According to this decision only vessels flying the Cuban flag can ply between the Isle of Pines and the mainland of Cuba.

Col. T. J. Keenan of Pittsburgh was here today in consultation with Senator Penrose and other senators regarding the matter. He and other Americans have organized a company to put on a line of steamships between Batabano, on the mainland of Cuba, and Nueva Cerona and other ports on the Isle of Pines. When the company applied to the Cuban government for permission to open up the line they were informed by the secretary of the treasury that their boats would have to sail under the Cuban flag and be manned by Cuban officers, as it would not permit them to trade between Cuban ports under the American flag.

Senator Penrose will, in the near future, introduce in the senate a resolution of inquiry calling upon the state department to inform the senate what steps have been taken to protect American ships in this matter.

Col. Keenan believes that the Isle of Pines treaty by the terms of which sovereignty of the island is transferred to Cuba, is beaten in the senate. He said today:

More Americans are coming to the Isle of Pines every month and we can easily convince congress that this country should retain control of the island. You will notice that the decision of the Cuban secretary of the treasury takes it for granted that the island is Cuban territory. He has ruled that ships of American register cannot engage in trade between Cuban ports and on that ground has refused us the right to ply between the Isle of Pines and the mainland. The Platt amendment left the Isle of Pines to be disposed of later, but this decision seems to dispose of it offhand. However, we are going to take our ship there and enter her in the trade and if we are interefered with by the Cuban authorities we will fight the issue and ask the state department to protect us. The law is very plain on this point and it cannot be changed without an act of the Cuban congress.

I hope that a committee of the senate will come to the island and investigate the conditions there. I am sure that they will go away convinced that this country should retain the island.

SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL.

Meeting Will Be Held Next Saturday Afternoon to Get the Big Project Started.

The first step toward the erection of the $1,250,000 soldiers' memorial will be taken Saturday afternoon when the county commissioners, Judges Frazer and Kennedy, the committee of 10, representating the old soldiers, and City Solicitor Rodgers meet. The meeting is to be in common pleas court room No. 2.

Under the act providing for the building of the memorial the committee of 10 and the judges have nothing to do with the project until the building is erected. The commissioners, however, have decided to consult with them. Solicitor Rodgers will be asked about the power of the city to give a site in Schenley park. If the ground cannot be donated, it will probably cost a quarter of a million dollars to buy a site.

THE DOCTOR HABIT

And How She Overcame It.

When well selected food has helped the honest physician place his patient in sturdy health and free from the "doctor habit" it is a source of satisfaction to all parties. A Chicago woman says:

"We have not had a doctor in the house during all the five years that we have been using Grape-Nuts food. Before we began, however, we had 'the doctor habit' and scarcely a week went by without a call on our physician.

"When our youngest boy arrived, five years ago, I was very much run down and nervous, suffering from indigestion and almost continuous headaches. I was not able to attend to my ordinary domestic duties and was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself. Under advice I took to Grape-Nuts.

"I am now, and have been ever since we began to use Grape-Nuts food, able to do all my own work. The dyspepsia, headaches, nervousness and rheumatism which used to drive me fairly wild, have entirely disappeared.

"My husband finds that in the night work in which he is engaged, Grape-Nuts food supplies him the most wholesome, strengthening and satisfying lunch he ever took with him." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

LABOR UNIONS GET HARD BLOW

Justice Brown Hands Down Opinion Refusing to Dissolve Injunction.

DECISION IS IMPORTANT ONE

One of the strongest opinions dealing with the capital and labor question ever handed down in the state was furnished the supreme court prothonotary yesterday by Justice Brown in the suit of S. G. Purvis & Co. of Butler, against Local No. 500, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. Justice Brown in no uncertain terms upholds the lower court, which granted S. G. Purvis & Co. an injunction preventing the union from interfering with it in the conduct of its establishment, which it had refused to unionize.

Justice Brown says, "The question involved is a very simple one. It is the unlawfulness of the conspiracy to injure and destroy the property of others, if their demands as to the employment of workmen are not complied with. The question is not as to the unlawfulness of the demands which they make, but is as to their conduct on learning that these demands are ignored by the appellees. The demands in themselves can do no harm; it results from the means employed to coerce compliance with them. The appellants contend that they seek only to persuade and not to coerce; but the means of persuasion are the destruction of the property of those whom they would persuade. As well might it be said that the sight of the club or the gun of the highwayman, without actual violence, simply persuades. No violence was used by the appellants and it does not appear that any was contemplated or threatened; but coercion may be accomplished without threats or violence and the attempt to so accomplish it was made in this case. Putting one in actual fear of loss of property or injury to his business, unless he submits to demands made upon him, is often no less potent in coercing than fear of violence to the person."

After quoting from the court below in the evidence showing that the business of the appellees was interfered with in Pittsburgh and in Butler, Justice Brown says the right of a workman to use his hands for whom he pleases and on such terms as he pleases is his property and so in no less degree is a man's business in which he has invested his capital. The right of employer and employee is absolute, inherent and indefeasible, of which neither can be deprived not even by the legislature itself.

The appellees, the court says, could not complain of the demands. The appellants contend they are for the benefit of the members of the union. "This is so," the court says, "and if the injury from disregard of them is confined to its membership they alone can complain; if the injury is to outsiders through combination of the members there is no remedy for it. An agreement by those to be benefitted that they will themselves observe its terms in accepting employment can occasion no injury to employers that the law will recognize, for workmen have the absolute right to give their services to whom they please or withhold them from whom they please. But this is not the case when the primary purpose is to unlawfully coerce others that, as a result of the coercion, benefit may accrue to those who coerce. The attempt to coerce by unlawful means, by conspiracy to injure and destroy property, is in itself an unlawful act, no matter what end is to be accomplished, and the concern of the law is only for the protection of those who are to be injured. Benefit which, it is alleged, will result to the wrongdoers cannot be considered with sanctioning the wrong without justifying unlawful means for the accomplishment of an end. By no specious reasoning can the conduct of the appellants be construed into anything else than a conspiracy to perpetuate a wrong for the accomplishment of beneficial results to themselves."

Referring to the act of June 16, 1891, Justice Brown says that while the act provides for ways and means by rules and regulations to make an order effective it sanctions no rules to commit a wrong. If it attempted to do so, he recites, "by authorizing the appellants to interfere with the absolute right of the appellees, the legislation would be a dead letter for the legislature cannot abolish the bill of rights; to do that the people of the commonwealth must be directly consulted and they must give their assent."

GIVES BURGLAR A CHASE.

Clad in His Night Clothes, J. A. Hoerner Runs After Thief.

A burglar entered the house of J. A. Hoerner, 261 Bedford avenue, early yesterday morning, and was discovered by Hoerner, who, although attired only in his night clothes, chased the thief for two blocks. The thief was too fast for him and got away with a new suit of clothes, a revolver and $8, which he took from the children's saving bank, and Mrs. Hoerner's purse, which contained $10.

PIRATES ARE LIVELY AT HOT SPRINGS

HEINIE PEITZ JOINS THE TEAM

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., March 20.—(Special.)—After the coldest night since early in January a bright sun beamed on the camp of the Pirates today, driving the rawness out of the early morning atmosphere, drying up the mud and causing the mercury to go up by leaps and bounds. It was really too cold for practice in the morning, but Capt. Clarke ordered the players out in uniform. The players found the ground frozen and soggy, and the Pirate chief despaired of playing a practice game in the afternoon.

The crowd of several hundred went out was agreeably surprised to find no ticket taker at the gate. Clarke decided to try to play and did not charge because he expected to discontinue playing after a few innings. The weather and ground conditions continued to show much improvement that the full nine innings were played.

Tomorrow and each day hereafter, Sunday excepted, the regular admission will be charged and a strong effort will be made to boost the attendance. The Little Rock team will be here for exhibition games, accompanied by a delegation of rooters from that city.

In the practice game this afternoon each twirler was on the rubber three innings, and the weather was pleasant that none of the pitchers resisted the temptation to bend a few. They did not exert themselves, however. Harry Smith did backstop work for the Yanigans for four innings and whipped the ball over to first in his 1904 form.

Clarke did not work him too hard at the outset and when the game was half over he sent Houston in place of him. Houston, by the way, has not been signed and Clarke denies that he is after him, but it is recorded as a strong probability that Houston will some day by on Barney Dreyfuss' pay roll.

The star game was played by "Dutch" Meier, who not only covered several acres in the short field, but met balls squarely on the nose and sent out for three bases each. He was also very fast in reaching the sacks.

Batting honors fell to Carisch, to whom all pitchers looked alike. In four times up he drove out a clean single, two doubles and a triple. Ganley and Wagner did excellent work, the former's throw to the plate from short right garden being the fielding feature of the game.

It was an easy victory for the regulars, although it looked like the Yanigans might win until Lefty Leifield succeeded Case and everybody was pulling that way.

The latest arrival in the camp is Heinie Peitz, who got in this afternoon looking considerably under weight and feeling very weak after his severe attack of pleurisy. Peitz talked freely about his indisposition, which furnished the only foundation for the sensational story sent broadcast from Cincinnati that he had been stabbed by a jealous woman.

"I tried to run it down when I got out," he said, "but the only success I met with was a statement from a sporting editor that a man whom he could not name volunteered him the story. There never was the slightest foundation for it; in fact, the manner in which it was dressed up by the enterprising faker who worked it would discredit the story with any reader familiar with localities in Cincinnati. Nothing would be more ridiculous, for example, than the statement that the woman who stabbed me dragged me to the drug store, as the drug store referred to is a mile from my house. The story caused me trouble without end, and I received scores of inquiries concerning the affair from newspapers and from personal friends. I am not feeling strong yet, and do not expect to indulge in violent exercise for some time, but I think I will be in good form when the season begins. Score:

FEDERAL TEAM NOT ROLLING IN FORM

Scores Only a Total of 2,539, in the National Bowling Tournament.

LOUISVILLE, KY., March 20.—(Special.)—One change resulted in the standing of the leaders in the various events in the third day's play in the national bowling tournament, now running in this city. This was in the two-man event, where two Cincinnati brothers, Joe and Jack Pflueger, rolled the magnificent total of 1,214, placing them ahead of Shogren and Vandersyde of Chicago, who led with 1,156.

The Centurys No. 1 of Chicago are still leading the five-men teams with 2,794, while Vandersyde, also of Chicago, holds his place at the top of the individuals with 643.

The Federals of Pittsburgh rolled in the five-men in the first squad tonight and but for a bad start would have had a chance of taking down a prize. Their work in the last two games was good, but their first total of 772 held their grand total down to 2,539. Score:

FEDERALS, PITTSBURGH.

Grand total, 2,539. Tteam average, 846 1-3.

Two-men events will continue to be a feature of national meets, delegates to the American Bowling congress unanimously voting to preserve the doubles. The threatened action had stirred up the bowlers more than any previous suggested legislation.

Strenuous efforts were made by the easterners, with Charley Ebbets at their head to proceed with the election of officers and the selection of the next tournament city, but he was successfully opposed by the Chicago and St. Louis delegations, and tonight it is conceded that St. Louis has the best chance of landing for 1907. When it looked as though Philadelphia might force a vote, the western delegates adjourned the meeting. The Cincinnati delegation has deserted St. Louis for Philadelphia, however, while Charley Ebbets will withdraw his own name and nominate Al Baltz of Philadelphia, for the presidency.

A motion to tax all alleys in the country fifty cents each with a minimum fee of $2 was passed.

The congress meets tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and it is hoped matters will be railroaded through by noon. Eastern delegates threatened to split the congress late tonight if Philadelphia does not get landed.

President Haager of Louisville, in addressing the convention, recommended that future tournaments be confined to at least one week.

Secretary Karpf in his report recommended that the duckpin and the candle bowlers be admitted to the congress, as well as the clubs of Canada and Mexico. He said also that the congress be more careful about accepting entries for the tournament.

Treasurer Pasdeloup's report showed receipts for the year of $1,814 and disbursements of $1,247.

Of the 32 pairs who rolled to complete the afternoon program of two-man teams, only two rolled above 1,100, Rosendahl and Peth, Chicago, 1,163, and Marsh and Peters of Springfield, Ill., 1,104.

The leading contestants in the first group of five-man teams tonight were:

Glenwoods, Chicago	2,695
Godards, Saginaw, Mich.	2,631
Duffys, St. Louis	2,630

The high teams in the second group of five-men teams tonight were:

Lakeview Alley Keepers, Chicago	2,509
White Seals, St. Louis	2,434

THE TRI-STATE LEAGUE HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., March 20.—(Special.)—A special meeting of the Tri-State Baseball league was held here this afternoon, the primary object being to make certain changes in the schedule which were agreed upon between the clubs affected. York exchanged certain dates with Lancaster and fixed certain unsettled dates with Harrisburg. Two dates which Johnstown is scheduled to play in Williamsport will be transferred to Johnstown, but which two they will be, has not yet been determined.

President Carpenter announced that all of the clubs had filed their bonds conditioned upon complying with the Tri-State rules and finishing the season. He also stated that the league was in a thoroughly prosperous condition and never had better prospects. It was decided that no postponed games should be played off until after June 15.

No action was taken on the alliance with the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland league. President Carpenter announced that he had received a telegram from that organization stating that it had voted to affiliate with the Tri-State, but as no other communication had been received from them no action will be taken until some statement of what the P., O. & M. expects or desires from the alliance is received.

W. U. P. TO HAVE A BIG MEET

The Western University of Pennsylvania has sent out invitations for an inter-collegiate field and track meet to be held in Pittsburgh this spring. No date was mentioned on the invitation, but it is probable it will be held in conjunction with the interscholastic meet held by Pittsburgh high school at Friendship park, June 2. State, W. and J., Grove City, Westminster, Geneva and Allegheny were invited.

The W. U. P. freshmen and sophomores will have an indoor dual meet this afternoon in the gymnasium.

Michigan will occupy a big place on the maroon baseball schedule this spring. According to the Chicago-Michigan program announced by Acting Director J. E. Raycroft, Captain Baird's men will meet the wolverines six times. Illinois and Chicago will have but four games, as arranged by Coach Stagg last fall.

The Wolverines will be seen at Marshall field in four of the engagements. They will come to Chicago April 14 to play the first game of the inter-collegiate schedule. A series of three consecutive games is arranged for Marshall field on May 14, 15 and 16. The maroons will play Michigan at Ann Arbor May 9 and June 2.

The Harvard-Cornell boat race, which was scheduled to take place on the Charles river, May 26, has been put forward a day owing to conflicting dates on the athletic calendar of both universities and will now be held on May 25.

Members of the Intercollegiate Fencing association have announced a new standard of eligibility which they have adopted. Hereafter a man representing one of the colleges will only be allowed to fence four years in succession. Before this ruling a contestant would drop out for a year and then return to finish his four years. If a man skips a year under the new rule it will be counted just as if he had fenced.

Another move decided upon was to fine any team failing to send representatives to the annual meet. Yale failed to have a team at the meet just held, and it is to prevent a repetition of this that the rule was made.

The following officers of the association were elected for the coming year: F. H. Scott of Pennsylvania, president; O. D. Kehrlein of Columbia, vice president; S. H. Breckenridge of Princeton, secretary and treasurer.

LARRY TEMPLE QUITS.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., March 20.—Larry Temple threw up the sponge in the fourteenth round of what was scheduled to be a 15-round bout between himself and George Gunther of New Castle. Temple claimed he was sick and unable to go on. A big crowd attended the fight and seemed satisfied with the bouts, which were under the auspices of the Nonpareil Athletic club.

The men weighed in at 135. During the first few rounds many blows were struck with the open gloves and Referee Dar Braden of Beaver Falls warned the men that such blows would not count. They then got down to business and several rounds of fast and clever boxing followed. Both men fought hard and were about on even terms. In the thirteenth round Temple began to weaken slightly. When they went to clinches, which was often, Gunther bored short arm jolts to Temple's kidneys and shook him considerably.

This had the effect of weakening the Pittsburgher and he looked tired when he crawled to his corner at the end of the thirteenth. He lost his head when his seconds began to work on him and struck one of them, later collapsing in his chair. Referee Baraden examined him after his seconds threw up the sponge and said that in his opinion Temple was sick and unable to go on.

The main bout was preceded by six fast rounds between Kid Reynolds of Allegheny and Tom Devinney of Colonia. The men put up a fast fight and did heavy work. Both were bleeding at the end of the sixth. Reynolds got the decision.

It marks the thirtieth year of its publication under the editorship of Henry Chadwick, "the father of baseball," and is undoubtedly the largest and most complete annual of the game that has ever been published. Everything that a lover of the game wants to know about the major and minor leagues can be found. The book is profusely illustrated.

UNGER BOYS ARE CHAMPIONS

GOOD SCORES WERE ROLLED

The biggest crowd ever assembled on the St. Joseph alleys was there last night to witness the important match between the Ungers and Unitys in their second series of games to decide the tie; to prove which was the better team, and which would have the honor of playing in the post-season series for the championship of the Allegheny county league.

The match was exceedingly interesting from the time the first ball was rolled down the alleys. The Unitys put up a noble fight, but lost two out of three games. All the scores were good and would do credit to most any ambitious team in the county. The first game started off with two 900 scores, with the Ungers winning by 26 pins, 930 to 904. The second game was the most interesting of the three, when Unity won by nearly all the players striking out. The last game was also close, and the Ungers duplicated the feat of the Unitys and won out in the last two frames by a good margin.

The result of last night's contest gives the championship of the Pittsburgh section to the Ungers. The Ungers won four out of six games and at the finish were 141 pins to the good for total pins. In the second and last contest Ungers made 2738 pins, with an average of 912 2-3, and Unity made 2,684 pins and an average of 894 2-3.

On the Wylie Avenue alleys the Ungers won by 87 pins, and on their home alleys they were 54 pins to the good.

For individual work Walter Nickel was the star, with high score of 235, another double century and the excellent average of 202 1-3. For Unity, Austin Smitt was there with the goods, with high score of 217 and the good average of 203 2-3.

The other bowlers who did good work for their respective teams were H. Hungerman, Meyers, Helmbueclur and Halber. McGrath was in hard luck, with eight railroads, which was more than one-half that each team had. In the summaries both teams were about equal in results. Scores:

SOUTH SIDE CHAMPIONS SECURE AN EASY VICTORY

The South Side basketball team journeyed to Brushton last night and defeated the Newman five 51 to 19. The second session was a runaway, the South Side boys, as they tallied 31, while Newman had hard work in tallying 2. Lineup:

Books Are Saved Much Money.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—It rained incessantly at Oakland today and the mudlarks had their inning. Barney Schreiber's filly, Our Ann, was made the favorite in the betting in the opening event, but was nosed out in the last jump by Yankee Jim, a 13 to 1 chance. The books were saved thousands of dollars through the disqualification of the good thing, J. K. F. The race resulted in a rousing finish, as the three choices were well bunched 100 yards from the wire, where Brussel, on J. K. F., bumped Pentagon and Frolic. When the jockies returned to the judges' stand a foul was claimed against J. K. F., and the judges disqualified him and placed him third. Pentagon was placed first and Frolic second. Weather rainy; track sloppy. Summaries:

First, 4½ furlongs—Yankee Jim, 111 (League), 13 to 1, won; Our Anna, 113 (Dugan), 2 to 1, second; Lord Rossington, 114 (Robinson), 13 to 5, third. Time, :56. Palemon, Doc Craig, Lassen, Premium Rose, Ed Treacy, Allario and Arrowmaker ran.

Third, 7 furlongs—Lord Nelson, 92 (Sandy), 4 to 1, won; Yellowstone, 118 (I. Powell), 13 to 1, second; Jake Ward, 110 (Robinson), 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:29. Jarretiere d'Or, Mino, Josie's Jewell and Supreme Court ran.

HARRY WRIGHT LOSES IN BOTH GAMES

Must Be Satisfied With Fourth Place in the Amateur Billiard Tournament.

CHICAGO, March 20.—Harry Wright of San Francisco will have to be satisfied with fourth prize and the honor of making the high run in the amateur billiard championship tournament. Two games of the triple tie for second place were decided today, with Wright playing in both games. He was defeated in both matches. His first opponent was Calvin Demarest of Chicago, and the local man won by the score of 300 to 92. In the second game Wright had J. F. Poggenburg of New York for an opponent, and the easterner won by the score of 300 to 114. With Wright's position in the tournament settled, Demarest and Poggenburg are left to fight it out tomorrow for second and third prizes.

By defeating Wright today, Poggenburg wins the prize for the single high average of the tournament. He and Wright were tied for this honor with an average of 16 12-18, and it was decided that the winner of today's game should draw the prize for this honor. Demarest, in his game with Wright today, surpassed his single high average by nearly a point, but as it was not made in a regular scheduled game it does not count.

In his game with Wright, Poggenburg's high run was 80 and his average 11 14-26. Wright's best score was 25 and his average was 4 10-26. Summary:

	Total.	High.	Ave.
Poggenburg	300	80	11 14-26
Wright	114	25	4 10-26

In the first game for the play off of the tie for second place, Calvin Demarest of Chicago defeated H. A. Wright of San Francisco by a score of 300 to 92. Demarest made runs of 47, 76 and 30, and his average was 17 11-17, which was the highest made during the tournament. It will not, however, give him the prize for the high average, because the game was not played in the regular tournament. The scores: Demarest, total, 300; high run, 76; average, 17 11-17. Wright, total, 92; high run, 37; average, 5 7-17.

ACCEPT HIS RESIGNATION.

Hazelwood Presbyterians Will Now Hunt Successor to Rev. Herbert Hezlep.

The resignation of the Rev. Herbert Hezlep, pastor of the Hazelwood Presbyterian church, was unanimously accepted by that congregation last night at a special meeting held for that purpose. A committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the regret of the congregation on his departure. Another committee was selected to recommend a pastor to succeed Mr. Hezlep.

Mr. Hezlep will leave in two weeks for Germantown, where he has accepted the pastorate of the Market Square Presbyterian church. The salary in his new field will be about $3,700, an increase of about $1,500. This increase had much to do with his accepting. The farewell sermon will be preached on Sunday, April 1.

SEVEN ARE CHARGED WITH KILLING TENNY

Case Against Them Opened in the Criminal Courts of San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Mrs. Rachael Tennebaum today swore to a complaint before Judge Cabaniss, charging Frank J. Neil, Mark Shaughnessy, Timothy McGrath, William Roche, Thomas Burke, James Kelly and John Robert Frane with killing and slaying without malice, on the night of February 28, her son, Harry Tennebaum, during a glove contest held at the Mechanic's pavilion.

A request for a delay by the attorney for the accused was denied and the cases against Neil, McGrath, Kelly and Frane were taken up.

Dr. Kusich, autopsy surgeon to the coroner, was called to the stand and reiterated the testimony given by him at the preliminary hearing.

Owing to the absence of Police Lieutenant McManus, who was present at the fight, further hearing of the case was postponed until Thursday morning.

What Any Woman Can Do!

Members of a Walker Club —Receiving Goods and Premiums.

If you will listen a minute, we will tell you a secret—the secret of true household economy.

We will show you how to get almost anything you want for your own home—Furniture, Silverware, China, Musical Instruments and a varied assortment of other articles for nothing.

It's to tell a few of your friends about Our Plan, and get them interested too.

Briefly, the Walker Plan of Household Economy is this;

You club together and buy from the Walker Factories direct, your everyday household necessities, paying the same price you would pay the stores—

And when we ship these goods, we give you absolutely free, valuable premiums of your own selection, equal to the full value of the necessities purchased.

It is the easiest thing in the world to organize a Walker Club, and this is the way it is done:

Suppose ten of you decide to adopt this method of getting double value for the money you ordinarily spend for household supplies.

You just call yourselves a Walker Club—and you are ready to do business.

You elect one of your number Secretary.

Then you each buy at least one dollar's worth of everyday Household necessities, each week for ten weeks.

Now, once a week each member hands the Club Secretary, with her dollar, a list of the articles she will need, such as Tea, Coffee and Chocolate, Baking Powder, Baking Soda and Spices, Extracts, Baked Beans and Ketchup, Laundry and Toilet Soaps, Perfumery and Toilet Water, Talcum Powder, Antiseptic Tooth Powder, etc., etc.

Through its Secretary, the Club orders, say, $10.00 worth of goods each week. With each weekly order amounting to $10.00, the Club sends for a Premium (worth $10.00 at any store,) which they select from the Walker Premium Catalogue. This Catalogue contains over a thousand articles, consisting of Furniture for Parlor, Bed Room and Dining Room, Musical Instruments, Bric-a-bric, Jewelry, Novelties, Utensils for Kitchen and Laundry, etc., etc.

By this plan, one member can get a Walker Premium the first week, another member gets one the second week, and so on, until by the end of ten weeks, each member has received a $10.00 Premium. If the members care to do so, they can have a little party each week when the goods and premiums come, and those who have not already received a Premium, can "draw cuts," to see which will get it.

The Secretary of the Club, gets a Premium Certificate for every club order she sends in, and these Certificates are redeemed in Premiums of her own selection.

In ten weeks the Club Secretary, in addition to her regular Premiums as a member of the Club, will be entitled to premiums to the value of $20.00

* * *

Naturally, you wonder how it is possible for the Walker Factories to deal so liberally with Customers.

Well, you see half of the cost price of goods that you buy from the storekeeper, represents what you must pay the Retailer, the Wholesaler and the Jobber just for buying them from the manufacturer and passing them along to you.

Under the Walker Plan you save this drain on your pocketbook, and you get that saving in Premiums, which really cost you nothing.

Because of the vast scale on which our manufacturing operations are conducted, we save expense at every turn. The work in our factories is so systemized, that there is no lost motion.

The great railroad companies load our goods into their cars direct from our Warehouses, so that there is not even a penny of expense for drayage.

And this perfection of our shipping facilities enables us to fill orders the very day they are received.

It is because of these great factory economies, and because of our tremendous buying power, enabling us to secure our Premium goods at almost the actual cost of production, that we can give our customers $2.00 in value for every dollar they spend with us.

We cut out all traveling salesmen and costly expenses, by the simple plan of selling direct to the actual users of our goods.

We Guarantee every Premium and every piece of goods to give entire satisfaction, which means that every article must be of good quality and exactly as we represent it.

The social features of the Walker Clubs, as well as the practical economy resulting from Co-operative Buying contribute greatly to their popularity and growth.

Every woman has a number of friends, relatives, neighbors and acquaintances who will eagerly join with her in the formation of a Walker Club, as soon as the advantages of the club plan are known.

Bright housewives everywhere welcome the opportunity to get $20.00 in value for $10.00. By simply suggesting our plan, you will have no trouble to influence ten women or more to join with you in making up a Walker Club, and by taking the first step in organizing the club, you will become the Club Secretary, thus securing, in addition to your Premium as a member of the club, extra Premiums which in the course ten weeks, will amount to $20.00 in value.

Can a Home Be Furnished for $100?

As a result of her paper on domestic economy, recently presented before Pittsburgh sorosis, Mrs. Minnie Ourey Roberts has been beseiged with questions regarding other phases of the problem of living within one's income. Mrs. Roberts said that a young couple could not only exist, but they could also live with independence and self-respect, and with some degree of refinement in a home of their own on an income of $50 a month. No less than six queries have been received within the last two weeks by Mrs. Roberts from as many young men and women, one of the most perplexing questions asked being this: Can a young couple just about to be married furnish a home, including table and bed linen, for $100. Mrs. Roberts is ready with her reply to the effect that they can furnish a home, including a living room, kitchen and two bedrooms comfortably for that amount. One questioner states that he and his bride-to-be, both of whom are wage earners, have saved $100 between them and want to furnish their future home without borrowing money or buying on the installment plan.

Mrs. Roberts has been attacked by Daughters of the American Revolution, United Daughters of 1812, and club women, among them the president of one of the best-known local clubs, who allege that her recent statements regarding living on an income of $50 a month cannot be proved. The club president invited Mrs. Roberts to go to the East End and find in that residential district two respectable rooms which could be rented for $10. Mrs. Roberts' reply is that she did not include the East End in those districts where a small house or apartment could be rented for $10, but specified, because personally known to her, the new and rapidly growing districts beyond the West End and beyond the hills upon which Mt. Washington and Knoxville lie, which can be reached by trolley and are now so accessible. Mrs. Roberts further claims that such young people should not live in the East End where all their environment forces them to live beyond their means, but in the newer districts where they form new circles of acquaintances and friends, and their recreations and amusements are not to be secured only with money.

Will Erect Drinking Fountain.

The Woman's club of Carnegie will soon open a woman's exchange in that town, to which members of the club will contribute articles of their own baking. The exchange will be conducted only on Saturdays, and the club women will take turns in contributing and presiding over it, four women being assigned each week. It is to be an exchange for edibles only, and citizens can purchase from stocks of home-made bread, pies and other forms of pastry, cake and salads. The proceeds will be turned over to the fund which the club women are creating for the purchase of a drinking fountain to be erected in the heart of Carnegie. At the next meeting of the club, Friday afternoon, March 30, more definite plans will be made for the opening of the exchange. For the meeting of the club that day an interesting program has been arranged which will include a paper on "Vacation Schools and Summer Playgrounds," by Mrs. Minnie Ourey Roberts.

Columbia Hospital to Open in April.

The managers of the new Columbia hospital in Wilkinsburg, are planning to formally open that institution on Tuesday, April 10. That day will be Mrs. H. C. Campbell's birthday anniversary, and as Mrs. Campbell, as president of the United Presbyterian Women's association, under the auspices of which the hospital will be conducted, has been very active in forwarding plans for its erection, many of the women of the board of managers and of the association, would like to celebrate her anniversary day with the consummation of their work for almost a decade. Though there is still much work to be done in the interior of the new building the furnishing committee has been at work. This committee is composed of Mrs. George Sands, chairman; Mrs. J. D. Hill, Mrs. E. M. Hill, Mrs. David McNaugher, Mrs. H. C. Campbell, Mrs. R. C. Lyon, Mrs. S. B. Donaldson, Mrs. Mattie Patterson and Mrs. N. Wylie Stevenson.

Has Joined Congress of Clubs.

The Woman's club of Bellevue joined the Congress of Women's clubs in Allegheny county at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The program presented during the afternoon included events in the new and old worlds. Mrs. J. H. Rogers gave a careful and comprehensive review of "The Knight of the Cross," a well-known Russian novel, while Mrs. D. E. Wilburt discussed "Nihilism." "Peasant Life in Russia" was described by

FRENCH BATISTE AND EMBROIDERY

A new design for a lingerie blouse, having a deep tucked yoke, inset with embroidered medallions in floral designs, bands of dainty lace outlining the yoke. Below the lace, the blouse is shirred in soft effect, an idea which is repeated in the sleeve trimming.

The fashionable shops abound in handsome designs for summer blouses and though many of the daintiest are held at almost prohibitive prices the home artist who is clever with her needle can duplicate them at very little expense. Washable chiffon can be used for this model, three and one-half yards being ample for all needs. If the attempts at embroidery are not all that could be desired, use instead the machine-made medallions, which come for a few cents and are so cleverly made that they defy detection. Perfectly round and square yokes are giving away to pointed effects, artificially outlined with insertion and embroideries of all kinds, and the demand for smart waists is so great that the well-dressed woman cannot have too many in her wardrobe.

Mrs. E. P. Russell, while under the leadership of Mrs. J. M. Bailey the club women discussed current events, taking up the life, work and death of Miss Susan B. Anthony, the prospect of a great coal strike, the Chinese internal troubles, the famine in Japan and the probable retirement of Chauncey M. Depew from public life.

Drama a Factor in Modern Progress.

At the meeting of the Woman's club of Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon, Mrs. H. L. Butler read an interesting paper on "The Importance of the Drama as a Factor in Modern Progress," in which she claimed for the drama much honor in the presentation of great national principles, and the weeding out of such plays as do not tend to best moral and social uprightness. Mrs. Florence R. Wade gave a talk on Dante, which was particularly enjoyable. The program was presented under the direction of Miss Minnie R. Kuhn. The club caused to be spread on its minutes its expression of loss in the death of Miss Susan B. Anthony.

Tuesday Musical Club's Program.

Miss Clara McClain was in charge of the program presented yesterday afternoon before the Tuesday Musical club which was devoted to French music. Mrs. Alexander McKaig gave a short talk explanatory of French music and the French masters, which was followed by a musical program from the French composers of early times up to the present day. Mrs. James Stephen Martin sang a group of old French songs; Mrs. Lawrence Litchfield contributed piano numbers. Others participating in the program were Miss Alice Snyder, Miss Evelyn Lippa, Mrs. Charles Clark, Miss Stewart, Miss Kropff, Mr. Cotton and Mr. Koher.

Small Home Wedding.

An informal, prettily appointed little home wedding of last evening was that of Miss Lilian Harris Pryor, daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Pryor of Buena Vista street, Allegheny, and Lewis Whitmyre of Mars. The Rev. H. T. Ross Paden, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. H. E. Whitmyre of Sheraden, a brother of the bridegroom, solemnized the ceremony at 8 o'clock. The bride, who was unattended, wore a girlish gown of white batiste over silk, and carried roses and lilies of the valley. Following the ceremony there was a supper of 30 covers. At the conclusion of their wedding trip, after May 1, Mr. and Mrs. Whitmyre will be "at home" in Mars.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Borchers of Washington, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Christine Laury, to W. Edward Walsh of Pittsburgh.

How to Secure Foot Comfort.

As the spring season approaches a great many people commence to have trouble with their feet. In most cases this is occasioned by overheating—either overheated blood or too warm foot covering. Be very careful to change your stockings and shoes with the first change in temperature and see that your diet includes greens and fruit when the warm days of spring are upon you.

Sufferers from tender feet should wear cashmere or merino hosiery and never use the same pair of boots two days in succession. If you are obliged to be on your feet all day you should make it a point to change your shoes twice a day at least. It is remarkable the rest and comfort this plan will give you. A woman who has been standing at the ironing table all morning in low-heeled boots will find relief in changing to heelless bedroom slippers in the afternoon. If you have had loose slippers on in the morning, change to a pair of buttoned boots in the afternoon.

If your toe joints swell and become inflamed, do not imagine you have a bunion. Most likely a mild dose of salts will cure the trouble. If this is not effective, try changing your shoes. No two pair of shoes will rub the feet in the same spots, and a change of footgear is for this reason always a comfort.

VENGEFUL FOREIGNER MURDERS COUNTRYMAN

BEAVER, PA., March 20.—Peter Sunkie, a Slav, was murdered at Midland, six miles from here, by Peter Mikolek. The latter on Sunday plunged a knife into Sunkie's left lung. It is said a feud existed between the two. Mikolek was taken to jail.

The New Shirt Waist Styles Are Ready.

For some occult reason shirt waist styles are among the earliest to be determined in a season. This season what was broached last season has become the accepted fact. The more severe types of shirt waist are back with us. The principal difference between the tailored shirt waist of today and the one we knew heretofore is that this season's garment is made of sheer stuffs. In former times the sheer goods were reserved for the fluffy blouse.

Of course, there will be shirt waists made of close, firm, rather heavy lines—especially for athletic use—but these will be the exception. There is promise made of a coarse linen something like crash. The majority of the shirt waists this year, however, will be fashioned from handkerchief linen, wash mulles, batistes, lawns, dimities and the many other soft pretty stuffs that are classed with these.

The use of thinner stuff in tailored waists, plenty of buttons and a dozen different manipulations of the pretty sleeve are the three main points by which you may know the garment of the summer of '06. The elaboration of these three points has resulted in some stunning waists.

None of the shirt waists have short sleeves—that would be a travesty. This is a sleeve which must be long. A few are made with a puff which stops at the elbow to meet a cuff that simulates by means of a scalloped edge the deepest of the many versions of the turn-back cuff.

An occasional model is cut with a very long shoulder, so wide, in fact, that they extend over on to the upper arm. Some obtain this effect by the clever cutting of little scalloped pieces which stand out very much like epaulettes and produce somewhat of a military effect.

A pretty variation of the tucked style has the tucks laid in double box-plaits across the front. Down each side of the center box-plait run narrow full ruffles, repeated around the cuffs and collar. The cuffs are made for link buttons and turn back. They are made wide enough to permit of their closing easily without binding the sleeve. If you use two sets of links for each cuff, have them of the kind that show two big pearl buttons or, better still, make them yourself by sewing together two pearl buttons on a long loop and buttonholing the connecting loop. These pearl links and pearl belt buckles are to be one of the smart features of the tailored girl this summer.

Nearly every girl who can wear a stiff collar is busily engaged in making up a supply of them. The chief point to distinguish the stiff collar of today from those formerly in style is the touch of handwork shown. Every sort of collar that is just one point removed from the old-style mannish collar is correct. You may finish your collar with hemstitching, though if you are economical and have the wear and tear of the laundries in mind you will prefer French knots. Big eyelets all around the edge will prove effective if some clever manipulation of the space between is devised. A pretty style is the collar edged with scallops and softened by a tiny ruffle which springs from beneath the scallop. Some of the prettiest collars are embroidered in colors—those French blues which remind you of the Dutch china, a dull red and also black are favored colors.

The Wade Corset

Has double insets of elastic insertion in front and back, which yield to every movement of the body and yet are strong enough to maintain the desired lines of the figure.

ALL-AROUND RECOVERY IN NEW YORK STOCKS

Trading Was Less Active, but Prices Closed Near the Best of the Day—Tonopah Extension Resumes Dividends—Cable Con. Weak.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The action of the New York money market yesterday did much to confirm the opinion that the weakness and liquidation on Monday resulted from the operations of relatively small professional traders. There was a moderate recovery shortly after the opening, and later in the day this became general, the market closing firm and near the best prices. There was a falling off in the volume of business, the sales for the day reaching only 625,000 shares.

In the natural course of events the market would probably have rallied yesterday, but it had the benefit of several events which tended to hasten covering by shorts. Shortly after the opening unofficial advices were received from London that Germany and France had reached an amicable agreement on the Moroccan question. Later in the day it was reported that the state department at Washington had been informed to the same effect, and although no official confirmation was received during market hours, the general feeling was that this matter could now be eliminated from the situation. The London market was somewhat firmer, but was reported dull. The final settlement of the Moraccan dispute is expected to have a favorable effect in releasing accumulations of gold by the Bank of France, or at all events in making it easier to renew loans for account of Wall street in the foreign market. It is said that a considerable amount of money was borrowed abroad during the early part of January when the high rates were prevailing in New York, and that the bulk of these loans mature this month. There is little doubt that pending the settlement of the Moroccan question foreign bankers were inclined to hold their funds well in hand. Now that it is practically settled on a peaceful basis foreign financial sentiment should be more favorably disposed.

The coal situation received a great deal of attention during the day, and Wall street was inclined to place a more favorable construction on the news. The intimation that the anthracite operators would grant the request of the miners for another conference was what might be called a straw pointing in the direction of peace. The news from Indianapolis strongly indicated that the operators were not unanimous in opposing any concessions whatever that might avert a strike.

The largest dealings were in the copper stocks, and these also led in the recovery. Amalgamated sold off from 103½ to 103 during the first hour, but from that time to the close the recovery was almost uninterrupted, the price reaching 106⅛ and closing at 105⅜. Anaconda closed at a net gain of 3⅝ per cent. Smelting gained 1⅜ and National Lead 3 per cent. There was also a very fair rally in the steel stocks. United States Steel common closed ½ and the preferred 1⅛ per cent higher. Colorado Fuel and Iron closed 2⅛ higher.

In the railroad list the Pennsylvania group was extremely dull, but closed higher, Reading leading with a gain of 2⅛ per cent and Pennsylvania 1⅛.

The largest advance in any stock was 8⅛ per cent in "Soo" common, which opened at 151½, rose to 160 and closed at 156. There was no news accompanying the movement. Great Northern preferred closed 4 points higher and Northern Pacific 1¾ higher. The remainder of the railroad list without exception closed ½ to 2 per cent higher than on Monday and the tone of the market at the close would have been described as buoyant if the volume of dealings had been larger.

Call loans did not get above 5 per cent and averaged about 4¾ per cent all day.

The local stock market is still entirely given over to speculation in mining stocks. Out of a total of more than 36,000 shares changing hands yesterday 34,585 consisted of mining stocks. Cable Consolidated led the list with sales of 18,900 shares, and after declining from $1.02 to 94c, was offered down to 91c at the close. The impression prevailed on the exchange that insiders were manipulating the price. Tonopah Extension jumped $1 a share to 13¼ on the announcement that the directors had declared a dividend of 15 cents a share, or 15 per cent, but the stock subsequently lost all the gain and closed unchanged for the day, presumably because of disappointment over the fact that the directors did not specify any particular period covered by the dividend. Ohio Tonopah sold to the extent of 14,000 shares at 50c to 51c a share, closing at 50c. More than a half score of leading industrial stocks which usually figure on the sales board were entirely neglected and closed without transaction. The largest trading was in Ohio Fuel Supply, which sold unchanged at 38½. Manufacturers Light and Heat closed a fraction lower at 31¼. Only 20 shares Crucible Steel common and 42 shares of the preferred changed hands all day, and not a single share of Pittsburgh Coal common or preferred was dealt in. All the Westinghouse issues were also without transaction and quotations were purely nominal.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The securities committee of the Pittsburgh stock exchange has made a ruling for official quotations on listing mining stocks. Hereafter, when the price is less than $1 a share it will require a bid or offer on 500 shares to establish a "regular" quotation; between $1 and $5, 200 shares, and between $5 and not over $10, 100 shares. This ruling does not prevent trading in amounts smaller than those specified, but it has the effect of raising the value of a "regular" quotation. Under the old rules the minimum amount of stock required to make a regular quotation was 50 shares, and this left the door open to the recording of misleading bids and offers.

Many members of the local exchange deplore the dominance of mining stocks. Yesterday the dealings in the regular list amounted to only 1,500 shares, while the mining stocks exceeded 34,500 shares. The feeling prevails, however, that the mining craze will gradually subside and the better class of industrials will receive more attention.

The directors of the Westinghouse Machine Company yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, payable April 10 to stock of record April 28. The company also issued a notice for a stockholders' meeting to be held the 21st day of May to take further action with reference to the increase of indebtedness which was authorized at the meeting held December 23, 1905, such action being recommended by counsel in order to classify the securities to be issued as bonds, instead of debentures, to better meet the views of financial interests. It is not contemplated to create a mortgage to secure such bonds.

Directors of the Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, calling for the disbursement of $50,000, payable April 2 to stock of record March 24.

The dividend of 15 cents a share declared by Tonopah Extension yesterday is payable April 20 to stock of record April 10. This dividend, like those paid last year, is not officially designated as covering any stated period. The initial dividend declared by the company was 5 cents a share and was paid last July. In the following October 10 cents a share was paid. The chief reason for the payment of no dividend since last October was the inadequacy of railroad facilities for shipping ore and the embargo placed by the smelters on the amount of ore to be smelted. Since then, however, a long-term contract on favorable terms has been made with the American Smelting Company, and dividends are looked for with more regularity.

The impression prevailed on the exchange after the close of the local market that an effort had been made to close Cable Consolidated as weak as possible. The stock opened steady at a fraction over par, dropped to 95c, recovered to par, again sold off to 95c, and right at the close was offered down to 91c, closing with 90c bid.

Robinson Bros. sold about 10,000 shares Ohio Tonopah to Scully, Painter & Beech and Sproul & Co.

The Philadelphia money market is reported firmer, with 5 per cent quoted on call loans, but most of the banks are loaned up.

Traders and Mechanics bank advanced to 78 bid. There were no offerings of the stock.

The Oakland Savings and Trust Company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent.

A syndicate of Cincinnati banks bid par and interest for $4,600,000 Cincinnati refunding 3½ per cent bonds. The Citizens National bid $700 premium for $500,000.

Mayor M'Clellan has approved the bill passed by the New York legislature reducing the price of gas in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx to 80 cents. Consolidated Gas was most effected, closing higher with the rest of the market.

Gross earnings for the second week in March: Louisville & Nashville increased $61,630; Texas Pacific increased $25,611; Colorado Southern increased $26,417; Southern Railway increased [illegible]; Western Maryland increased $14,240.

Nineteen roads for the first week in March show an increase of 11.10 per cent in gross earnings.

It is said that the United States Steel Corporation has nearly $39,000,000 bonds in the treasury for sale, which are not included in the general balance sheet of assets and liabilities. Of the total, $30,000,000 are United States Steel Corporation 10-60 year 5 per cent bonds and $5,913,000 subsidiary company bonds. There was issued by subsidiary companies during the year ended December 31, 1905, an aggregate par value of $2,839,000 of bonds to provide funds for construction outlays. These bonds were purchased by the United States Steel Corporation and being held in the treasury December 31, 1905, as disposable assets, are not included in the schedule of outstanding bonds nor in the assets of the organization.

The Texas & Pacific Coal Company has declared a dividend of 1½ per cent, payable March 1.

The Bell Telephone of Missouri has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable April 2.

The Chicago Telephone Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, payable March 31.

The Southwestern Telephone Company has increased its capital from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000.

The American Woolen Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable April 16.

A little over a year ago, an old friend of George J. Gould dropped into Mr. Gould's office one day and said: "I hear reports that John D. Rockefeller is behind you, Mr. Gould. Are these reports true?" "They are," replied Mr. Gould. "Then," replied the venerable friend, "I advise you to get him in front of you." Some of the best railroad men in this city believe that it will later be discovered that the Western Pacific (now said to be a distinctly Gould project) has really the backing of James J. Hill as well. They think that when the road is finished, which will not be for about three years, it will prove a very serious competitor of the Union Pacific.—Adams in Philadelphia News Bureau.

The situation in the New York money market was not changed and no effect was shown by the payment of the final instalment on the last Japanese loan. Money rates were unchanged and discounts yielded in London. There was also a sharp advance in the sterling exchange rate at Berlin, at which point renewed receipts of Russian gold were reported. Foreign exchange in New York was inclined to yield, but very slowly. Reports were current of the probability of further remittances to the home market of Japanese funds on deposit in New York. The future disposition of Japan's large deposits in the great western money centers is the subject of interested discussion both at home and abroad. The London "Statist" asserts a belief that the Bank of England will endeavor to maintain an unusually strong position until the Japanese balances have been greatly reduced and that consequently those who discount a fall in money in April too freely may find that they have mistaken the course of events.

STOCKS RECOVER FROM THE LATE DEPRESSION

No Apparent Increase of Public Participation in the Market Is Noted.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Herald this (Wednesday) morning says: Stocks underwent a partial recovery yesterday from the severe depression of the preceding day. The market was intensely dull, however, business falling to a smaller aggregate than on Monday, with the activity confined to a limited group of issues, in which the professional element, whether bull or bear, has recently been chiefly active.

Practically no change was noted in the character of the trading, except that the liquidation which was observable on the preceding day diminished in force, and with this the trading element covered up its short lines. A few pools and cliques started up operation, but there was no apparent increase of public participation in the market, and the improvement seemed to be due almost entirely to short covering.

The news from abroad, bearing upon the final settlement of the Moroccan question at Algeciras, was certainly more favorable, and favorably also was considered the news of the negotiations relative to the dispute between operators and workmen in the anthracite coal district, would be continued. Brokers thought, however, that the market in its recovery was influenced by the failure to materialize of any of the dire rumors of the preceding day, more than by any other factors.

Upon finding that no one of great importance, financially, had either died naturally, or suicided, or had fled the country, traders who had sold the market on such precious yarns the preceding day, covered their short contracts.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, March 20.—The wool market is in a strong position. Domestic wools are limited in stock. A feature in territory wools has been the transfer of 1,000,000 pounds of medium in the grease at a cost reported to be around 27 cents to Philadelphia houses. Ohio quarters bring 31 to 33 cents, and Michigans, 31 to 32½ cents; for three-eighths, 33 to 34 cents is the price. Some fine unwashed Ohio is going at 26 cents, but XX is slow at 34 cents. Fine unwashed Michigan is selling at 24½ cents.

LONDON, March 20.—The offerings at the wool sales today amounted to 12,061 pounds. Fine merinos were 7½ per cent; merino lambs, 10 per cent, and cross-breds, 15 per cent dearer. Fine greasy cross-breds were taken by Americans. A lot of 2,800 bales of Punta Arenas sold quickly. Following are the sales in detail: New South Wales, 3,000 bales, scoured, 1s@1s 11d; greasy, 7d@1s 3d. Queensland, 800 bales, scoured, 1s 2d@1s 7½d; greasy, 9d@1s. Victoria, 900 bales, scoured, 1s ½d@1s 11½d; greasy, 7½d@1s 4d. South Australia, 200 bales, scoured, 10½d@1s 10½d. West Australia, 400 bales, scoured, 1s 4d@1s 6d; greasy, 7½d@1s 2d. Tasmania, 56 bales, greasy, 11d@1s 2d. New Zealand, 3,900 bales, scoured, 10d@1s 10d; greasy, 7d@1s 4d. Punta Arenas, 2,800 bales, scoured, 1s 1d@1s 4½d; greasy, 8½d@1s 3d.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points under moderate selling, which seemed to be for both accounts, but which was chiefly in the way of liquidation by May longs. Closing cables from Havre reported a decline of ¼ franc, but the local market held fairly steady during the afternoon and closed steady. Sales were reported of 48,000 bags, including May at 6.80c; July, 6.95@7.00c; September, 7.15c; and December, 7.40@7.45c. Spot steady. Mild steady.

Sugar—Raw firm; fair refining, 3 1-16c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3 9-16c; molasses sugar, 3¼c. Refined firm; No. 6, 4.20c; No. 7, 4.15c; No. 8, 4.10c; No. 9, 4.05c; No. 10, 4.00c; No. 11, 3.95c; No. 12, 3.90c; No. 13, 3.85c; No. 14, 3.85c; confectioners' A, 4.55c; mold A, 5.05c; cut loaf, 5.40c; crushed, 5.40c; powdered, 4.80c; granulated, 4.70c; cubes, 4.95c.

The most remarkable feature of the New York curb market yesterday was the sensational rise of Four Aces Mining Company's stock from 23 cents at the opening to 35 cents bid at the close, with no offerings. The property is situated on Montgomery mountain, in the Bullfrog camp, and its advantageous position may well be judged when it is explained that it is bounded on three sides by Charles M. Schwab's Montgomery-Shoshone Consolidated Mines Company. On its fourth side lies the Montgomery Mountain Mining Company, recently acquired by Sam Newhouse, which would seem to lend color to the report that both of these interests are desiring to obtain control.

HIGH PRICES REIGN IN THE LOCAL MARKET

All Fruits Show Material Advance—Eggs Are Quoted at One-Half Cent Higher.

As a whole the market showed an upward tendency yesterday. Especially was this the case in fruits and vegetables. Apples, oranges and lemons showed a tendency to go up as much as 10 per cent, and the high water mark not yet reached. Apples in all varieties were especially stiff. California seed cabbage took a flight of $2 50 a ton, and Florida celery also went up from 25 cents to 50 cents on the crate. The yard prices on fancy apples showed an advance. California cauliflower took a turn upward and crates were quoted at 50 cents higher than during the past week. Horseradish was not so stiff as in the past and showed a decline of about the same percentage as other vegetables showed an increase. Head lettuce fell off $2 on the barrels, and Boston cucumbers were cheaper. Kale and spinach were both stiffer in price and will continue so until the southern market starts to contribute.

Eggs were stiffer and went up ½ cent. This is caused by the inclement weather which has prevailed for the past few days all over the country. Cold storage eggs are practically out of the market and some dealers do not quote them at all. Butter and cheese remain firm, but no advance is noted in them. Groceries and canned goods of all kinds show no change. The wheat market has been a little weaker in the past few days, and this has tended for the present to stall off any advance contemplated on flours of all descriptions.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts bulletined yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 4 cars oats, 4 cars bran, 3 cars hay, 1 car straw; Baltimore & Ohio, 6 cars hay, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars hay.

Receipts continue light and demand is heavier than arrivals. This is especially true of corn, which is extremely scarce, and much higher in price. New yellow shelled showed an advance yesterday, as did mixed hay.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A dispatch from Red Cliff, Col., says: The work of the Pittsburgh Gold Zinc Mining and Milling Company goes steadily along under Superintendent W. N. Buell. Shipments at present aggregate 150 tons daily of the black iron product, the zinc sulphide shipments having been for the present suspended, until such time as the company can build a mill, which it has been finally decided will be erected at Pueblo. The iron product which carries a percentage of manganese is shipped to the steel works at Pueblo. In the immense ferruginous stopes of the mine occur at intervals bodies of lead carbonate which are left undisturbed, and the showing in this line promises heavy shipments of that character during the summer months.

A dispatch from Idaho Springs, Col., says: H. Karpeles of Pittsburgh, the moving spirit in the Baby Eddie tunnel and group of claims, arrived from the east yesterday and is now making arrangements for the installation of an electric power plant at the portal of the Baby Eddie tunnel. He has not decided yet whether he will try electric drills or use a belt-driven air compressor.

The Bonanza group of claims on Pennsylvania mountain, Park county, Colorado, will be incorporated this spring as the Bonanza Gold Mining company on a capitalization of $1,000,000. The entire group contains 105 acres of ground, but it is probable that this incorporation will be based upon six claims containing about 60 acres. The group is owned by Drs. Jeannotte, McLean and Ballin and Mr. W. E. Newton of Alma, and arrangements for the future development of the property, it is believed, will be completed at an early date with Michigan capitalists.

The production of the Butte mines in February dropped to 26,129,600 pounds of copper, a decrease of 4,938,000 pounds as compared with January, and 2,349,655 pounds below the monthly average for 1905. Outside of the fact that February is a short month the causes for the smaller output were the entire suspension of the Trenton mines which are undergoing repairs and the curtailment of production at Clark mines a part of the time.

The Mexican Mining Company, composed principally of Pittsburghers, has made a strike in the La Luz district, State of Guanajuato, Mexico. I. L. Currier, president of the company, yesterday received a telegram from C. L. Penney, superintendent of the mines, announcing the strike. The company has 200 stockholders, nearly all of whom live in Pittsburgh and vicinity. F. J. King, mayor of Lorain, O., and ex-Postmaster A. Vignos of Canton, O., are among those interested.

W. J. Black & Co. yesterday received word of a new ore discovery on Gold Bar, and also of a good strike on Florence. The Commonwealth is ready to ship its first 50 tons of $100 ore. It is expected the timbering of the Tiger shaft will be completed this week.

BOSTON, March 20.—The copper market under the lead of A. C. P. was slightly stronger today. Good buying was evident in North Butte and Mohawk, the latter stock showing more activity than for some time. Franklin which sold early in the session at 18¾ closed 19½ bid, with no stock offered under 20. We hear very encouraging reports of the metal market and understand that a large amount of copper has recently been sold at current prices for export. We do not find any change in the money situation, however, and still advise selling stocks on all bulges like the one today.

Getting Only Small Producers in the Lower Southwest Field

Nothing better than light wells were reported from the lower southwest districts. There are very few localities that show a little new work starting. Only a small portion is important as to location. In a few localities operators are hopeful of finding an extension to some of the old fields. On Rocky run, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the Andrew & Patrick Clark farm through the Gordon and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper. On Sugar run, Center district, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the Catherine Hudson farm into the Gordon, and the hole has filled up 600 feet with fluid. On Fish creek, Clay district, the Carnegie Natural Gas Company has made the location for a test on the Leonard Garrison farm. In the Fink creek district, Lewis county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the J. Lovett farm into the Gantz sand, and the hole has filled up 600 feet with fluid. It will make a producer.

In the Wallace district, Harrison county, the South Penn's No. 6 on the M. P. Dye farm has been drilled 10 feet into the Gordon and has a very light show of oil. In the Folsom district, Wetzel county, the same company has drilled its No. 58 on the Genine Robinson tract 38 feet into the stray, and the hole has filled up 1,000 feet with fluid. On Point Pleasant creek, Tyler county, the Melrose Oil and Gas Company's test on the Clark Lazear farm is holding up at 50 barrels a day from the Keener sand, and will, no doubt, do better when given a shot. On Silver run, Grant district, Ritchie county, the South Penn has given its second test on the P. M. McGinnis farm a shot in the salt sand, and has increased its production to 50 barrels a day. In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, Patterson & Co. have completed their test on the C. E. Clelland farm, and have a duster in the Big Injun at a depth of 1,150 feet.

In the Berea grit development, near Woodsfield, on the Ohio side in Monroe county, the Pure Oil Producing Company has drilled in its No. 7 on the Henry Schumaker farm, and has a show for a 25-barrel producer. In the Rays run district, Washington county, P. H. Gaffney & Co. have drilled their test on the Cady heirs' farm through the Big Injun and have a duster in all sands.

At New Galilee, Beaver county, Pa., the Lighner Oil Company has drilled in its No. 6 on the Purdy farm and has a very light pumper in the Berea grit. Near Karns City, Butler county, McElroy, Mays & Co. have drilled in their test on the James McElroy farm, and have a show for a light pumper.

Near Butler, in Richland county, O., the two white oil producers on the Mengert and Henry farms show very little change in production. The Mengert farm well is holding up at 35 barrels and the Remey farm well at 25 barrels a day. A number of wells are drilling in the vicinity of the two producers, and one or more will be due to get the sand in a few days. While the drilling wells are important as to location, they are in proximity to the producers, so that when completed they will not show much of an extension should all come in producers.

BEARISH SENTIMENT IS NOTED IN WHEAT PIT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, March 20.—Increasing receipts in the northwest and the prospect of a record-breaking crop in the southwest had a weakening effect today on the local wheat market. The tone at the close was easy, and the May option was down ½. Corn was off ¼. Oats showed a gain of ⅛. Provisions were a shade lower to 7½ higher.

Sentiment in the wheat pit throughout the day was bearish, and although prices at times were slightly above the closing quotations of last night, there was a tendency toward lower values. There was no influential buying in evidence and the market received its principal support from shorts. Pit traders and commission houses were the chief sellers. The main encouragement of the bears was found in reports from Kansas City that the prospects for a large crop of winter wheat are daily growing brighter.

Heavy receipts in the northwest, despite the poor condition of country roads, also tended to reduce prices. Factors that strengthened the market were firm cables and a decreased estimate of the Argentine surplus available for export. The market closed easy, with prices at the lowest point of the day. The May option opened unchanged to ⅛@¼c lower at 78⅝@78¾c to 78⅞c, sold between 78⅝c and 79¼c, and closed 78⅝c. July ranged between 77⅝c and 78¼c, and closed with a net loss of ⅛@⅜c at 77⅝@77¾c.

Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 18,900 bushels. The world's visible supply, as shown by Bradstreets, increased 38,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 442,000 bushels, compared with 308,000 bushels one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 382 cars, against 265 cars last week, and 216 cars one year ago.

Small local receipts and firm cables caused a steady corn market and prices throughout the day held within a narrow range. Early in the day there was a fair demand by commission houses, and offerings were readily taken. Later, however, the market weakened somewhat because of reports indicating an increase in the movement of the crop in the near future. The close was steady. May opened a shade lower to ⅛c higher, at 44@44⅛c to 44⅜c, sold off to 44c, and closed at the low point. Local receipts were 279 cars, with six of contract grade.

Oats were firm all day. There was good buying for investment account, and a feature of the trading was liberal purchases of the May option by a prominent commission house. May opened unchanged to 30⅛c, sold up to 30⅜@30½c and closed at 30⅜c. Local receipts were 229 cars.

Provisions sold at prices which marked a new high level for the season. Lard in particular was strong and had a bullish effect on the entire list. Shorts and local packers were active buyers. Later, however, the greater part of the gain was lost on liberal profit taking. A 5c to 10c advance in the price of live hogs, and an excellent demand for cash lard were the main bullish influences. At the close May pork was up 7½c at $16.27½. Lard was up 5c at $8.22½. Ribs were a shade lower at $8.62½@8.65. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 4 cars; corn, 139 cars; oats, 62 cars; hogs, 36,000 head.

FREIGHT HOUSE SITE FOR TRACKS

Shippers Want Liberty Avenue Line to Remain Until New Warehouses Are Ready.

CAMPBELL QUITS RAILROAD

A team track for delivering and receiving carload freight will be constructed by the Pennsylvania railroad on property now occupied by its Duquesne freight station in Liberty avenue from Third street to Water street. This property is about 650 feet long and 110 feet wide. Room will be given on the team tracks for about 45 cars. A connection with this yard will be secured by building an elevated line from the Duquesne way elevated road across Penn avenue, above Third street, and across Third street at Liberty avenue. A branch from this elevated branch, it is understood, will cross Liberty avenue to Short street, to give service to the Union Storage Company.

An incline track will place the cars on the street level at the lower end of Liberty avenue, running along what is now the delivery side of the Duquesne freight station, abutting in Liberty avenue. There will be paved driveways between the tracks. This yard will be designed particularly to care for shippers and consignees having carload shipments from or to the business heart of Pittsburgh. It is probable that the service for T. C. Jenkins' big warehouse will be cared for in this way, as the Ewart, Arbuthnot-Stephenson and other firms are cared for.

In the matter of removing the Pennsylvania tracks from Liberty avenue, several shippers have made inquiry as to what conditions would ensue with the removal of the tracks before the company is in shape to handle freight at its new warehouses. They have been told that their freight would have to be shipped from and received at the other freight houses and yards of the Pennsylvania. This has made the shippers anxious to have the tracks remain until freight can be handled at the new Point warehouses. Should a test be made of this case on or before April 15, it is quite probable that many of the biggest shippers of downtown Pittsburgh will make an appeal to have the Liberty avenue tracks remain until the Pennsylvania can handle their freight at the new freight station.

By April 30 the new outbound freight house will be ready for full service, while the large inbound house will not likely be completed before late in September, although freight can be handled there before that date. By that time the Pennsylvania will have spent about $6,000,000 and appropriated $1,000,000 worth of its own property for these new freight terminals in Pittsburgh. This, together with about $4,000,000 spent by the Wabash, brings the amount spent by railroads in the Point district, in four years, to $11,000,000.

G. M. Campbell Leaves P. & L. E.

G. M. Campbell has resigned as electrical engineer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad to become assistant superintendent of the Western Electical Company at Chicago. Mr. Campbell is well known among railroad and industrial men. He was formerly identified with the Westinghouse interests, leaving the electric company four years ago to become electrical engineer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie. Vast developments in electric lines in the past four years have brought the office to great importance, and Mr. Campbell's successor, who will be appointed by Chief Engineer Atwood, will be a man of mechanical as well as electrical ability. Mr. Campbell leaves Pittsburgh on April 1. With the Western Electric Company he will be assistant superintendent in charge of the big plant at Hawthorne, a suburb of Chicago. This plant employs about 5,000 men.

Passenger Changes on Lines West.

Announcement has been made of several important changes in the passenger department of the Pennsylvania lines west, which serve to strengthen the company's business from that portion of the country. The changes are as follows: A. B. Ritchie, from traveling passenger agent in the Kansas City district, to city passenger agent in Kansas City; D. H. Rubaum to be assistant passenger agent at Kansas City; D. B. Stoeg, from traveling passenger agent at Terre Haute, to traveling passenger agent at Kansas City; Charles C. Trueb, from traveling passenger agent in territory covered by the Michigan & Peoria division of the Vandalia, to traveling passenger agent at Terre Haute, succeeding Mr. Stoeg; William Penn, from assistant ticket agent at Terre Haute, to traveling passenger agent there, covering Mr. Trueb's former district; T. J. Wall, from station passenger agent at St. Louis, to city ticket and passenger agent at Terre Haute; J. N. Foster, from chief operator in the Vandalia telegraph office at St. Louis, to station passenger agent, succeeding Mr. Wall.

P. & L. E. Track Work for 1906.

Chief Engineer Atwood said yesterday that no track work, excepting that now under way, is contemplated in extensions of any consequence for this year on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie. The company now has four tracks from McKees Rocks to Kendall. A third track is being laid from Kendall to Aliquippa, from which place to Monaca there are now three tracks. In the rebuilding of bridges or culverts, and grading, provision is being made for a fourth track, which will be added later. There is no intention, so far as is known now, to build a new bridge across the Ohio river at Beaver. This proposition has been under consideration for the past five years.

Will Soon Have Inter-line Rates.

People traveling on Ohio railroads will in a few days not need to re-purchase tickets at all junction points, as has been the case since the 2-cent rate became a law. General passenger officers of all Ohio roads will meet in Chicago today to approve inter-line rates that have been worked out by their rate men. The rate clerks met yesterday. So far as is known, there is to be no action taken on inter-state business, but this will be considered later. Passenger Traffic Manager Ford and General Passenger Agent Moody, of the Pennsylvania lines west, and General Passenger Agent Robison of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, will attend from Pittsburgh.

Among the Visitors.

W. F. Herman, general passenger agent of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Company, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh conferring with traffic men and bringing a good word for lake traffic. "Billy" Herman's line is well patronized by Pittsburghers throughout the season, and he expects a big lot of business this year.

James C. Pond, general passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central, paid Pittsburgh a visit yesterday, spending the day with District Passenger Agent Allen calling on traffic men and travelers.

Col. W. W. Dunnavant, traveling passenger agent of the Queen & Crescent, was here yesterday looking up business for the great Kentucky "homecoming."

W. H. Scriven, superintendent and general agent of the Pennsylvania lines at Chicago, conferred with local officers yesterday.

J. F. Deems, general superintendent of motive power, rolling stock and machinery of the New York Central lines, spent the day with Superintendent of Motive Power Turner and other Pittsburgh & Lake Erie officers.

Railway Club Meeting.

Secretary Conway of the Railway club of Pittsburgh has issued notices regarding the March meeting of the club, which will be held at the Monongahela house next Friday evening. Thomas Lace, foreman blacksmith of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, will present a paper entitled "Uses of Steel versus Wrought Iron." Several names will be proposed for membership.

Railroad Notes.

Custodian Hayes of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie terminal building, was about yesterday after a month's illness.

Directors of the Louisville & Nashville who live in the east passed through Pittsburgh in a special car last night from the annual meeting.

The new interlocking plant at West Penn junction, near Anderson street, Allegheny, where the West Penn and Eastern divisions of the Pennsylvania system join, will be placed into service at noon tomorrow.

Three new passenger engines will be received in a couple of days for use on heavy Baltimore & Ohio trains. The engines weigh 229,000 pounds, have 78-inch drivers and are 70 feet long. It is thought one of these engines will pull a 10-car train up Sand Patch hill.

Finding it impossible to secure an audience with Superintendent Long to lay their case before him yesterday, the 58 women car cleaners who are on a strike at the Union station yards, held the subject over. Meanwhile their work is being done by cheap foreign labor. The women will endeavor to see Mr. Long today.

Permit for University Club.

A permit for the University club house to be erected on the Beechwood boulevard near Fifth avenue was granted yesterday. It is to be a three-stroy brick structure 71 feet front by 111 deep, containing 23 rooms, and to cost $85,000. Other permits were issued to Hall & Wolfe for five two-story brick veneered dwellings on Hamilton avenue, Thirty-seventh ward, to cost $6,000; G. Elsholtz, two-story frame dwelling on Morningside avenue, Eighteenth ward to cost $2,800, and Harry Davis to alter 630 Smithfield street and add a story in the rear to cost $3,500.

RAILROAD DEAL COMES TO $120,000

Pittsburgh Junction Buys All Schenley Holdings in Junction Hollow.

MORE ALLEGHENY DEALS

The Pittsburgh Junction Railroad Company has bought through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company the Schenley holdings in Junction hollow for $120,000. The property includes about 27 acres of ground, taking in all the Schenley property in the hollow between Second avenue and the bridge in Schenley park. It is made up of various parcels of land, the largest being near the lower end of Junction hollow in the Greenfield district, where the railroad company gets a plot two squares wide and having frontages of several hundred feet in Sylvan, Greenfield and Forward avenues. This plot is improved with 30 or more frame houses and a number of brick stores and saloons which have a good renting value. Part of the property is in the rear of the Sylvan public school house. From this width of about 300 feet the property narrows down to less than 100 feet in width about half way up the hollow. Most of it lies along the railroad tracks and is level. The purchase was made to afford the railroad more room for track extensions and other improvements, one of which may be the building of a station at the mouth of the Junction tunnel. The facilities of the Pittsburgh Junction railroad through this district are greatly overtaxed and improvements of importance to the surrounding neighborhoods are contemplated, although it is not likely that they will be undertaken this summer. The property purchased lies in the Twenty-third, Twenty-second and Fourteenth wards, and with the recent smaller purchases by the same company, gives the Pittsburgh Junction about all the property in the hollow that it needs for its improvements.

$805 a Foot in Anderson Street.

Charles W. Simon has sold to John H., William and Harry E. Simon a five-fourteenths interest in 80x90 feet at the southwest corner of Anderson and Robinson streets, Fourth ward, Allegheny, for $23,000. This is the site of the old Simon planing mill which was burned last summer. The deal is interesting just now as affording some idea of the value of Anderson street frontage, this price making the vacant lot worth $805 a foot, which compares with $1,000 a front foot asked for the former church property at Anderson and Isabella streets.

The Mercantile Trust Company, assignee of the Prudential Trust Company of the East End, has sold to P. H. Boynton a modern 12-room, center-hall brick house on 25x93 feet on the east side of Elmhurst avenue near Termon avenue, Eleventh ward, Allegheny, for $23,000.

Through the office of J. H. Fester, the Stimple-Ward Electric Company has bought from the Mary Boyd heirs 30x110 feet on the east side of Sandusky street, near South Diamond street, Allegheny, for $12,000. The two old frame houses on the lot will be replaced with a $10,000 steel and cement plant for the use of the purchasing company, which is now in West Diamond street.

John J. Kuhl has bought from Frank Anschutz 80x604 feet in Perryville avenue, extending through to Meyran avenue, Fifteenth ward, Allegheny, for $11,100.

J. C. Dick has purchased from Milton S. Barnes a residence property 22x124 feet, on the south side of Sheffield street near Fulton street, Fifth ward, Allegheny, for $11,400.

W. W. Elderkin has sold to Charles A. Eakin an improved lot, 70x95 feet, on the south side of Chester avenue, Tenth ward, Allegheny, for $10,000.

Big Allegheny Option Lapses.

Another of the big options secured on North Side business property lately has been allowed to lapse. The property involved is the W. C. Burry buildings, running through from West Ohio street to North Diamond street, and having the Ben Franklin building in front. It was optioned for $150,000. The property is in three parcels, one 30x240 feet, having erected on it a five-story office and flat building in Ohio street and a bakery in the rear; another, 35x65 feet, adjoining in North Diamond street, and a third, 30x60 feet, in the same street adjoining. The buildings on these are old dwellings. The Ben Franklin Insurance Company has a 10 years' lease at $2,100 a year on the first floor of the Ohio street building, and the upper floors bring in a rental of $3,000 a year. The total income from the property, exclusive of the rent paid by the W. C. Burry Company, bakers, is over $5,800 a year.

Pittsburgh real estate men are dealing for the property of the First German Methodist Episcopal church, 40.6x68.3 feet, at the southwest corner of East Ohio street and Union avenue, Allegheny. The old brick church has occupied this corner for more than 40 years. It is said that the property is now valued at about $45,000, an offer of $35,000 having been received some time ago.

A real estate broker in the Farmers' Bank building is taking title to the Simons property 30x96 feet at 106-108 East Ohio street, which was sold two weeks ago for $65,000. Whether he is the real buyer or is taking title for some other investor could not be learned.

The deal for the Metheny property, 38x100 feet, at the southwest corner of Federal and Lacock streets, First ward, Allegheny, which was published in The Gazette last week, has been closed, the buyer of the property being Samuel McKnight, the hardware man, who has occupied the four-story brick and stone building there for some years. The price is reported at $160,000 and the deal was handled by Howard Brown & Brother.

Good Buy in Forbes Street.

Through the Freehold Real Estate Company Thomas McLaughlin has sold to John Goettman, George Martin and J. A. Aull 60x120 feet of Forbes street frontage at Nos. 1844-1848, between Miltenberger and Gist streets, for $25,000. The property runs back to Tustin street and is improved with two brick houses in Forbes street, four in Tustin street and six facing on a court. The income from the property is more than 6 per cent net.

S. A. Dickie & Co. have sold for H. H. Negley to D. C. Martin a modern center hall brick residence of 12 rooms on 40x114 feet at the northwest corner of Friendship and Euclid avenues, Twentieth ward, for $15,000. Mr. Negley bought the house a short time ago for $14,000.

It develops that Robert C. Hall tendered $35,000 worth of Forbes street frontage near Morewood avenue, Twenty-second ward, in part payment for the old Union National bank property at Fourth avenue and Market street, which he bought lately through Paul & Kingsley. The Forbes street frontage is 9?x145 and is between the properties of M. A. Pitcairn and Isaac Kaufmann.

The report that H. C. Frick has purchased the Carnegie building still lacks confirmation and Mr. Frick's agents in this city say they take no stock in the rumor. Recently W. W. Blackburn, secretary of the Carnegie Steel Company, which has a long lease on the Carnegie building, and guarantees Mrs. Lucy Carnegie a certain bonus of income every year, and Frederick G. Perkins, son-in-law of Mrs. Carnegie, have been consulting with Mr. Frick in New York, which may have given rise to the fresh rumor.

The Philadelphia Company is going to erect an eight-story addition to its Sixth avenue structure on 61x80 feet, which it bought last week through the Freehold Real Estate Company for about $62,000. The building will be a steel frame, fireproof structure and will adjoin the rear of the present building at the corner of Strawberry and Garland alleys. Work will be started soon after April 1, and the addition, which is now badly needed for office rooms, will be done next fall.

Henry Elberze has secured a permit for building a three-story brick apartment house at 706 First street, Allegheny, to cost $8,500.

Secure Experienced Rent Man.

Avey & Irish have secured Charles C. Wager as manager of their rent department for the ensuing year, Mr. Wager to take the position at the expiration of his contract with the Union Realty Company. For several years Mr. Wager was manager of the rent department of the old firm of Samuel W. Black & Co., when that firm was filling the Farmers Bank building with tenants. Later he held the same position with the Union Realty Company, of which he was also vice president. He is known as one of the most thorough downtown rent managers in the city. Avey & Irish confine their efforts to the handling of downtown properties and next year will have the task of filling the Union National bank skyscraper and the 15-story Berger building with tenants.

The tenants of the Frick building annex are rapidly getting settled and more than 75 per cent of the 450 offices have been rented already. The Republic Iron and Steel Company has three entire floors, the seventh, eighth and ninth. The Guffey Petroleum Company occupies all of the eighteenth floor. Other tenants who are now nicely settled in large suites of offices are: Willis McCook, Patterson, Sterrett & Acheson, William Watson Smith, Fagan & Magee, Goehring & Goehring, W. L. Sloan, George W. Eberhardt, A. M. Brown, the Keystone State Building and Loan Association, G. M. Koser & Co., Charles N. Clarke and Francis W. H. M. Clay.

L. A. Clark & Co. have secured the exclusive renting agency of the J. C. Dick estate, dating from March 20.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is more than a fat food. There is no animal fat that compares with it in nourishing and building up the wasted, emaciated body. A Boon to the Bilious

Are you compelled to deny yourself many wholesome foods because you think they make you bilious? Do you know that your condition is more to blame than the foods? Your liver and stomach need attention more than the diet. When you find yourself suffering with a bilious attack, take and all annoying symptoms will soon disappear. They settle the stomach, regulate the liver and exercise the bowels. Their good effects are felt immediately.

Beecham's Pills mingle with the contents of the stomach and make easy work of digestion. The nourishing properties of the food are then readily assimilated and the residue carried off without irritating the intestines or clogging the bowels.

Beecham's Pills should be taken whenever there is sick headache, furred tongue, constipation, sallow skin or any symptoms that indicate an inactive liver.
